Harrison W. Noel, sub-normal youth, aged 20, ran away from an insane asylum, killed a taxi-cab driver and a little girl. The young man's lawyer told the jury that he was insane, "afflicted by the hand of God?

The jury decides that he was sufficiently sane to be killed by the electric chair. That will happen unless some higher authority changes the arrangement.

Biologists will tell you that Providence does not deserve the horrible accusation, "afflicted by the hand of God," and common sense tells you that a just omnipotent, merciful being ruling the universe would not voluntarily "afflict' a boy of 20 with insanity, causing him to murder a man and little girl that had done no wrong.

Everything in the visible universe from the egg of an oyster to the big star Aldebran is made up of fewer than 100 different "elements' or substances.

A few are missing, and two scientists, Jaraslav Heyrovsky and Professor Dolejsek, announce the discovery of one more which they call "Dvimagan."

That new word, "Dvimagan," will live millions of years after every language now spoken shall have completely vanished from use and memory.

Knowledge and intellectual power are international, independent of race. It is well to remind the world, nursing its racial hatred, that the six greatest minds in mathematics and astronomy were born of six different races—Copernicus, a Pole; Tychobrahe, a Dane of Swedish ancestry; Keppler, German; Galileo, Italian; Descartes, French; Newton, greatest of them all in pure mathematics, British.

Hunters! Ask Yourselves These Questions

Do you know the dates of the open season for the game you are going after?

Can you name the animals and birds that you are not permitted to kill?

What is the cost of a hunting license and where can it be obtained?

What are the bag limits?

Are you allowed to ship your kill out of the state, or sell it locally?

All of the above questions are answered in a 46-page Game Law Booklet issued by the government.

Every sportsman needs a copy of this booklet so that he may keep within the law. Send in your name and address with two cents in stamps for return postage.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the GAME LAW BOOKLET.

ALL TOLEDO POLICE ON TRAIL AS ANOTHER WOMAN IS NEAR DEATH

Fourth Victim's Skull Fractured When She is Attacked by Maniacal Assassin as She Walks on Street.

TWO ARE DEAD, THIRD ESCAPES

Fiend, as on Previous Occasion, is Frightened by Approaching Automobile and Flees—Believed Demented.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 19—With every available officer assigned to the work, Toledo police were hopeful today to arrest the "club killer," who last night, for the second time this week, attacked a woman on the streets of the city, after having previously killed two with a club.

Search Hospital Records.

Miss Freda Draheim, 31, is lying near death at Mercy hospital. Her skull is believed fractured and there are also two deep scalp wounds. She was attacked by the club wielder as she was walking by him in Tecumseh street. As on a previous occasion, the killer was frightened by an approaching automobile, and fled.

Mrs. Emma Hatfield, died September 28, being clubbed May 24. Lydia Baumgardner, 24, was clubbed to death August 21. Miss Wilma Hoadley was clubbed November 17, but was saved by the approach of a motorist.

Announcement was made at police headquarters that every effort would be put forth to catch the killer by nightfall. However, they admitted they were hampered in the search by incomplete and conflicting descriptions of the club wielder. The records of the Toledo state hospital for the insane were being searched in an effort to learn if some maniac with homicidal tendencies has recently been released as cured.

32 Wellesley Girls Interned as They Defy Smoking Ban

WELLESLEY, Mass., Nov. 19.—Thirty-two demure girl students at Wellesley college, residents of exclusive Cazenove hall, were interned today because they violated the college anti-smoking edict.

Despite the fact that 80 percent of the 1,207 students had voted for Lady Nicotine and the faculty turned it down, the 32 girls were caught red-handed

They have been forbidden to leave the campus for the rest of the school year.

ROTARY CLUB TO ENTERTAIN LADY GUESTS

Dinner and Playle Tonight at Country Club.

125 WILL ATTEND

E. L. Carson Chairman of Committee in Charge.

One hundred and twenty-five reservations have been made for the ladies night meeting, to be given by the Rotary club at the Country club at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

A high class entertainment by four persons from the Department of Drama, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, will be presented after the dinner. The program will be in the form of a playlet.

E. L. Carson, chairman of the committee on arrangements, will be master of ceremonies. A dance will be the concluding feature.

M. E. BAXTER RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Morris E. Baxter, 59, Andrews place, chemist at the Wellsville plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, is in the City hospital today, suffering from an injured hip sustained late Tuesday night when struck by an automobile as he stepped from the street car at the mill stop on Wells avenue, Wellsville.

The automobile, said to have been driven by a Mr. Ward, stopped following the accident. The injured man was removed to his home here and then taken to the hospital, where Dr. R. J. Marshall attended him.

Priests Hurt In Auto Accident.

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 19.—Two Priests, Rev. John Carribine of Jefferson and Rev. P. J. Ferrow, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, Youngstown, were injured in an automobile accident today when a wheel came off their car, causing it to overturn.

COL. COOLIDGE FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE IN PLYMOUTH HOME

President's Father Passes Comfortable Night.

HEART WEAKENED

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 19.—Colonel John C. Coolidge, 80 year-old father of the president, appeared to be winning the battle for his life, according to a bulletin issued today by Dr. Albert L. Cram, attending physician.

Attacks of heart bloc are becoming less frequent—an encouraging symptom—and the colonel was permitted to leave his bed this afternoon and read the newspapers.

The colonel passed a comfortable night.

Dr. Albert M. Cram of Bridgewater, visited his patient this morning before communicating with the White House by long distance telephone.

Those who have seen the colonel say that he realizes that he is on the brink of life's great divide.

President Advised of Condition.

Colonel Coolidge's unspoken wish, it is said, is to see his son again before the last farewell.

President Coolidge is in constant telephonic communication with the little white homestead on the mountainside here. If there is a turn for the worse, it is understood the president will hurry here by special train. Should the colonel rally, arrangements will probably be made, it was stated here, for the father to carry out the original plan to spend the winter in Washington.

Colonel Coolidge finds peace and contentment in Plymouth notch, however, and it was this reason that prompted Dr. Cram to refrain from moving him to a hospital during his present sickness.

Deputy Sheriff Angus Macaulay has been installed as the colonel's body guard, keeping the patient in seclusion. Macaulay acted in this capacity

MRS. BRADFIELD DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Disease Claims Widow in Thompson Avenue Home.

Mrs. Catherine Bradfield, 75, widow of Seth Bradfield and mother of the late E. L. Bradfield, died suddenly of heart trouble at 6:30 o'clock last night in her home, 152 Thompson avenue.

Mrs. Bradfield, who was born near Columbiana, was a daughter of Elias and Elizabeth Lower. She united in marriage with Seth Bradfield of East Fairfield in 1870. She is survived by two sons and one daughter, Everett C., California; George G., East Liverpool, and Lillian, at home.

She was a lifelong member of the Christian church and a member of the Rebekahs, Women's Relief Corps and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Frank Church, Noted Humorist, to Speak In Eagles' Temple

Frank Church, noted lecturer, humorist and entertainer, will appear at the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway, Friday evening in the second number of the lyceum course which is being presented under the direction of the lodge degree team. The public is invited. No admission will be charged.

Church, who went overseas as an entertainer during the World war, plays a half dozen instruments and has often been called "the one-man band." He sings humorous songs to his own accompaniment and renders instrumental solos on the auto-harp. He also offers numerous monologues and side-splitting jokes.

In his work overseas, Church was a member of the Flying Squadron, a group of American speakers.

"WIN MY CHUM" MEETING TONIGHT

The "Win My Chum" campaign at the Anderson M. E. church is well under way.

The services tonight will be in charge of Rev. Lee Whiteman. His subject will be, "Jesus and My Life Plans." Selections by the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church and an instrumental duet by Floyd Durbin and Leo Capehart will be musical features.

Tomorrow evening, Rev. Joseph Kenney, of Steubenville, will speak on "Jesus' Call to Me." Harold Downard will be in charge of the young people's rally. Martha Coleman will speak Sunday on "Following Christ." Services are held each evening at 7:30. The public is invited.

POLICE RESCUE KIDNAPED GIRL

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 19.—A beautiful 16-year-old girl, said to have been kidnaped from Philadelphia, was rescued today from "the house of mystery,' an abandoned bungalow in the Orange mountains, by a squad of police, led by two other girls.

A woman was found unconscious from drugs on the floor, according to police, who arrested three men and said they seized twelve complete "dope" outfits, seven loaded revolvers and an arsenal of ammunition. The identity of the girl, alleged to have been kidnaped, was kept secret.

CARMI A. THOMPSON HITS DONAHEY EXTRAVAGANCE IN STATE GOVERNMENT

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 19.—Colonel Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland, projected himself into the state arena last night by charging Gov. A. V. Donahey, Democrat, with extravagance in running the state government, in an address before the Union League Republican club.

Though he did not flatly say he would be a candidate for governor in the Republican primary, Col. Thompson said he would at some future date say more on the subject. He was toastmaster of the state-wide gathering of Republicans, which, in effect, opened the campaign for the governorship.

Citing reports by the auditor and treasurer of state, Col. Thompson, who was the G. O. P. nominee in 1922 and beaten by Donahey, declared that disbursements for the last fiscal year were $4,500,000 more than the previous year, $3,000,000 of which he attributed to Gov. Donahey's policies.

Pointing to Gov. Donahey's stressing of economy in his campaigns, Thompson urged people to compare Donahey with President Coolidge in the matter of actual economy and tax reduction.

The Coolidge economy note was further emphasized by Senator William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee, the principal speaker, and by Senator Frank B. Willis.

Willis further placed himself behind Vice President Charles G. Dawes in his proposal to reform the senate rules which permit unlimited debate, saying "either the senate will reform its rules or the people will reform the senate."

Candidates on Ground.

The meeting attracted 500 Republican county leaders, office holders, aspirants, judges and camp followers.

Chapman's Aide Guilty of Murder; Gets Life Sentence

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 19. — Another sensational chapter in America's books of crime was closed today following the conviction of Charles (one-arm) Wolfe, aide to Gerald Chapman, by a jury in circuit court here last night for the murders of Ben and Mary Hance, near Muncie, last August.

In finding Wolfe guilty of murder in the first degree the jury tempered its verdict with a recommendation that his punishment be fixed at life imprisonment instead of death. Sentence was temporarily withheld by the court.

J. D. Bennett Undergoes Operation.

James D. Bennett, Sixth street grocer, was removed from his home in McKinnon avenue to the City hospital last evening where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. The operation was performed by Drs. W. N. and C. H. Bailey and W. A. Hobbs. His condition was reported favorable today.

Mrs. Coolidge Does Fall Shopping in New York Today

She is coming here by train with President Coolidge, who is to speak at a dinner given by the New York Chamber of Commerce. It is understood the president will discuss business matters and the international situation.

The president's train is due in New York around 2 o'clock. After the dinner, the president will rest at the Waldorf-Astoria, seeing a few visitors, while Mrs. Coolidge does her shopping.

The return trip to Washington will be made tonight.

THAD H. BROWN VISITOR HERE

Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Confers With Friends.

Thad H. Brown, of Columbus, secretary of state, who recently announced his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1926, will confer with Municipal Judge Jesse Hanley and other friends here this afternoon regarding campaign plans.

Mr. Brown was to have arrived in the city at 1:30 o'clock.

Last night he attended the Ohio G. O. P. leaders' harmony banquet at Youngstown at which United States Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, was the principal speaker.

SOLONS PASS BILL BY 4-3 VOTE; BROWN MAY VETO IT

SPECIAL MEETING

Chambers, Eardley and Rowe Cast Negative Ballots.

Salary of the mayor of East Liverpool will be $100 per month, or $1,200 per year, after January 1, 1926, unless legislation enacted by the city solons upon final reading last night is killed by the veto power of Mayor Charles Brown.

The city executive, who retires from office on December 31, is expected to reject the measure, although he announced today that no action would be taken on the ordinance until the tenth day after he receives it.

Mayor To Take Time Limit.

"I have practically made up my mind as to the action which I shall take upon the measure but am not ready to make my decision public," said the mayor. "I do not expect to act on the ordinance until the last day under the law."

The ordinance was enacted by a vote of 4 to 3 at a special meeting. Solons Kerr, Farrall, Larcombe and Hayes supported the legislation, while Councilman Chambers Rowe and Eardley voted against it.

Councilman Chambers asked Kerr for a report on his conference with J. S. Wilson, Republican mayoralty nominee, and Mayor-elect Ralph Benedum, which took place prior to election. Chambers said that Benedum had told him that he had been misquoted by the two councilmen in a report previously made to the municipal legislative body.

Quote Mayor-elect

Kerr said that he and Farrall had called upon Wilson and that the former mayor, while he opposed a drastic cut, admitted he would be satisfied if the salary were fixed at $1,200. He refused, however, to make a statement until "after election." The two councilmen, Kerr further stated, then called upon Benedum and the Democratic candidate asserted that he would make a duplicate statement of whatever was signed by Wilson. He was told that Wilson refused to make any statement but expressed his approval of a $1,200 salary.

"If Mr. Wilson is satisfied with that, I am too," the Democratic standard bearer was quoted as having said.

Roll call was then taken and the ordinance was passed.

The measure was to be placed on Mayor Brown's desk today. He has until midnight of Saturday, November 28, to sign or veto the measure.

COMMON DRUNKS WILL BE ARRAIGNED AT CITY HALL BY MUNICIPAL JUDGE

Only Major Cases Will be Tried in Proposed Library Courtroom, Says Hanley.

Common drunks and other prisoners charged with minor offenses will be arraigned at the city hall on and after January 1, Municipal Judge-elect J. C. Hanley declared today in answer to opposition which has been voiced against the establishment of the new courtroom in the Carnegie Library building.

Opponents of the proposed courtroom location assert that the dignity of the library would be lowered by the appearance in court of the ordinary type of prisoners picked up by the police.

One member of the library board claimed that such characters would serve as a bad example to children attending the high school and Central building.

Police court offenders will be given hearings at City hall between 8:30 and 9 a. m. daily, the judge-elect said. These offenders will include persons charged with intoxication, disorderly conduct, traffic violations and other minor counts on which trials are improbable.

"Of course, where a trial would be demanded by an offender charged with some major violation, it would be necessary to use the court room, but these cases would be far between," said the judge-elect. "It is planned to open court for civil and trial cases at 9 o'clock each morning upon conclusion of the work at the city hall."

TREASURY READY FOR COURT FIGHTS AIMED AT BAN ON BOOTLEG LIQUOR

Industrial Alcohol Magnates Urge Modification of New Regulations Abolishing Permits.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Caught between two fires—Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, on one side, and manufacturers and consumers of industrial alcohol on the other—the treasury prepared today for court fights against drastic regulations aimed at curbing diversion of liquor into bootleg channels.

Industrial alcohol magnates are planning to confer with General L. C. Andrews, prohibition czar, to demand modification of new regulations which abolish all manufacturing permits, effective Dec. 31, and provide for an annual licensing system.

Pinchot, who is backing stricter supervision of alcohol and cereal beverage plants, is expected here shortly for a conference with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, to urge that the treasury take stronger steps against diversions.

Industrial alcohol manufacturers contend that the bureau of internal revenue has exceeded its authority in the new regulations and, according to information obtained at the treasury, are ready to seek injunctions against enforcement of the new policies.

Treasury legal experts declared that the new policies will stand a court test, although it was admitted they

The Toughest Old Cough Can Now Be Stopped

Lingering coughs — the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

The quickest and surest way to get rid of a persistent cough is to take a teaspoonful of Bronchuline Emulsion four times a day.

It's made to stop the old timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time.

And remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It's a prescription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway and dealers everywhere can supply you.

Preacher, 93, Claims He's Oldest Telegrapher

Mr. Titus learned telegraphy when he was fourteen years old, three years after the first message was sent from Washington to Baltimore, May 24, 1844. He is now ninety-three years of age.

Mr. Titus was deeply interested in the story of how Dr. Samuel F. B. Morse built his first telegraph line from Washington to Baltimore as he worked on his father's farm in Perrysburg, N. Y.

He wrote to Doctor Morse to send him a copy of the Morse code and the boy learned the alphabet.

Then he desired to own an instrument.

He worked all summer, saved $28 and bought the instrument. For many months he practiced on his outfit.

A short time later the first telegraph line in New York state was erected across one corner of his father's farm.

A few years later the railroad followed the telegraph and he was given a chance to earn a living as a telegraph operator for the railroad company.

When the Civil war broke out Mr Titus enlisted in the federal army and was assigned to the telegraphic service, in which he served through the war.

Kills Catarrh Germ In Three Minutes

Chronic catarrh, no matter how bad, and cases of bronchial asthma now yield instantly to the amazing discovery of a French scientist. This drugless method called Lavex kills the germ in three minutes, yet is positively harmless to the most delicate tissues. Your head and lungs are cleared like magic. Sufferers are relieved in a single night.

To prove it and to introduce Lavex to a million sufferers in one month, I offer to send a treatment free and postpaid, to any one who will write for it. No obligation. No cost. If it cures you, you can repay the favor by telling your friends—if not, the loss is mine. No matter what you have tried, just send me your name and address for this generous free treatment and prove that you can be rid of catarrh.

War Experiences of General Hindenberg Surpass All Others

BERLIN — Hindenburg has the most extensive war experience of all living great soldiers. When a boy of 15, he talked to veterans of the Napoleonic wars, when a youth of 20 he was a lieutenant and fought in the Austro-German war.

As an aide-de-camp he participated in the Franco-German war of 1870 71, and from the second month after the World war on until long after the Armistice Hindenburg saw nothing but war.

BLAZER CASE IS DISMISSED

Upon motion of District Attorney Joel Stone, the murder charge against Dr. Harold E. Blazer, former Salineville physician, charged with the killing of his invalid daughter, Hazel Ingrit Blazier, 33 year old "child-woman," has been dismissed in the district courts at Littleton, Colo., by Judge Samuel W. Johnson.

The district attorney, in his petition, declared that the jury's disagreement over the guilt of the aged physician last week was satisfactory to the prosecution and no further attempt would be made to give Dr. Blazer a second trial.

The judge denied an application of Attorney Lewis D. Mowry, counsel for Dr. Blazer for a new jury to acquit him of the charge. Dr. Blazer has gone to Cumbres, Colo., where he is working as the foreman of a lumber camp in an effort to begin life anew.

Dog Guards Master's Body.

AKRON, O. — The age-old legend of a dog's faithfulness to his master has been proved again.

After E. R. J. Bignell, a truck driver, had been murdered here, his German police dog keept watch over the slain man's truck. The dog even kept police away and lights on the truck could not be turned off.

LOOK OUT FOR SELF POISONING

Neglect of the liver results in self-poisoning! Not so quickly, perhaps, but just as surely as if you drank poison out of a bottle. If your liver is not doing its work of helping digestion, eliminating waste from the bowels and purifying the blood, you will always be troubled with sick headaches, nausea, biliousness, bad breath, gas, sour stomach, or constipation.

Cleanse and tone your liver! Put your system in condition so you feel your very best again! Try just a spoonful of Dr. H. S. Thacher's excellent Liver and Blood Syrup after the next few meals and notice the quick improvement in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel — the return of strength, vigor and energy. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise there will be no cost.

Sciatic Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint, is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pain which shoots down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The disease is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual plain sedative even to alleviate the pain.

The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, all pain and soreness. Continue until the Neuritis has entirely disappeared and you are able to work and rest in comfort once again. Mathews Original Cut Rate Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

Council's Offer For Municipal Courtroom

A different complexion has been given the city council's request for the use of the second floor auditorium of the Carnegie public library as a courtroom for the municipal bench, to be established on January 1, as a result of a conference between the library trustees and a committee representing the legislators.

Solon N. P. Kerr, who, with Councilman James M. Larcombe, presented the proposal to the library board, pointing out that the city is without funds to make improvements necessary to provide quarters for the court in the almost-delapidated city hall, said the library offers the only solution of the problem pending the erection of a modern municipal building.

He promised that the city, which appropriates funds for the maintenance of the library, would furnish janitor service, light and heat for the entire building—proposed courtroom as well as reading rooms—without reducing the present library budget, and suggested that an outside stairway should be constructed from Broadway to the second floor of the structure, thus providing an entrance other than the main door of the libray.

And, too, he declared that possible confusion to readers due to arguments before the court would be overcome by closing the opening in the second floor corridor of the building.

If the outside stairway were erected and other alterations made to the end that the courtroom would be segregated from the library proper, there should be less objection to the councilmanic proposal.

Entering into the discussion at this juncture, however, is the likelihood that these alterations shall mar the beauty of the exterior of the library building. And to offset this, proponents of the plan say the stairway would fill the need of a fire escape.

And, again, library patrons fear the effects of police court environment that is inevitable if such hearings are not conducted at city hall.

Both sides have strong arguments, and the library trustees should take all facts into consideration before handing down a decision.

Beautiful Playgrounds

The Playground and Recreation Association of America is conducting a playground beautification contest in which any community may compete. The contest will close December 1, 1926, the awards going to the playgrounds making the greatest progress up to that date.

Cities from 25 states have already entered from one to four of their own playgrounds and the committee in charge expects every state in the union to be represented soon.

The idea may be new to some persons, but an understanding of its importance grows with consideration. One city, with a large number of playgrounds, discovered last summer that several of these were little more than barren vacant lots. There was some playground equipment, but little else. There was no grass, trees, flowers, pools of fountains. In fact, there were only the apparatus and dirt. On warm days the sun beat down scorchingly and all through dry weather clouds of dust accompanied every active game.

Beautification need not be costly. A little neighborly cooperation would help greatly to make playground funds go far in this work. A barren playground probably is better than none. Nevertheless one that boasts a little natural beauty is still better. A beautiful tree under which story hour may be held, some flower beds which some of the children might help to cultivate, a grass plot, a little wading pool, some shrubbery, and perhaps a rustic arbor or summer house, would add greatly to the looks of the place and also to the health of the little folks who play there.

Five Cent Cigars

Not the least benefit of the proposed federal tax reduction, the country is now informed, is the prospect of "a good five-cent cigar" which, according to the vice presidential philosopher Tom Marshall, was the great American need. Tobacco manufacturers say that the contemplated reduction of the internal revenue tax should make that possible.

It is an easy way to save the country—knocking a few paltry millions off the tobacco tax. Cigar smokers will welcome it selfishly. Non-smokers will take a chance on it, hoping it will reduce the grouch of a lot of their fellow-citizens.

There are smokers, however, so heterodox as to assert that there are good five-cent cigars obtainable now. And it need not be rashly assumed that such consumers lack taste and judgment. American smokers generally run to the two extremes of absurdly small and medium-sized cigarets and absurdly large cigars. There is an odd lack of small and medium sized cigars. Yet manufacturers are beginning to see the wisdom of taking tobacco ordinarily used for fat 10 and 15-cent cigars and wrapping it up in nickel sizes. It would be a simple thing to encourage this policy, tax or no tax. Big cigars are too much for the puny smokers of the present day, anyway.

Proof of civilization: Lines of motorists and pedestrians waiting in turn for each other to cross the street.

This, at least, must be said for Dictato Moussolini: He knows a foreign debt when he sees it.

Now we see why Col. Mitchell loves to be court-martialed. It gives him such a glorious chance to subpoena witnesses.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The most bizarre apartments in Gotham are occupied by film folk. No mid-Victorian simplicity for them. The story is told of an English playwright who sub-leased an apartment of a Hollywood star. He was asked the period of the furnishings. "Early Mero-Goldwyn," he replied.

When cinema players arrive at the prestige of a de luxe apartment they decide it must smack of the same splendor that actuates the homes seen on the screen. They even give their butlers the film flair of periwigs and silver buckled knee pants.

An interviewer arrived late one morning to the silk canopied bedside of a queen of shadowland. Suzette was pouring the morning chocolate from a silver urn. A visiting manicurist was applying a buffer. From the Roman bath came yips of Ching, protesting against the morning ablution.

The queen languidly motioned a Persian cat out of a brocaded chair and asked her guest to be seated. "Is your hour of awakening usually like this?" asked the visitor. "Not so harrassing," was the reply. "I am usually soothed by a strain from my pipe organ, but it is being repaired."

The imperious lady began her career dancing a break down. Yet on the other hand, the simplest of all country places is the Colonial domicile of Gilda Gray, the shimmy dancer. It might be transported to the Southland without causing neighbors to stare.

Most of the very rich movie stars in Gotham are cached in ponderous apartment houses on Park avenue known by numbers. They employ theatrical designers to decorate them and more than likely the effect is that of a stage setting in musical comedy.

New York will not tick to the Continental idea of going to the theater at 9 o'clock. Ziegfeld tried it in vain with a Nine O'Clock Frolic and the Century Roof with a Nine O'Clock Revue. John Murray Anderson is to breast traditional scorn with an intimate theater seating 299 on Park avenue. It will offer tabloid musical revues and the idea is to catch late diners. The midnight show is dead and the several efforts to revive it have been futile. The supper club offers more intimacy.

I watched a lonely fiacre drawn up among the limousines as crowds were leaving a supper club. The old Jehu hunched up on his seat was intoning without enthusiasm: "Kerridge, very exclusive!" He was soon all alone in a deserted street—still hunched up on his seat like a moulting sparrow in the rain.

The "butter and egg man" is becoming a fruity memory. He was a symbol for lavish expenditure in gilded places. Now the spender is known as "an Oklahoma boy." Oklahomans, it seems, are spenders. They give big tips and are good natured hosts, allowing cadgers to horn in without resentment.

In front of the Waldorf, by the way, one is always able to find a decollette back. The drivers are mostly white mustached and Irish. They are very much philosophers. Too old when the Gasolene Age came to turn to other pursuits, they carried on. They are devoted to their ancient nags and the time they are not soliciting fares they are stroking them. "Ol Morely" is a cabbie who decorates the front of the Exclusive Racquet club. He caters only to the membership, who now and then engage him for a little fresh air on the way home. He has no rates and consequently is overpaid. When he is ill he is taken care of. All his bills are paid from a mysterious source.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Colorado River Development—III.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Colorado river has been under observation, survey, and study since the close of the Civil war, more than a million dollars having been expended in this work by various departments of the United States government. Its bibliography consists of 1,000 books, articles, and maps, while no less than fifty-five measures have been introduced in congress providing for different phases of its development. It has been under consideration by every congress for the last six decades, and right now, as has been explained, it is a cause of perturbation to the officials of seven western states, to say nothing of the department of the Interior and the federal Pawer commission.

There are on file before the federal Power commission twenty three projects for the development of the Colorado. Of these, thirteen arrest attention as being the most practicable. These thirteen lie between the mouth of the Green river, and Parker, Arizona. This sector of the river's course is where its greatest fall is found and is, therefore, most propitious for the construction of dams and reservoirs for power and for the equalization of flow for flood protection in the lower basin. It is approximately 500 miles along the river from the mouth of Green river to Parker.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado lies within these limits. Through it and other gorges the river rushes with terrific force, swirling fiercely in foaming rapids, with an average fall exceeding seven and one-half feet per mile. The elevation at the mouth of the Little Colorado river, for instance, is 2715 feet, while at the mouth of the Virgin river the elevation is 740 feet. The fall between these rivers is 1975 feet, and the distance between them is 262 miles.

In flood time the volume of the Colorado is as great as that of the Ohio in flood, or as much as the full flow of Niagara Falls. It has a very steep profile and while most of the fall is concentrated at rapids, the stretches of smooth water have an average fall of three feet per mile. In the delta the fall is about one foot per mile.

When the snows melt in the mountains of the upper tributaries and pour their water toward the Colorado the rapids in the gorges become seething torrents which finally descend upon the lower basin with terrific force and endanger those who live within it.

A Very Muddy River.

Carried along in this rushing flood is an immense amount of sediment. The Colorado is one of the muddiest rivers in the world, and when it deposits this sediment it lays plans for a shift in its channel the next year. This erratic habit is another source of danger.

So within the Canyon section lies a golden opportunity. The great fall is propitious for power projects and at the same time the building of dams and reservoirs will equalize the flow so that the flood danger of the lower basin will be minimized.

There are three flood control dams suggested. Two of these—Boulder Canyon Dam and Lee's Ferry Dam—are combination projects. That at Topock is purely a flood protection.

Lee's Ferry, at the mouth of the Paria, is at the foot of Glen Canyon, the next depression of any extent avove Grand Canyon. This gorge extends up into Utah and a dam and reservoir situated at its foot would be an excellent power site. If sufficient storage were provided within it, 19,300 second-feet would be available continuously at Lee's Ferry.

Also this would make the river navigable to motor boats and permit of tourists making a trip much further north and through beautiful country that hitherto has been relatively inaccessible. With the building of highways north from the trunk lines that traverse Arizona this is a point that will be seriously considered. Lee's Ferry, Diamond creek, and Boulder Canyon perhaps are the most discussed of the sites now being considered.

Diamond creek is a little stream that flows into the Colorado near the lower end of Grand Canyon. This is the site in which James B. Girard is interested. Mining interests are believed to be supporting him. Likewise with the coming of electric railroads, the oil burning roads that now cross Arizona are urging that a plant be erected here. With storage in Glen Canyon and with other conditions favorable, a flow of 22,300 second-feet could be attained at the Diamond creek site. Under the same conditions, but without storage, the flow at Diamond creek would be about 10,900 second-feet half of the time and 7,180 second-feet ninety per cent of the time. For a dam of moderate height, the Diamond creek sites, as there are several possible ones, have many favorable features.

Imperial Valley Irrigation.

Linked with the Boulder Canyon dam project is the All-American Canal. This is for the irrigation of the Imperial Valley. At the present time water for this valley is secured from a canal running through Mexico. The people of Imperial Valley, however, are restive and nervous because of the excessive cost of repairs and the canal's being under foreign control. To correct this situation it is proposed to build a canal running from the Colorado river to the valley, entirely on the American side of the border.

By this plan 700,000 acres would be brought under irrigation in the valley, 300,000 more than are now being watered. This canal and the dam would make necessary an estimated expenditure of $200,000,000 while the actual expenditures required to complete the work might run half as high as the cost of the Panama Canl.

The thirteen dam sites are Dark Canyon, Glen Canyon, (Lee's Ferry), Mineral Canyon, Ruby Canyon, Specter Chasm, Bridge Canyon (Diamond Creek), Devil's Slide, Hualpai Rapids, Lower Black Canyon (where the Boulder Canyon project will be situated), Mohave Canyon and Parker.

A problem that is creating much discussion with respect to the development of the river is the Grand Canyon. Whether to build within the limits of its National park is the sore spot. Engineers see tremendous possibilities of power in the rapids that surge through the magnificent gorge and urge that they be harnessed.

The National park people declare for the inviolability of nature saying dams and other structures would ruin the beauty of the canyon. To this the engineers answer that any dam would not reuin the beauty of the canyon when viewed from the rim or from the rivers bed as its height would make no ppreciable difference to the massive ramparts that would tower above it. Moreover they declare that it would make possible the navigation of the canyon by motor boat and open up something new for the tourists. They point out that only a score of people now living have made the trip down the river through the canyon. To date, however, no one has considered seriously the construction of a dam in the park.

The thirteen projects are not necessary at the present time. One, or at most two would suffice, but ultimately all will be essential. When they are all built the Colorado river basin will have come into its own.

METHUSELAH'S WIFE

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY

By EDGAR POE NORRIS

THREE.

The character of Noble Harwood's house, which every Central Citian pointed to with pride as "the finest in the state," was one of those flowerings-out of a disposition which eventuate in the case of men quite as in that of plants It was a conventionalized Italian Renaissance villa in design; the work of an architect in the state capital who had been sent to Florence ten years before by Noble Harwood to copy a house he saw there that struck his fancy. About it was a perpetual atmosphere of sunrise, with the songs of birds attracted by the protective trees and frequent feedings, trellises of vines, stone benches, a central pool of glistening water surrounded by sentinel-like poplars. It was Central City's idea of kingly magnificence.

Inside, there was a conglomeration of rich woods, silks, tapestries, paintings, glass, marble, alabaster. Noble Harwood loved beautiful things, but had no taste, a fact that his house reflected. He bought things like those he saw in houses into which he was frequently invited in New York, without consideration of surroundings. He bought pictures on other person's recommendations, and half of the books in his library, rich in binding, had uncut pages.

It was in this library he stood now, with Laurel and her mother looking up to him.

"Something rather unfortunate has come up," he said, noting Mrs. Wellington Todd's anxious eyes.

Laurel was all confidence, hanging on his every word.

"Developments in the affairs of the company make it necessary for me to remain in Central City for at least a week," he went on. "I wouldn't think of postponing the wedding" — looked feeling at Laurel—"but we will have to suspend our honeymoon for a week."

"Oh!" Laurel's utterance was involuntary.

"I'm awfully sorry, dearest," he said, sitting down by her side and taking her hand. "I tried to avoid it."

She squeezed his hand. "If it can't be helped, there's nothing to be done about it. Only—."

"Yes, I know," he interrupted. "We'll just live here quietly, at home to no one, until we can go away." He looked toward Mrs. Todd expectantly.

"That is the wisest thing to do," she opined, breathing easier.

"Then, Mrs. Todd, will you see that the proper explanations are made? I hardly know how to go about it, myself."

"Yes, every one would be dying of curiosity." She arose. "Noble, I think it would be best if you would bring her home early this evening. She will need a good night's rest."

"Yes, I shall," he replied carelessly, smiling at Laurel. When the elder woman had gone he sat down again and took her hand. He was intoxicated by her flushed cheeks, sparkling eyes that were dark pools, red mouth, all framed in lustrous, rippling black hair. Tomorrow—this superb jewel would be his. He felt very young again.

He knew very well what people were saying about this second marriage of his. His own daughters had not spared him. His sister had raged. But Noble Harwood, chairman of the board of the National Axle and Bearing Co.; chairman of the board of the Central City National Bank; vice president of the state manufacturers' association; president of the Central City Country club; member of New York clubs; indifferent contributor to a score of funds, didn't care what they said. He was not the richest man in the state, as Central City fondly believed, and his possessions were less than half of the ten millions he was supposed to be worth; nevertheless, he was the wealthiest and most powerful man in Central City and its environs, and he was conscious of that power. Let Central City say what it liked; it would, nevertheless, continue to kow-tow and bend the knee to him, and hope to be invited into his home.

He had often speculated on whether Laurel Todd really loved him, without arriving at any definite conclusion, although he realized his wealth probably was the strongest attraction. Sometimes, however, as he regarded himself in the mirror, he decided that he could have won her if his wealth had been much less. He was 52, but well preserved, and his grayed temples enhanced, rather than detracted from, his strong handsomeness. He had so often had it clearly forced upon him that he was more than interesting to women.

Anyway, even if she didn't love him, he loved her. He had wooed and won her because she was, at the moment, the thing he wanted more than anything else in the world. A beautiful wife, young, vibrant, sensuous—what possession could compare with this. And Laurel had, besides these attributes, something supremely important to men, a curious air which aroused his sense of mastery, his desire to dominate.

His lips found hers and lingered; then, briskly, he arose. "I suppose they are waiting for us." She took his hand and stood up weakly, only to lean lightly on his arm. "Oh, Noble, I wish it were all over."

"You don't know how much you will enjoy it! A wedding is a woman's supreme moment. Every woman is an actress, and few of them ever star in anything but a wedding, so they all take full advantage of the opportunity."

"That's just it. I'm afraid I'll crumple up with all those staring eyes upon me."

"Yes," he said, grimly, "all the women will be out in full force to show you by their expressions what they think of you for marrying an old man like me."

"Noble! You know—." She raised herself on tip-toe to his lips. They reentered the hallway laughing, to find themselves awaited.

Ends Pile Misery and Torture Forever

Buffalo, N. Y.—A clever Buffalo chemist has at last discovered the right way to completely and painlessly banish piles forever.

This new treatment to which the name Hemadaia has been given attacks the cause and not the formation. Indeed it has proven so efficient that even the worst chronic cases have been completely cured. The price is only $1.00, and anyone who is disappointed with its use need only say so to C. G. Anderson, Carnahan Drug Stores, J. D. Holloway or any other good druggist and their money will be cheerfully refunded

Jews Sacrifice Career To Rebuild Palestine; Movement Explained

CLEVELAND—Jewish youth—Jewish intellectuals—Jewish artists—are sacrificing career, position and wealth in the struggle to effect the rebuilding of ancient Palestine and emigration of the Jewish nation to the Biblical home. Dr. Leon Reich, member of the Polish parliament, in an address here, explained the activities in the "back to Palestine" movement and received contributions to carry on the work.

This One-Profit · · Unit-Built Studebaker

offers you 3 major advantages in Quality, Price and Protected Investment

THE average man on the street today knows that through more efficient manufacture, standardization of parts, etc., all makers offer him more for his money than ever before.

All makers claim greater things for their product — and can prove them. All makers rest their case on more economical manufacturing due to quantity production under modern efficiency methods. All cars are fair value but there is a best value.

Few motor car "manufacturers" have foundries, forges, etc., to make their own engines—yet one-fourth of the cost of an automobile is in the engine. Even fewer build their own bodies—yet one-third of the cost of a car is in the body.

Only two makers have adequate facilities for making all bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings: Ford in the low-price field and Studebaker in the fine-car field.

One-Profit Value

Because of its unique manufacturing facilities, Studebaker eliminates profits which all other quality car manufacturers must pay to outside parts or body makers. Savings effected in this way run to hundreds of dollars on some models. Thus Studebaker is able to use finest steels, finest woods, finest engineering and superlative workmanship in its cars; then to add costly extras . . . and still charge no more than competing cars.

Unit-Built Construction

One-Profit facilities result, too, in Unit-Built construction. In cars designed and built as units. The hundreds of parts used in a Studebaker car are Studebaker. They function together as a unit, resulting in longer life, greater riding comfort and higher resale value for you. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation thus are built into Studebaker cars. Records of more than one hundred thousand miles are not uncommon.

And "No-Yearly-Models"

As a natural outgrowth of those two factors, a third great advantage to the buyer is attained . . . "No-Yearly-Models." Because all phases of manufacture are directly under Studebaker control, Studebaker cars are constantly kept up-to-date. Improvements are continually made — not saved up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete. Resale values are thus stabilized. As an example of the value One-Profit manufacture makes possible, see the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Studebaker's Lowest Priced Sedan—but all quality

THE fine Studebaker Standard Six Sedan illustrated below is a real four-door sedan. It is upholstered in genuine wool cloth. Carpets are wool. Windows are real plate glass.

The equipment includes an 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, ash receiver, rear-vision mirror, stop light, dome light, safety lighting control on steering wheel, automatic windshield cleaner, coincidental lock to steering gear and ignition controlled by same key operating door and spare-tire locks, and full-size balloon tires. All instruments are grouped under glass on a silver-faced dial set in a beautiful walnut finished panel.

But the most important superiorities of this Sedan are concealed within the framework of the body and in the chassis.

Body pillars, for instance, are of northern white ash, cross-members of hard maple. We pay a premium for steels of extra toughness.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of its size and weight, according to the rating of the N. A. C. C. and the Society of Automotive Engineers. The motor is not built for excessive speed, but rather for smooth, trouble-free service at 5 to 55 miles an hour. It is built for a long, quiet life—not for spectacular stunts.

We will gladly demonstrate this car and finance its purchase on Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To enlighten the public on Permanent Hair Waving, Prof. Francois Marcel, who has given preliminary announcement of so-called "Permanent Marcel Wave" is still in Paris, but announces demonstrations will be given in Brooklyn, N. Y., upon the return of Prof. and Mme. Marcel from Paris, France, last of November. As yet there is not any company advertising their machine will produce Permanent Marcel. The nearest approach to Marcel effect is the Nestle Method of Flat Winding as taught by Nestle ("and not amateurs idea of it") producing a flat wave.

The only new thing in permanent hair waving was when Nestle, the originator of permanent waving, introduced the Lanoil Method and doing away with dangerous steam, tubes and reducing heating period to 7 minutes.

Foot Comfort Demonstration Tomorrow

Foot troubles are universal. Government records show that 7 out of every 10 adult people have some form of foot trouble.

You are probably a victim of foot trouble yourself. It may be only a corn, a callous, a bunion or some more serious trouble such as weak and broken-down arches. You might not know the nature of your trouble but you do know that your feet ache, pain, and get all tired out on the slightest provocation.

FOOT COMFORT EXPERT HERE

Come to our Foot Comfort Department on the above date and get a Free Demonstration. There's no charge for this valuable service. This work is in charge of a Special Demonstrator from The Scholl Mfg. Co. This is an opportunity that every foot sufferer should grasp.

FREE PEDO-GRAPH PICTURE

In a few seconds' time, without removing the hose, he can make a photographic print of your foot that positively shows if you do have foot troubles and to what stage the trouble has progressed. This service is absolutely free and places you under no obligation whatever.

FREE SAMPLES

Do you want to know how to stop corns hurting instantly? Come in and get a sample of Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. They remove the cause of corns—friction and pressure. Thin, antiseptic, healing.

Children need more fat in the diet when snow flies and wintry winds blow

Build up resistance to cold weather with GOOD LUCK

Cold weather, with its icy winds, snappy temperatures and drifting snows, makes heavy drafts on vitality and energy. A richer menu then is needed.

Fat is the great energy restorer—the builder of resistance against exposure. Jane Eddington says, in the Chicago Tribune, that the mother who consciously sees that children get enough fat food in winter time is on the right track.

Send children out to brave winter elements sustained by sturdy menus in which GOOD LUCK is included. It is a fat food in purest form—an energy food for cold weather. The formula for GOOD LUCK is

Full Cream Milk—Wholesome
Beef Fat—Nourishing Pork Fat

These choice fats skillfully blended together produce a rich, wholesome food. GOOD LUCK has all the energy food values that center in these nourishing ingredients. Serve GOOD LUCK as a spread for bread to children to enrich their diet, restore energy, ward off winter's chill, and protect against the extra demands that cold makes upon the vitality. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What is the per capita consumption of apples in the United States? C. R. M.

A. The department of Agriculture says that it is about half an apple a day for every man, woman and child in the country.

Q. How much honey does a swarm of bees produce in a year? H. L. D.

Q. Can pock marks be removed? I. C. W.

A. Pock marks are sometimes removed with success by methods employed by plastic surgeons and dermatologists. There is, however, no simple way that this can be accomplished by the layman.

Q. Why is a French seam so-called? N. V.

A. No reason can be advanced for the name, since the seam is not typical of French sewing. In France, the same seam is known as an English seam.

Q. Are the Jews in a majority in Palestine? H. M. W.

A. The Jews are in a minority in Palestine. There are three times as many Arabs as Jews. Christians, however, are fewer in number than Jews.

Q. Are there any scholarships in music available for study abroad; or if not abroad, in this country? G. R. T

A. Outstanding scholarships in music not limited to study in any one school are the following: The Clarence Barker Musical Scholarship for at least two years of study, preferably abroad, under the direction of the department of Music of Columbia university; the Enid Williams Scholarship, for study at the University of California or elsewhere, open to undergraduates; the George Ladd Prix de Paris, for study in Paris open to students of music at the University of California, awarded for two years; Juilliard Musicl Scholarship, for students of American birth and citizenship, the Mosenthal Fellowship, for applicants with ability to compose full orchestra; Pulitzer Traveling Scholarship, awarded each year to that student from any part of the United States who shows the greatest promise in serious composition in the larger forms—orchestral, choral or chamber music.

Q. Did the Dutch people—the wealthy ones—wear wooden shoes in the year 1837? R. G. L.

A. The Royal Netherlands Legation says that the wealthy Dutch people of 1837 did not wear wooden shoes. In fact, wooden shoes have always been worn only by servants, farmers and peasants.

Q. Are patents for inventions granted by the Irish Free State? N. R.

A. Our latest information is that Patent, Design, and Trade Mark legislation is pending. Also that applications may be filed now and that priority dates will be granted for applications corresponding with British patent aplications dated after December 6, 1921. Any one who has already applied for a patent or design in Great Britain after December 6, 1921 may now claim the priority date of the British application in the Irish Free State. British registered trade marks may be re-registered. The requirements in connection with application forms and powers of attorney are the same as for Great Britain.

Q. Haw many hymns did Luther write? D. C.

A. Martin Luther is credited with 37 hymns. Of those, Ein Feste Burg is regarded as his masterpiece.

Hotel rates in interior Argentina are now $5 a day for room and meals, but the rooms are not heated in winter and private baths are scarce.

COL. MITCHELL TO TESTIFY AT COURT-MARTIAL

Will Defend Criticism of Administration of Aviation.

TRIAL NEAR END

Captain Foley Denies Charge Made by Mrs. Lansdowne.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Col. William Mitchell, storm center of America's aviation controversy, will take the witness stand in his own defense before his court-martial jury of generals, it was announced today.

Mitchell probably will take the stand tomorrow to defend his criticism of the administration of aviation, and to reply to the war department's charges of "conduct prejudicial to military discipline."

Mitchell will take the witness stand as the final act of his defense. Announcement to this effect was made at the opening of today's session of the military trial by Rep. Frank R. Reid, (R.) of Ills., chief of defense counsel.

Men who flew the nation's airplanes in the World war came to the support of Mitchell today.

A parade of American "aces," topped by Major Eddie Rickenbacker, the "aces of aces," passed through the witness stand. They joined in criticizing the administration of aviation by both the war and navy departments.

In the list were Reed G. Chambers of Detroit and Lieut. Leigh Wade, one of the army's around-the-world pilots.

Shenandoah Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Captain Paul Foley took the witness stand in his own defense before the Shenandoah court of inquiry today and denied emphatically that he attempted to "influence or sway" the testimony of Mrs. Margaret Ross Lansdowne, widow of the dirigible commander.

Mrs. Lansdowne only two days ago sat for four hours before the same circle of high ranking navy officers and accused Foley, former judge advocate of the court, with trying to induce her "to twist the facts" in testimony before the board.

A formal motion to relieve Foley of the "stigmy" of the widow's accusation was ofefered to the court by Col. James S. Easby-Smith, counsel for the naval officer.

A decision on the motion was promised tomorrow by Rear Armiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the court.

Major Henry Leonard, marine corps, new judge advocate, offered no objections, saying the issue was relatively unimportant.

MISSIONARIES PLAN PAGEANT

Thirteen Workers to Appear at First U. P. Church.

A missionary pageant, depicting the work of United Presbyterian church in Egypt, will be staged in the First United Presbyterian church at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening by a party of 13 missionaries who are spending a furlough in the United States.

The group is making a tour of the Ohio Synod, giving their pageant three evenings each week. This will be their final date in the Steubenville Presbytery.

The entertainment scheduled is entitled "The Kahn Cheub Pageant." The cast includes Dr. J. B. Buchanan, who is blind as a result of an eye infection, which he suffered in Egypt. Other missionaries who will take part are Rev. J. A. Heasty, of Sudan; Miss Ruth Beatty, of Abyssinia; Mrs. J. B. Buchanan, Rev. R. R. Scott, Rev. H. A. McGeogh, Rev. J. C. Lorimer, Miss Dora Mason, Miss Evelyn McFarland all of Egypt; Rev. J. H. Stewart, Rev. S. C. Picken, Rev. E. L. Porter and Miss Sallie Dickey, all of India.

The pageant is open to the public. A silver offering to assist in paying the traveling expenses of the missionaries will be taken.

E. P. Gebhardt, a missionary to Egypt, will show motion pictures of Egypt at the Second United Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock tonight. These pictures were taken by Dwight E. See, Washington newspaperman, whom the church sent to Africa several months ago for the purpose of gathering information to be used in a publicity campaign.

The law works in different ways, even when you try to make it work all one way. While a moron escaped from the lunatic asylum is sentenced to death, Platt May, a Ute Indian, is acquitted of murder.

The Indian's wife died when the baby was 17 days old, and the baby had pneumonia. The Indian tied the bodies of wife and baby together and buried them in the same grave, the baby alive.

Platt May was acquitted because a medicine man, "Mormon Joe," told him to do it, and they obeyed through fear. There was reason for fear. "Mormon Joe" while in jail, beat to death a fellow prisoner who spoke lightly of him.

Rev. H. R. A. Philip, 20 years a Presbyterian minister at Tumu Tumu, in East Africa, says, "in the jungle, human babies learn to swing from tree to tree almost before they can crawl. I have seen convincing proof of the evolution theory many times among the wild tribes in East Africa."

You need not go to East Africa to see babies able to cling to a tree. Every baby, for a considerable time after birth, will easily support its weight clinging to your finger or to a small piece of wood.

Every mother knows how a small baby grasps the mother's hair and holds on. Evolutionists tell you that goes back to a time when the little monkey clung to the fur of its mother's chest, while the mother hopped from tree to tree.

That's what evolutionists say. Let us, however, not presume to form opinions, but let missionaries and the scientists deal with it.

Ethel Bunnell, a young girl in the University of Illinois, beat 58 men in a cattle judging competition, and that isn't surprising.

Women had to be good judges of animals to exercise discretion in picking out their husbands. Nature has given them power to see clearly and form sound judgment at a glance.

Many a husband who thinks he did the picking was in reality the one picked by a natural born judge of livestock.

No new comet is discovered in the constellation of the hunting dog. It is a small comet. Fortunately, we have learned not to be afraid, even of big ones. We no longer ring church bells to frighten the comet away, as our ancestors did. We measure it and catalogue it.

We ought to get on our knees and thank heaven for that wonderful, greatest of all shock absorbers, our atmosphere. Scientists are surprised by a show of meteors, unusual at this time of year.

They are supposed to be connected with the "Leonide" showers that bombard the earth once in 3 years. If it were not for our atmosphere's friction, which melts the meteors, great blocks of stone would bombard our earth and soon nobody would be left alive to make observations or records.

Col. Coolidge Ill

President Goes to New York.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—President Coolidge's special train passed through here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. It was running on schedule.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Coolidge left the capital this morning on a trip that may be of uncertain duration.

In New York tonight he will deliver an important speech on the government's attitude toward business, the last address of major importance he will make before he sends to congress three weeks hence his annual report on the state of the nation. His audience tonight will be composed of several thousand business executives at the banquet of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

When the presidential special pulled out of Washington plans were for it to return here immediately after the speech tonight, but if the condition of the president's father, Col. John C. Coolidge, becomes alarming during the day it is probable these plans will be cancelled and the special diverted northward from New York for a hurried trip to Plymouth, Vt.

Concerned About Father.

The president is deeply concerned about his father. His present illness follows closely upon the near-fatal attack of last summer. The president has been endeavoring to persuade his father to leave the rigors of a Vermont winter and come to Washington, but without success thus far. The habits of 80 years are strong with Col. Coolidge.

Frequent reports on his father's condition are being relayed to the president, and he has several times consulted Major J. F. Coupal, the White House physician. Major Coupal probably will go to Plymouth from New York tonight, irrespective of whether president does or not.

The president left Washington soon after breakfast. He will arrive in New York early in the afternoon, and go to the Waldorf, where he probably will receive business and political friends during the afternoon. Mr. Coolidge, however, plans to keep entirely aloof from the internal squabbles that have affected the New York Republican ranks since the mayoralty election.

Aboard the train when it left Washington were the president and Mrs. Coolidge; Frank W. Stearns, of Boston; Dwight W. Morrow, of New York, a classmate and frequent adviser of the president's; Secretary Sanders, Major J. F. Coupal, Col. S. F. Cheney, military aide; Capt. Adolphus Andrews, naval aide, and the usual complement of newspaper correspondents and secret service guards.

Carmi Thompson

The lobby of the Hotel Ohio was crowded with cigar-smoking individuals, feeling each other out on candidates.

Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, already running for governor, was prominent in the lobby and at the speakers' table.

State Treasurer Harry S. Day, mentioned by some as a gubernatorial possibility, was also at the speakers' table.

Attorney General C. C. Crabbe and James A. White, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, who was defeated in the Republican primary of 1924, were here. Lieutenant Governor Charles H. Lewis and Auditor Joseph Tracy were the only state office holders who were missing.

The meeting was obviously designed as a love and harmony gathering. Col. Thompson used the term "harmony meeting" and said that any Republican can "beat our Democratic governor if he has a united party behind him."

Thompson compared the governor to the president in his planning of financial policies. He said that while the legislature appropriated money it was largely up to the governor to administer it. He cited Treasurer Day's report to show that in the last fiscal year, in addition to running $4,500,000 over in expenses the state ran $5,000,000 short in receipts and "went" back financially $9,500,000.

Butler Urges Victory.

Senator Butler declared the 1926 election year "of vital importance," and said on its outcome largely depended President Coolidge's ability to carry out his tax reduction aims.

Senator Butler's remarks were listened to with earnest attention for it was his first appearance on a public platform in Ohio since he took charge of the national committee. It was also interpreted as being somewhat of a slant of the White House on Ohio political affairs, since both Butler and Col. Thompson are close to the president.

Thompson was associated with Butler as national campaign manager last year, and has frequently been discussed for a cabinet vacancy.

EXECUTE TWO IN LOVE CRIME

Slayers of Wealthy Bombay Merchant Pay Penalty.

BOMBAY, Nov. 19. — Shafi Ahmed and Shem Rao Dughe were executed early today for the murder of Abdul Kadir Banla, wealthy Bombay merchant.

The execution marks the close of one of the most sensational love and crime episode in the history of India.

Baula was murdered on January 12, 1924, while riding in an automobile with Mumtaz Begum, the nautch girl who was one of the favorites of the Maharajah of India.

Nine men were arrested for the murder. At the trial it was disclosed that the slayers of Baula were in the employ of the maharajah who sought revenge for the nautch girl's desertion.

Five others involved in the killing are now serving life sentences.

WOMAN INJURED IN OHIO WRECK

Pennsy Train Runs Into Cut of Freight Cars.

TOLEDO, Nov. 19.—Mrs. G. E. May, of Carruthers, O., was injured and several other passengers badly shaken up when Pennsylvania train No. 444, bound from Detroit to Pittsburgh, ran into a cut of freight cars at Walbridge, near here, early today.

The passenger engine, an express car and a car loaded with horses were damaged.

Traffic was tied up for two hours. Mrs. May's injuries were treated on the train. All passengers were taken on to their destinations.

That no serious injuries were reported was due, Pennsylvania officials said, to the order that all trains slow down to 15 miles per hour at this point.

An investigation was launched today by officials to determine how the freight cars got on the main track.

Treasury Ready

might go to the supreme court for final decision.

"Dry" lawyers, who have a lucrative practice before the treasury, said that the reorganized permit system would boost their business 100 per cent throughout the United States. They pointed out that prohibition administrators will be charged with enforcing the regulations, and that in each district hundreds of individual actions against the treatury may be anticipated.

The treasury had reports today of tremendous diversons of non-beverage alcohol into bootleg channels. They insisted that a strict inspection is necessary to meet the situation. Non-beverage alcohol, which goes for the manufacture of flavoring extracts, toilet waters and other special purposes, is denatured under a special process and widely used for beverage.

Little trouble is experienced with industrial alcohol, according to officials, owing to the denaturing method which is said to convert it into a deadly poison.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—London cables advising that no change was made today in the Bank of England discount rate was good news for the bulls in Wall Street, and industrial stocks which had been under pressure at the close of Wednesday's session responded buoyantly at the opening, with first prices from 1 to 4 points higher. In some cases there was a disposition to follow up these advances, but the market lacked snap and decisiveness.

The bears appeared to be firmly entrenched in some parts of the list, and the market as a whole was decidedly irregular in the early trading.

The big problem in the financial district is the money question. Failure to announce an increase in the Bank of England's rate was taken to mean that no advance would be made in the New York rediscount rate today. But in most parts of the "street" it is believed that the effects of a higher bank rate have already been discounted, and, therefore, it would be well for all concerned if the increase were made at once and have the matter settled.

The market was active in the first hour, though the bulk of the trading was in 100-share lots, with scale buying and large lot trading unusually small in volume, which was taken to indicate outside selling by the public rather than bearish pressure on the market.

est on our every-day lives," said Mr. Pate. "We are tied up with utilities and could not properly carry on without them. America leads the world and without our utilities we would lose that place.

"We are partners with the utilities. The average viewpoint to the utilities is antagonistic, either passive or active. We are serving you as partners. If you and your partner are doing business you want to be prosperous.

"A utility does not expect, never did expect high profits, but just enough of a margin to pay their employes, pay a reasonable interest on the money invested and a little to lay away for future improvements, extensions and replacements. The money needed to carry on these utilities is astounding. Five years were required to build the cable from New York to Chicago at a cost of $35,000,000.

"Take care of your utilities and you will insure your service for the present and guarantee it for the future.

"Put the burden on your utility officials and let them take care of it. Get acquainted with the men, who are rendering your service. Don't hesitate to commend your utilities. Give them a pat on the back and you will profit by it."

20 Fishermen Saved From Watery Grave By Shift in Wind

NEW PORT, R. I., Nov. 19.—Twenty fishermen aboard the steam trawler Sea Gull, Portland, Maine, to New York, were saved from a watery grave by a shift in the wind, they reported when the trawler was towed in here today by the Trawler Seiner.

On Monday, 75 miles east of Nantucket lightship, the Sea Gull's engines became disabled and she began to drift into shoal water S. O. S. calls were flashed.

Before the Seiner and other rescue ships reached the Sea Gull, however, the wind shifted and the Sea Gull drifted away from the dreaded shoals.

STEAMERS RIDE 50-MILE GALE

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19.—With the 50-mile gale, which has been holding 15 ships at anchor outside of Miami since Tuesday, dying down as quickly as it came, the Berkshire of the Merchants and Miners line moved cautiously into port today with 206 passengers from Philadelphia aboard. She was followed by the Clyde liner George Washington, with 265 passengers aboard from New York.

Captain Charles Jones, of the Berkshire, reported one of the worst voyages of his marine career. Two days out of Philadelphia the ship ran into an 80-mile hurricane which slowed it down to less than three knots an hour.

How French Women Get Thin

In Paris today old ladies and fat women are a thing of the past. Everywhere you turn you meet slender, girlish figures. It has become necessary for smart women to reduce because couturiers and dressmakers are only creating models for the thin and slender; also large hips and big busts do not fit in with bobbed hair, which has been so largely adopted, so that even women who were only plump or slightly over weight had to reduce to keep in style.

A marvelous discovery has helped French women in their search for slenderness. It is the formula of a French physician, who has been able to concentrate in a small tablet called "SAN-GRI-NA," a combination of harmless ingredients which eliminate from the food (while being absorbed by the system) all unnecessary fat-forming elements, thus preventing fatty tissues to form on the body. You can eat all you want while using "SAN-GRI-NA" and still get thin. While "SAN-GRI-NA" is considered a most remarkable discovery to reduce, it is guaranteed absolutely harmless, and is also endorsed by physicians and patients as a wonderful health-builder. Fat men and women report that almost immediately after starting to use "SAN-GRI-NA" they felt healthier and stronger than before in years. No wrinkles, saggy tissues or stomach disorders follow this simple and easy treatment, so that we can consider to at last have something really worth while trying if we care to become slender and youthful, as fashion has decided we must be. "SAN-GRI-NA" can be had at any leading drug or department store.

If your druggist does not carry SAN-GRI-NA in stock he can get it from his wholesaler or you can send a money order or check for $1.50 direct to the Scientific Research Labs. 1841 Broadway, N. Y. C., and one full sized box SAN-GRI-NA will be mailed you prepaid.

Come down to the Sea for Thanksgiving Day!

Atlantic City is the logical place for Thanksgiving. Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, provide the great hearty meal, deliciously cooked, while clean salt-sea air edges your appetite for it.

But wholly apart from these considerations, the very first Thanksgiving in America was held at the seaside—not Atlantic City of course, but on a stern and rock-bound New England coast.

Our own Thanksgiving alongside a smiling white New Jersey beach is a most desirable contrast. We can compare the seaside recreations and comforts of today with the seacoast privations and dangers of yesterday, and feel more grateful for the blessings which our forefathers so helped to make our heritage.

Finds effective treatment for sore muscles

TELLS HOW TO AVOID LAMENESS AFTER EXERCISE

"In my training work," writes a well-known athlete, "I have used Sloan's Liniment for the past five years and found it most effective for soreness caused by vigorous exercise. Also an incomparable remedy for stiff neck." (Name and address of writer given on request.)

It is marvelous how ache and stiffness in lame muscles yield to the magic of Sloan's. Just a little patted on lightly, and healing new blood tingles through the hurt place.

Away go "fatigue-poisons." New tissue gets needed nourishment. Sore muscles limber up and stop aching. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

In Memoriam.

In living memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Charles Hanley, who died one year ago, Nov. 19, 1924.

"You were a wonderful mother, dear old mother of mine—
You hold a spot down deep in our hearts, till the stars no longer shine.
You couldn't live on forever—but on to the peace of time—
There will never be a mother to us—Like that wonderful mother of mine."

Sadly missed by husband and children.
CHARLES HANLEY.

TELEPHONE GIRL NOW WELL

Suffered Two Years, Relieved By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marshalltown, Iowa. — "At the time I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a telephone operator, and had been suffering for two years with bearing-down pains and cramps in my legs so I could scarcely walk. At times I could not do any kind of work on account of my trouble. My mother was taking the medicine for the Change of Life and she thought it would help me and it did. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I recommend your medicines to my friends and I will answer all letters asking about them." — Mrs. P. E. EVERTS, Box 149, Marshalltown, Iowa.

Mrs. Norton's Experience

"Before I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and had such terrible dizzy spells that I could not stand some days. I had no appetite, was restless at night and felt all run-down. My husband got me a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and I am surprised at the results after taking it." — Mrs. CLARENCE S. NORTON, 18 Pierce St., Dover, N. H.

"COLD GAS" DOES WORK OF STEAM IN TEXAS OIL FIELDS

Harnessed Under 300 Pounds Pressure It Provides Power to Operate Machinery.

Snyder, Texas.—A vast reservoir of "cold," non-inflammable gas has been discovered in the oil fields of this section and is being used to operate machinery and pumps.

The gas is said to insure the most economical operation in the history of oil production. Small wells, which otherwise would require more oil for their boilers than they could produce are now operating at a profit.

For a time the gas mystified oil men and chemists, but it finally has been analyzed as an air containing about 93 per cent nitrogen.

One of the strange sights here is to see boilers producing pressure without fire. The gas is run into the boilers and in two minutes a pressure of 125 pounds is attained. From the boiler the "air" is carried under pressure through the usual steam lines to pumps and machinery.

The air has been used to drill three wells within a radius of three miles. Additional producers have all struck this gas in sufficient quantities to finish their wells.

Men in the field use the air for anything steam would accomplish. All they need to do is to turn the air into the boiler, which merely acts as a reservoir to equalize pressure. It also is used to inflate automobile tires and for refrigeration.

Watermelons, milk, water, or anything the men wish to cool is placed under the exhaust of an engine, which is covered with ice instead of being hot with steam. A watermelon left under the exhaust for two hours will freeze solid.

The air itself is not actually cold, but the release of pressure produces the effect of cold, similar to the process of manufacturing ice with ammonia under pressure.

The gas makes between three and five million cubic feet a day from the first well, with a rock pressure of more than 300 pounds.

THREE CONVICTS ESCAPE PRISON

Using a cleverly-fashioned rope ladder, secured to the top of the east wall by iron hooks, three negro convicts escaped from the state prison at Mounsville, Tuesday night, and one of them has been recaptured, the other two are still at liberty.

Two of the convicts participating in the delivery are life termers, but one of the murderers was returned through the unaided efforts of Warden S. P. Smith, who was leading the search.

Bud Lightsey, 31, serving three years for larceny, sent up from Cabell county last January, Fred Morgan, life termer from Marion county, sent up early this year, and Alfred Wilkes, life termer from Marion county, sent up in March, 1924, made up the departing group. Morgan was walking along the tracks of the Ohio River division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad south of Moundsville several hours after he had scaled the prison wall when he was sighted by Warden Smith, and was led back to his cell.

All three of the escaped men had been students at night school, conducted inside the prison each evening. They had been freed from their cells to attend the school session, and 15 minutes after leaving the cell halls were reported missing. A rope ladder was still hanging on the inside of the wall, mute testimony of the delivery.

GOOD LUCK CIRCLE TO HOLD SESSION

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS MEET

Large audience attended revival services last evening in the First Christian church. Evangelist William Mart Miller of Newport, Ky., had as his subject "How May I Know Which Church." He spoke in part as follows:

"With hundreds of Protestant churches in the land, all differing from each other, and at many points actually contradicting each other's teaching — with every conceivable proposition relating to Christianity being affirmed by some and as confidently denied by others—the man in the street becomes confused. One thing he knows, and that is that two contradictory statements cannot both be true. And, since God is not a God of confusion, but of order, that rule applies just as forcibly to religious truth as to any other. The only possible course open to the fair-minded man is to seek some standard which all churches claim to approve — to measure each church by the church which Jesus actually established, the one described in the new testament. Again he said 'If Jesus' church is on earth today it must surely command all that He commanded, and no more; forbid all that He forbade, and no more, and must leave us free where He left us free. I know of no other fair test.'"

Unusual interest is being manifested in tonight's subject, "The Gospel According to the Holy Spirit."

WEIRTON MAN IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Joe Brown, colored, of Weirton, whose trial on the charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of George Zaharadis, Greek resident of Steubenville, as the result of an automobile accident Oct. 3, opened at the circuit term of court in New Cumberland Monday afternoon, was found not guilty by a Hancock county jury late Tuesday afternoon. The jury was out two hours and 40 minutes.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS BRIDE

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Aken of Burbank, Cal., formerly of Chester, and Donald Densmore, of Los Angeles, Cal., which took place in the latter city Saturday, Nov. 7. The bride was attired in a traveling costume of grey with accessories to match.

MANY TO ATTEND BANQUET HERE

Large crowd is expected to attend the banquet and get-together social to be held this evening in the First National bank building under the auspices of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Elaborate program has been arranged by the committee in charge of the affair.

Public Funeral Services For Late Mayor Barnes Tomorrow

Flags on Municipal Buildings Fly at Half Mast in Tribute to Former Chief Executive.

Funeral services for Mayor James S. Barnes will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the John Haugh funeral home, in Seventh and Main streets.

The services will be in charge of Rev. F. H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

The body of the late mayor today is laying at the home of Chief of Police John Fultz, in Henry avenue, where it may be viewed until 10 o'clock tonight.

The body will be removed tomorrow to the Haugh funeral home. The services at 2 o'clock will be public.

Wellsville business establishments are expected to act on the suggestion of Mayor Frank C. Blackburn that they suspend operations for a period of two hours, from 2 until 4, or during the period in which services will be under way.

Flags on municipal buildings today were flown at half mast in tribute to the former chief executive.

PENNSY WINNER IN CLAIM SUIT

Following a trial that continued for three days in common pleas court No. 2, with Judge John B. Worley presiding, a jury returned a verdict for the defendant in the case of Beryl L. Woods against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

In this action, which was filed Dec. 22, 1924, the plaintiff sought $10,000 damages against the company for personal injuries. Woods was employed by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad at the Wellsville Shops, and was engaged in operating an air hammer when he was injured. Interest on the claim from Nov. 2, 1921, was sought in the petition.

The plaintiff was represented by Lones, Hill & Davidson, of East Liverpool, while the defendant was represented by W. I. Knisley of Canton and Billingsley & Moore of Lisbon.

J. H. STEWART WEDS MISS SARA DAVIS

Miss Sara Beatrice Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, of 411 Buckeye avenue, this morning at 11:30 o'clock became the bride of John H. Stewart, son of Isaac Stewart, of Broadway. The ceremony was performed in the Wellsville Christian church, with Rev. Thomas B. Shearer officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar House were the only attendants.

The bride was gowned in blue satin-back crepe, with hat to match. Her corsage was of Dried's roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. House was gowned in poudre blue crepe. The bride previous to her marriage was employed at the A. J. McCain Wall paper store of this city. The bridegroom is employed at the American Sheet & Tin Plate company in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will reside temporarily with the bride's parents.

L. T. L. MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Featuring the affair will be a reception for new members who have joined the organization within the last month. Miss Kate MacGillivray has requested that children bring handkerchiefs for use in the special drill exercises planned. Children living east of Ninth street will convene at 6:30 o'clock at Miss MacGillivray's home, and will go from there to the Ingram residence in a body. The meeting will start at 7 o'clock.

Roller skating tonight. Rock Springs park.

CITES EVILS OF MIS-SPENT LIFE

A specially arranged vocal duet, selections by a chorus choir, and Dr. L. H. Lawther's sermon of inspiration on "God's Hand of Wrath, or a Mis-spent Life" combined to make last night's meeting at the First Presbyterian church one of the outstanding services of the present week of revivals.

Dr. Lawther outlined the sins for which Israel was destroyed because of desertion from the true Jehovah God, and because God's word was despised. His sermon carried a message to fathers, and sons, as well, of today, on the evils and the results of a mis-spent life.

Featuring the musical program was a vocal duet by Oliver Johnson and Wilbur Newman.

Notable accessions to the church have been recorded during the services. There were four last night and eight the night previous.

Rev. W. S. Rowe, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and members of his church, following their regular prayer meeting, attended the revival services in a body.

Tonight Dr. Lawther will speak on the subject, "Man's Great Question in Life." He will deliver his final sermon of the two-weeks' series tomorrow night.

Stork Brings Daughter.

Announcement was made today of the birth to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, of Fourteenth street, a baby girl. She has been named Helen Josephine. Mrs. Davis, prior to her marriage, was Miss Helen Presser.

Surprise Birthday Party.

Mrs. E. L. Armstrong was pleasantly surprised last evening at her home at 1795 Clark avenue by a number of her friends, the affair honoring her birthday anniversary.

She received a large number of gifts. A two course luncheon was served, with Mrs. Minnie Russell as co-hostess. Music was provided by Buckley's orchestra.

Hold McDevitt Services Here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessie Gibbons McDevitt were held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church here, in charge of Rev. W. S. Rowe, pastor. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Murray McDevitt; one daughter, Mrs. Maxine Gearin; her mother, Mrs. Martha Gibbons, of Wellsville, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Carnahan, of Toronto; Mrs. Maynard Reager, of Wellsville, and Mrs. Eunice Godwin, of Madison township.

Lost Painting Found.

LONDON — London art experts are skeptical of the reported find at Newcastle of the original of Van Eyck's famous painting of the "Head of Christ." The supposed original was bought at a weekly sale at Newcastle auction rooms. If original, as it has been declared by Sir Martin Conway, N. P., it would be worth at least $150,000.

Crabbe Makes Ruling On Election Contest In Geauga County

COLUMBUS—A "fluke" in the state election laws has made James H. Johnston mayor of Chardon, in Geauga county.

The case involved the election of Chardon's mayor in the recent election.

J. V. Moats was the duly constituted mayoralty candidate and his name was printed on the ballot, Secretary of State Brown was told. But it seems that a majority of the voters wanted to elect Johnston, and did so, but in various ways. Some electors voted for James M. Johnston, others for J. M. Johnston and still others for Jim Johnston.

Election officials, after tallying the vote, said that if all the ballots were intended for the same Johnston he was elected.

They submitted the case to Secretary Brown, who in turn appealed to Attorney General Crabbe for a decisino.

The attorney general ruled that it was the plain intent of the voters to cast their ballots for Johnston and Secretary Brown rendered an official opinion declaring Johnston the winner.

Vigor Producing Elixir Brings Glorious Health and Radiant Vitality to Weak, Exhausted People

Men and Women, Weak and Nervous, Need the Help of This Great Restorative That Jesse D. Holloway Is Glad to Offer on Money Back Plan

Thousands of once worn out, run down human machines now know the happiness that buoyant exhilarating health brings.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is first of all a powerful digestive. It starts at the root of most human misery—the stomach.

It builds up and makes strong the digestive organs so that every particle of food you eat is properly and thoroughly digested and assimilated into the blood stream, furnishing nourishment that produces vigorous health.

Without proper digestion good health is impossible. Foul gases accumulate and toxins poison the blood.

Always remember that nine times in ten the ailments that continually bother you and make you feel depressed and unfit are caused by the stomach are weakened by disease or overwork, who are nervous and irritable, can put not functioning properly.

So now all men and women who their faith in this tonic medicine that is pleasant to take and agreeable to the stomach.

People who have sallow skin, are mentally depressed and can't get restful sleep at night are advised to try this sterling up-building elixir.

Bear in mind that you can prove the goodness of Dare's Mentha Pepsin by trying just one bottle and if it doesn't help you more than any medicine you have ever tried, Jesse D. Holloway or any druggist will gladly return your money without quibbling.

So why not for your health's sake, get a bottle today? It is probably just what you need to help you get well and strong again.

Get Rid of Your Rheumatism

Before Winter Sets in

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the tortures of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.

East Liverpool Druggists are my appointed agents in your city. If you live out of town I'll gladly send you free particulars.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting and operations fail?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by C. G. Anderson and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulation in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. Don't delay. Try HEM-ROID today. It will do the same for you.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking — Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

William Faversham, Stage Star, Here Thanksgiving Day

The celebrated star, William Faversham, now on the first lap of his trans-continental tour, in Zoe Akins' comedy drama of intrigue, "Foot-Loose," is announced as the Thanksgiving day matinee and evening attraction at the Ceramic theatre.

It is seldom that the present generation of playgoers has an opportunity to witness such an offering as William Faversham, and in such a delightful play as "Foot-Loose," as entertainment of this calibre is confined to but a few of the larger cities of the country. Therefore Mr. Faversham's appearance here will assuredly be a cause of much rejoicing on the part of his many admirers, especially so, since his Sir Wallace Welby in "Foot-Loose" is reported to be an ideal Faversham role, adding new lustre to his many stellar deeds.

In the cast to appear here in support of Mr. Faversham will be found such notables as Sarah Truax, Edith Campbell, Ann Warrington, Antonio Salerno, Dennis Cleugh, Beatrice Vert, Milton C. Herman and others.

When You Feel a Cold Coming On Take Laxative BROMO-QUININE Tablets to work off the cause nad to fortify the system against an attack of Grip or Influenza. A Safe and Proven Remedy. The box bears signature of E. W. Grove. 30c.

Christian Modesty In Dress Must be Taught, Pope's Edict

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—"Christian modesty in dress must be taught at any price."

This edict from Pope Pius XI was broadcast to Catholic women throughout the United States today. It was brought from Rome by Mrs. Harry M. Benziger of Baltimore and delivered before the National Council of Catholic Women here by Bishop Joseph Schrembs of Cleveland.

Some of present day fashions, the holy father said, are "shameful to women who call themselves Christians."

TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU MEETS

Officers Elected at Gathering Held in Millport School.

At the annual meeting of the Franklin Township Farm Bureau held Tuesday night in the Millport school house, B. W. Grubbs was elected president for the next fiscal year. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Lawrence McKarns; secretary-treasurer, Ely Thompson; chairman membership committee, F. G. McKarns; committee on aid, Floyd Hull; purchasing agent, C. C. Brown; live stock shipping agent, E. A. Mulherin; chairman entertainment committee, Erma Thompson.

County Agent Floyd Lower spoke on the proposed program of the county farm bureau for 1926, and then discussed the possibility of forming a boys' and girls' sheep club in Franklin township. The object of the latter is the developing of the sheep industry in Franklin township.

County Service Manager Phil E. Heim urged all members of the Franklin township bureau to visit Columbus next February during the occasion of farmers' week and also called attention to increased activity shown in this county in the shipping of live stock.

Reports were made by Purchasing Agent C. C. Brown and by Livestock Shipping Agent E. A. Mulherin.

The annual farm products fair of Franklin township was held in connection with the annual meeting, and a number of exhibits were made. In the pastry classes, the first prize for cakes was awarded Mrs. Harry McPherson and the second prize went to Mrs. Elvy Thompson. Eight cakes were entered in the competition.

There were 11 entries in the pie contest, and the first prize went to Mrs. L. E. McKarns and Mrs. John Bonnell took second money.

Thirteen exhibits of corn were judged. In the "10 ear exhibit" first prize was awarded W. S. Binsley and second prize to Edwin King. First prize for the best single ear was awarded Elvy Thompson and second prize to W. S. Binsley.

First prize for the largest ear was won by Fred Nession and second prize by Harry McPherson.

There were three potato exhibits, and the first award went to B. W. Grubbs and the second prize to Harry McPherson.

Only two exhibits of popcorn were made, and in this class first prize went to Mrs. Elvy Thompson and second award made to Mrs. Harry McPherson.

In the judging of turnips, first prize was awarded B. W. Grubbs and second award went to Frank McKarns.

WOLFE REVERSED IN LIQUOR CASE

Mayor Howard Wolfe of Salineville has been reversed in an opinion handed down in common pleas court No. 1 by Judge James G. Moore in the case of Lloyd Gearin as plaintiff in error against the state of Ohio.

Gearin was fined by Mayor Wolfe early last July following his conviction in that court on a charge of selling and delivering. He was fined $300 and costs, and then took an appeal.

When the case was argued before Judge Moore, it was shown there was no evidence in the record to show where a crime had been committed. The judgment of the lower court was then reversed at the costs of the defendant, and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. Gearin was represented in court by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville.

Relative Killed.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht of East Palestine was summoned to Martins Ferry Thursday to attend the funeral of his cousin, Frederick Baucknecht, aged 30, who was killed Tuesday while hunting near Cadiz. He is said to have been the first victim of the 1925 hunting season.

DIVORCE ACTIONS SHOW INCREASE

More divorce actions are being filed in common pleas court than are being disposed of, according to a record just disclosed by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine.

Since the opening of the fiscal term, July 1 last, there have been 76 cases disposed of, and since that time 90 new actions have been filed.

Of the cases disposed of, many are of long standing, and only a major portion of those filed since July 1 last have been heard by Judge James G. Moore.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been issued to William J. Smith of East Liverpool and Vera Hargreaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hargreaves. They are to be married by the Rev. John F. Dimit of the Methodist Protestant church, East Liverpool.

Company Takes Lease.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co., has leased for a period of 10 years the second floor of the building of the Citizens Savings bank at Columbiana, and at annual rental of $360 a year. The telephone company has taken an option for 10 years. The telephone company has taken an option for 10 years at the expiration of its present lease, but at an annual rental of $420 per year.

Action Filed.

An action has been filed in common pleas court by Charles M. Guy through his counsel Everett L. Lyon of East Palestine to recover $150 claimed to be due him from Elmer E. Royer. The original account was placed at $200, but upon which a payment has been made.

Leave to File Granted.

Leave to the defendant to file amended petitions has been granted in two automobile damage cases pending in common pleas court, wherein John McIntosh is plaintiff in an action against Margaret Pitts, and seeking $10,035 damages for personal injuries as a result of automobile accident.

C. E. Brook is also plaintiff in an action against the same defendant, but who in his petition claims $10,27.50 damages.

Authorized to Sell.

Trustees of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Salem have been granted permission by Judge Moore in common pleas court No. 1 to sell certain property owned by this congregation as prayed for. The trustees have been ordered to make a report to the court following the sale.

Judgment Rendered.

Judgment for $512.58 has been rendered by default in the case of Nathan Wolins against Charles F. Rainey, Edward Lane and Donald Fitzsimmons. The case was filed Jan. 14, last and at that time the claim of judgment was for $489.13 and interest.

Homeworth

Frank Pearson Curry, aged 73 years, former Homeworth resident, died at his home in Greenford Wednesday after a short illness of pneumonia. He moved to Greenford in 1889 and had since lived there. Surviving are his widow and one son, R. D. Curry, of Youngstown. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Lutheran church at Greenford.

Services at the Lutheran church at North Georgetown were largely attended when Rev. Howard E. Dunmire, formerly of Vanatta, was installed as pastor of the North Georgetown, New Franklin and East Canton congregations, to be known as the East Canton charge. Rev. Paul Koller, of Mansfield, president of the synod of Ohio, preached the sermon and conducted the installation services. Following the services dinner was served in the church basement. Rev. Dunmire and family will reside at East Canton.

The Freeburg Missionary society of the Evangelical church met at the home of Mrs. Bertha Anderson recently. Cafeteria dinner was served and the meeting, which followed, was opened with a song service. Members of the society gave Scripture readings and offered prayers. Mrs. Parrish had charge of the mission study book, "Prayer and Missions." Articles were read by Mrs. Lillie Byers and Mrs. Ollie Anderson. The society decided at this time to support a child in the foreign mission field this year. Twenty members and several visitors attended the meeting. The society will meet in December with Mrs. Ruth Byers.

Rev. Otto Zechiel, pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church, officiated at the funeral services for Rollie McNeely, crash victim, held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNeely, of Alliance, Tuesday afternoon. A quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Trump, Homer Grossman and Rev. Otto Zechiel, sang. Floral tributes from friends and neighbors surrounded the casket. The bearers were grandparents and great grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hodge and son went to Malvern Sunday, where they were guests of Mr. Hodge's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford. Mrs. Crawford underwent a serious operation last week.

D. W. Thomas and daughter, Mrs. E. E. Grimes, were in Alliance Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reed, of New Chambersburg, were guests of their children in Homeworth recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thomas.

Miss Pauline Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, of Bellefontaine, and Lorin E. Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Mead, of North Georgetown, were married recently at the First Lutheran church at Bellefontaine by the pastor, Rev. E. C. Rice.

Arthur Thomas, wife and son of Beloit, called on the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thomas, Sunday evening.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Baughman, formerly of Minerva.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson G. Keister.

Georgetown

Coming as a surprise to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Clara Elizabeth Laughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Laughlin of Georgetown, and Mr. Edward Cooper, of Toronto, O. The wedding was solemnized at one o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of the groom's brother, A. S. Cooper, of New Cumberland, with the Rev. W. S. Hamilton of the M. E. church officiating. The bride was dressed in tan spider web crepe, with accessories to match. Miss Laughlin before her marriage was employed by the D. M. Ogilvie Co., East Liverpool. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left by motor for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. O'Brien of East Liverpool, and Miss Flossie McHaffie, of this place, attended the wedding.

City life and Constipation—fellow conspirators

IF you are one of these necessary people in the business world—the woman or man whose duties demand your continuous personal attention—you must guard not only against constipation, but also against laxatives that embarass you during business or interrupt your nightly rest.

Pluto Water is the physic for you to take because it acts within 30 minutes to two hours. It gives your intestinal tract a thorough cleansing at a time that is convenient to you. A water physic, it is safe and non-griping.

Time counts. Neglected constipation is positively perilous to general health this time of year. Keep a bottle of quick-action Pluto on hand in your home always. Physicians prescribe it, druggists sell it, and it is bottled at famous French Lick Springs, Indiana.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" every day or two was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even if the child was chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

STOMACH BAD! INDIGESTION

Chew a few Pleasant Tablets, Instant Stomach Relief!

The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches the stomach all distress goes. Lumps of indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, fullness, flatulence, palpitation, vanish.

After-Dinner Magic!

They had asked the popular speaker how a man of his age stood a steady diet of rich, heavy banquets, night after night. "It's magic!" he declared, "and every man present ought to employ it. One little tablet I hold in this hand is a match for any ten-course dinner."

Ailments like dyspepsia, indigestion, sour stomach—are not caused by what you eat. Give your digestive system a little scientific help. And eat what you like! Yes, even doughnuts; baked beans; dishes cooked with onions. Stuart's dyspepsia tablets give your stomach the alkaline it needs—and that's all there is to it! Eat your fill, and don't fear acidity, gas, or distress in any form!

Your First Box FREE!

Any druggist in the land has Stuart's dyspepsia tablets. A big box is only 60c—they are less than a penny apiece! So, why suffer? Get a 25c metal box of Stuart's for the pocket—and keep it filled. One box free if you write the F. A. Stuart Company, Dept. F, Marshall, Mich.

Bobbed Hair

How to Keep it Thick, Healthy, Vigorous

The constant curling and waving demanded by modern style in hair dress, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, streaked with gray; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing, fragrant "Danderine" will do wonders for any girl's hair. This vitalizing beauty tonic acts on the hair like fresh showers of rain and sunshine act on vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

Try this for one week! While combing and dressing your hair, moisten your brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair—the effect is startling! Your hair immediately takes on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, becomes incomparably soft, wavy and appears twice as thick and abundant.

Highs' Thanksgiving Foes Lost Only Two Games Last Year

DEFEATED ROCKY RIVER, CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Boast Membership in Greater Cleveland League, Consisting of Schools Slightly Smaller Than Those of Senate and Quad; Boone and Reid May Scout Their West Commerce Tilt Tomorrow.

JOHN MARSHALL high school, of the Greater Cleveland Conference, the team that will tackle Cotch O. V. Boone's Blue and White machine on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day at Patterson Field, was the only Fifth City conference aggregation last year able to wallop Rockey River, champions of the circuit.

And the Marshallites accomplished this against Halfback Seedhouse, the flashy little ball toter who aided in the Clevelanders' victory over high school two years ago at Patterson Field.

Who and what are John Marshall high school and the Greater Cleveland confereence? Some fans may ask.

The Greater Cleveland Conference is an organization of seven of the smaller schools of Cleveland. It had its first season last year, with Rocky River capturing the championship with five victories and one defeat—the latter at the hands of John Marshall, 18 to 0, in the final game of the schedule.

The conference ranks behind the Quadrangular league and the Cleveland Senate. In the Senate are such schools as West Tech, South, East Tech, Glenville, East, West, Central and Lincoln.

The Quadrangular League consists of Lakewood, Shaw, Cleveland Heights and University school.

And then there is the conference—Rocky River tops the list, followed by Euclid Shore, Shaker Heights, West Commerce, John Marshall, Euclid Central and Longwood.

Last year, Marshall lost only two games out of nine and played two ties weights, 6-3; John Adams, 9-7; Euclid Central, 7-6, Slon, 40-0; and Rocky River, the champions, 18-0.

They lost to Shaker Heights 14 to 3, and West Commerce 12 to 7. Ties were recorded with Euclid Shore and Longwood.

And tomorrow afternoon, according to schedule, the Marshall eleven will battle the West Commerce eleven in one of the concluding tilts of the conference schedule.

And it is entirely possible that among the spectators when the two squads line up for the engagement will be Coach O. V. Boone and A. E. Reid, of the local high school.

Boone and Reid plan to make a hurry-up trip to Cleveland, see the Marshall-Commerce battle and get back again in time to get started for Columbus where tomorrow they expect to see "Red" Grange and Illinois in action against Ohio State.

Friday's Game.

Hall China vs. K. T. K.

W. Landfried's high three-game total of 463 pins in a recent game tumbled last night when Ashbaugh rung up a mark of 475 as a decided contribution to Laughlin 5's three-game victory over American Express bowlers.

Ashbaugh made 182 in the first game, 170 in the second and 123 in the third.

Wurzel's 141 was the best the baggage heavers could do with the pins in last night's tilts.

LIGHTWEIGHTS TO BOX FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — With the Mickey Walker-Tommy Milligan match for the welterweight title needing only the approval of the state athletic commission, promoters of the annual Christmas fund benefit show today turned their attention to the task of lining up Jimmy Goodrich to defend his lightweight title against Luic Vincentini of Chile, for the semi-final bout. Tex Rickard's present plan is to remove the charity label for the enterprise and split the receipts, fifty-fifty, with the fund, in order to escape the local rule, which demands that the benefiting charity must get 50 per cent of the gate.

It would be impossible to close the Walker-Milligan bout under these conditions. The commission will be asked for an official ruling on the Rickard plan tomorrow.

GOSLIN WOUNDED ON HUNTING TRIP

SALEM, N. J., Nov. 19.—"No more gunning for me as long as I stay in the big leagues,' said Leon (Goose) Goslin, Washington outfielder, today as he nursed a painfully lacerated left hand. The member was injured yesterday when the barrel of Goslin's shotgun burst nine inches from the sight while he was hunting ducks near his home here.

Goslin was accompanied by Whitey Witt, former outfielder of the New York Yankees, at the time of the accident. After having the wound dressed he cancelled a quail hunting expedition on which he and Witt were to have started later in the week.

Goslin was the home run hero of the last two world series, getting three homers in each, a series record.

W. V. U. REGULARS BACK IN UNIFORM

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 19.—West Virginia's varsity warriors buckled down to work today for their Thanksgiving day battle with Washington and Jefferson, with all of the first string men in uniform. The four men on the hospital list following the Mountaineers' victory over Penn State last Saturday—Captain Mahan, Morrison, Glenn and Farley—appeared today in good condition.

Washington and Jefferson will be handicapped in the Turkey day game, owing to the absence of Captain Cad Reese from early practice games. Captain Reese's father died from a stroke of paralysis suffered at the Pitt game. Reese will return to practice only for the later sessions, he notified his head coach in a letter.

POWER QUINT WINS OPENER

The Power five opened its 1925-26 campaign against the Rose Independents on the M. E. church court, winning by the count of 33 to 14. The entire Power quint played consistent basketball. Canne and Mackey were the chief performers for the independents. The lineup:

Powers		Independents
H. Dickey	F.	Mackey
O. Cunningham	F.	Dyer
Jester	C.	Canne
E. Rockhold	G.	Carey
E. Cochran	G.	Rose

Substitutions — Stuart for Dickey, Ashbaugh for Stuart, Mensforth for Cunningham, Smith for Rockhold, L. Bloor for Cochran, Wherry for Dyer, Staley for Carey.

TUNNEY WINS FROM RISKO

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Although John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight and recent graduate from the amateur ranks, fought the best fight he has ever put on, he was no match for Gene Tunney, of Greenwich Village, New York, and Tunney easily won the decision at the end of their twelve round bout, the feature of Mat Hinkel's boxing show here last night.

Tunney, shortly after the beginning of the fight, injured his right hand with a blow to Risko's iron jaw. Later in the battle, he directed his left against the same obstacle, and when the bout ended both of his hands were swollen.

Risko won the first and third rounds of the fight. Four were even and in the remaining six Tunney's margin was so great that there could be no question of the decision.

In the semi-final, Tommy Freeman, former Arkansan, but now of Cleveland, knocked out Al Walther, Canton, in the fourth round, after the Canton lad had been the target for volley after volley of well aimed blows, almost every one of which found a landing place on his person.

GREYS DRILL FOR SERIES CONTEST

Members of the Greys football team will practice this evening at 7 o'clock at City park, in preparation for their contest Saturday with the Wellsville C. & P. eleven at Patterson Field.

The clash will be the first of a three-game series for inter-city gridiron honors.

Powers at Wellsville

The Power basketball team will play the Wellsville Epworth League quint Friday night on the Wellsville M. E. court. The game will be called at 7:30.

HORNSBY MAY BE NAMED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Selection of Manager of St. Louis Cardinals for National League Honors Next Monday is Almost Certain, Says Expert; Has Led Heydler Circuit Six Straight Times at Bat.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The National league announced today that it's "most valuable player award" for the season of 1925 would be brought into the light of day on Monday next. No intimation as to the identity of the awardee, so to speak, was given. No intimation as to his identity is needed.

Rogers Hornsby, successful manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and greatest of the present-day stars, either will get what he is entitled to this time or hip pockets are for the exclusive use of handkerchiefs.

A year ago, the committee of baseball writers was constrained to give the prize to "Dazzy" Vance, star right hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers. This action was pre-ordained when a member of the committee, in a moment of abstraction or depression, failed to vote for Hornsby at all in naming his first 10 choices. The Cardinal star, thus, was eliminated automatically.

At the time, however, the attitude of the committee was against naming Vance for the trophy, at that. The votes, in fact, leaned strongly toward Frank Frisch, of the New York Giants, but since Frisch had been but recently exonerated of Jimmy O'Connell's bribery charges, it was deemed expedient to pass the award along elsewhere.

Hornsby, at that moment, had led the National league in hitting for five consecutive seasons. Since then, he has added a sixth. This should be sufficient and enough to settle the issue, if any, but there is more. Hornsby not only is a great infielder but one of baseball's fastest men on the bases, although far from a prolific base stealer. He doesn't have to be with a gent like Bottomley hitting in his immediate rear.

And, since the National league declines to bar player-managers from the competition, we must consider the fact that Hornsby took over the Cardinals in mid-season and turned an absolutely failure into a near-contender.

If this array of facts is not conclusive, then Pike's Peak is a mere grade crossing.

At this premature juncture, in fact, the most interesting angle of the situation should develop in the competition for second place. There were plenty of so-called valuable players in the National league last year and some of them were good.

The writer has reared quite a complex on Max Carey, the elderly young man of the champion Pirates. He was the writer's idea of the Pirates' real star of the world series.

However, there are several other Pirate candidates available, notably Cuyler, Wright and Traynor.

Bottomley also is a plausible young man. Dave Bancroft, as player-manager, was not exactly a ball and chain to the progress of the Braves. George Kelly will not draw his unconditional release from the Giants until further notice, and one can expect to see Ed Roush in Cincinnati next season. These are a few of the candidates that come, offhand, to mind. There are more.

But, as the fellow said, what of it. At last reports, Hornsby hadn't neglected to draw his next breath.

EX-CUE CHAMP CLICKS OFF 125

Greenleaf's Feat Declared to be World's Record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — Ralph Greenleaf, former champion, was declared to have established a world's record for pocket billiards last night when he ran 125 points from the break in one of the blocks of his 1,500-point match with Pasquale Natalie of Baltimore. Greenleaf previously has made runs in excess of last night's total but never before, it was said, has any player completed a 125-point match in one inning. Pasquale merely broke the balls and satdown. Greenleaf did the rest.

The latter, it was announced, will meet the winner of the New York state championship tourney, now in progress, in a special 1,500-point match.

Kotsonaros Is Victor

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Martin Ludecke, German wrestler, was defeated by George Kotsonaros, who took two out of three falls here last night.

Lutherans Seek Games

The Lutheran basketball team is in the market for games. A contest with the M. E. five of Wellsville is sought, as well as games with other outfits in the district. J. C. Peddicord, whose phone is 987-J, is manager.

When it's Thanksgiving—and the teams are drawn up for battle on the gridiron—when the first touchdown goes over and the grandstands rock with frenzy
—have a Camel!

WHEN the college bands are playing to make your blood tingle. And the cheers and answering songs sweep back and forth between the opposing thousands of rooters. When, following that tense hush, a swift player darts out from the flashing formations on the gridiron and races across the goal for the first touchdown—oh, man, or superman, when the taste of joy is too keen to endure—have a Camel!

For Camel is the boon companion of your joys. Roam as far as you will from the prosaic things of every day, Camel will be the truest smoke friend you ever had. Not a tired taste, not a cigaretty after-taste, not a regret in a million Camels! Just full and fragrant smoke contentment, just added zest in living.

So when your own college's team tears through for its first smashing goal this Thanksgiving Day—when life seems fullest of the frenzy of happiness—joyfully apply the fire and taste the smoke that's loved by millions.

Have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skilful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.

SEAL SALES WILL OPEN NEXT FRIDAY

Announcement has been made by officials of the West Virginia Tuberculosis association that the annual sale of seals would open throughout the state on Friday, Nov. 27. Practically all the seal supplies for the campaign in December have been distributed to the county agencies.

Mrs. J. M. Wells is the chairman of the committee having charge of the sales in Newell.

COAL PRODUCTION SETTING RECORD

Coal production in West Virginia will probably set a high mark for this month, according to report from various mining regions. Since the anthracite mine strike began the soft coal mines of this state have been rushed to capacity and with peace still in the distance operators expect the demand for bituminous to continue during the winter months.

SOCCER CONTESTS SCHEDULED HERE

Homer Laughlin China soccer team is scheduled to meet the strong Sharon team on the Newell playing field Saturday afternoon. The kick-off is listed for 3:30.

Laughlin has been playing a brilliant article of soccer throughout the season and as this is the last contest of the regular season a large turnout of fans is expected.

Announcement has been made that the crack La Belle squad of Steubenville will play here on the morning of Thanksgiving day. The Stubbers have a strong lineup and will be accompanied here by a large delegation of rooters.

Taylor Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Wand Irene Taylor, 21-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Taylor, were held this afternoon in the home on the Stewart farm, back of Congo. Rev. J. W. Schrader, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Newell, was in charge. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

More Divorces Granted.

To Attend Lodge Meet.

Number of local lodgemen plan to attend the district meeting to be held Saturday night under the auspices of Tri State Encampment No. 354, I. O. O. F., in the Hill building, East End, East Liverpool. Delegations will be present from all sections of the Ohio valley.

Thanksgiving Day Ahead-Big Ten Thankful That Grange Is Senior

By Norman E. Brown.

THIS is the season of thangsgiving. Everyone has something for which to be thankful.

Even Miller Huggins.

That guy'd be in the courtyard with the other "Napoleons" and perpetual motion mechanics were it not for his Florida real estate interests which take his mind off baseball for a few months.

But as I was saying. Everyone has something that should keep them from laying the grocery, meat, electric light and fur coat bills in a row on the floor and then committing suicide over them.

Nine of the "Big Ten" colleges are glad that "Red" Grange is a senior. Next year they can concentrate on building a football team instead of any kind of a way to stop Grange.

The east is thankful for Dartmouth and Yale, and the fact that Illinois didn't play either one of them.

Going back a bit into the year, the Pittsburgh Pirates are glad that Walter Johnson didn't have web feet. A duck might have been able to have kept his footing in the pitcher's box in that last swimming event between the National Leaguers and Washington.

Connie Mack can be thankful his team didn't nose out the Senators. For he didn't have a player on his team who was used to wearing hip boots around second base.

We Still Have Our Cup.

The Davis tennis cup officials can be thankful that they didn't really mean it when they threatened to bar Bill Tilden from the game because he wrote a note during school hours, or something like that.

Bobby Jones, pride of Atlanta and all points south, north, east and west, is thankful that he didn't have any important dates about the time he met Willie McaFarlane in the National Open. For Willie detained Bobby considerably—36 holes in fact. Bobby finally happened to think he promised to stop at the grocery on the way home and proceeded to cogitate so forcibly on what he was supposed to get that Willie slipped over a hole on him and won the match.

You Didn't Have to Go.

Boxing fans can still be thankful that the draft isn't employed to get crowds for the putrid fights being held. And as long as we have boxing commissions, including the New York one, there will always be a funny side to the ring game, no matter how much it needs chloride of lime.

Up to a few weeks ago I felt that everyone could be thankful we had our various athletic sports, such as golf. But since the last two attempts I am convinced that this world would be a better world without the game—until someone devises a ball that will go where you hope it will. After all golf is mostly hope with us duds.

But all joking aside, may your dinner last nine innings and your heart be as full of thanksgiving as your vest is full of soup. This last is to be considered internally, of course.

By Norman E. Brown.

While football players are plodding through the drab days and rain-soaked fields these fall days and the winter sport lovers are oiling up their skates and getting the latest thing in snow toggery, our leading mermaids are making their plans for the the enticing days of next summer.

Recent dispatches tell of some of these plans.

For one thing Helen Wainwright, one of this country's foremost swimmers and divers, is now resting happy in the thought that her challenge to Miss Hilda James, British star, for a series of matches to decide the world's feminine professional swimming title, has been accepted. The American star, now an instructress of swimming in Tampa, Fla., issued the challenge some time ago. Miss James but recently turned professional after amassing a score of records in amateur events, and is now more than willing to have a meeting or series of races with Miss Wainwright arranged.

Having cornered a room full of trophies and several pages of records in the amateur ranks, Miss Gertrude Ederle and Miss Aileen Riggin, two more of America's wonder-maids are contemplating entering the professional field and devoting their time to teaching the art and to giving exhibitions about the country later on. The possibilities are that they might later be included in a series of matches with Miss Wainwright and Miss James. What an assault on the records these stars would make pitted against each other!

Miss Ederle holds most of the international free style swimming records. Miss Riggin, at the age of 20, has won Olympic fame as a swimmer and diver and holds, among others, the record for the 400-yard relay swimming.

She won the world's fancy diving title in the Olympic games at Antwerp when but 15, piting her skill against that of grown women.

Miss Wainwright, after winning a score of indoor records in Florida last winter to swell her achievements in the water, turned professional and during last summer smashed several pro records. Her speed in many events has approached that of the greatest men swimmers.

BRITISH BOXER WINS FIRST BOUT

NEW YORK Nov. 19.—Ernie Jarvis, British champion who is fighting his way to a match with Fidel La Barba for the flyweight title, scored his fourth straight victory since coming to this country when he outpointed Wee Willie Woods, of Scotland, in 10 rounds last night.

Woods got away to a sensational start and had Jarvis in distress through the first two rounds, but the Englishman rallied in the third and was well in front in every round thereafter, outboxing and outslugging Woods.

There were no knockdowns.

English Scientist Makes Discovery on Infectious Diseases

LONDON — The discovery that infectious diseases enter the human and animal body through the mucous membrane of the nose has been made by Dr. M. H. Gordon, an English scientist.

Experiments on rabbits with the virus of cow-pox have led him to this discovery, it is stated, and it is claimed that as a result of the discovery injections to guard against such diseases as smallpox, measles, mumps and influenza and colds, will be unnecessary. When the appropriate serum has been prepared it is predicted that people wishing to protect themselves will simply need to sniff the sera up through the nose in order to be adequately protected.

Last Night's Fights

Cleveland—Gene Tunney defeated John Risko, Cleveland, twelve rounds; Tommy Freeman, Cleveland, knocked out Al Walther, Canton, in fourth round. Kid Carpentier, Pittsburgh won by technical knockout, fourth round, over Young Sol, Cleveland. Frankie Lauer, Cleveland, outpointed Benny Burns, Akron, four rounds. Gyp Williams, Toledo, knocked out Young Frisco, Cleveland, fourth round.

New York—Ernie Jarvis, England, got the decision over Wee Willie Woods, Scotland, ten rounds. Johnny Breslin, New York, got the decision over Joey Ross, Hoboken, N. Y., ten rounds. Willie Lamorte, Newark, N. J., got the decision over Jimmy Russo, Grand Rapids, Mich., ten rounds.

Quit Getting Up Nights

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) I had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

"CLUB KILLER" RESUMES CAMPAIGN OF TERROR

TODAY

By the Hand of God.
A New Element.
He Obeyed Mormon Joe.
Babies in Trees.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

(Copyright, 1925, by the Star Co.)

Harrison W. Noel, sub-normal youth, aged 20, ran away from an insane asylum, killed a taxi-cab driver and a little girl. The young man's lawyer told the jury that he was insane, "afflicted by the hand of God?

The jury decides that he was sufficiently sane to be killed by the electric chair. That will happen unless some higher authority changes the arrangement.

Biologists will tell you that Providence does not deserve the horrible accusation, "afflicted by the hand of God," and common sense tells you that a just omnipotent, merciful being ruling the universe would not voluntarily "afflict' a boy of 20 with insanity, causing him to murder a man and little girl that had done no wrong.

Everything in the visible universe from the egg of an oyster to the big star Aldebran is made up of fewer than 100 different "elements' or substances.

A few are missing, and two scientists, Jaraslav Heyrovsky and Professor Dolejsek, announce the discovery of one more which they call "Dvimagan."

That new word, "Dvimagan," will live millions of years after every language now spoken shall have completely vanished from use and memory.

Knowledge and intellectual power are international, independent of race. It is well to remind the world, nursing its racial hatred, that the six greatest minds in mathematics and astronomy were born of six different races—Copernicus, a Pole; Tychobrahe, a Dane of Swedish ancestry; Keppler, German; Galileo, Italian; Descartes, French; Newton, greatest of them all in pure mathematics, British.

Hunters! Ask Yourselves These Questions

Do you know the dates of the open season for the game you are going after?

Can you name the animals and birds that you are not permitted to kill?

What is the cost of a hunting license and where can it be obtained?

What are the bag limits?

Are you allowed to ship your kill out of the state, or sell it locally?

All of the above questions are answered in a 46-page Game Law Booklet issued by the government.

Every sportsman needs a copy of this booklet so that he may keep within the law. Send in your name and address with two cents in stamps for return postage.

ALL TOLEDO POLICE ON TRAIL AS ANOTHER WOMAN IS NEAR DEATH

32 Wellesley Girls Interned as They Defy Smoking Ban

WELLESLEY, Mass., Nov. 19.—Thirty-two demure girl students at Wellesley college, residents of exclusive Cazenove hall, were interned today because they violated the college anti-smoking edict.

Despite the fact that 80 percent of the 1,207 students had voted for Lady Nicotine and the faculty turned it down, the 32 girls were caught red-handed.

They have been forbidden to leave the campus for the rest of the school year.

Fourth Victim's Skull Fractured When She is Attacked by Maniacal Assassin as She Walks on Street.

TWO ARE DEAD, THIRD ESCAPES

Fiend, as on Previous Occasion, is Frightened by Approaching Automobile and Flees—Believed Demented.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 19—With every available officer assigned to the work, Toledo police were hopeful today to arrest the "club killer," who last night, for the second time this week, attacked a woman on the streets of the city, after having previously killed two with a club.

Search Hospital Records.

Miss Freda Draheim, 31, is lying near death at Mercy hospital. Her skull is believed fractured and there are also two deep scalp wounds. She was attacked by the club wielder as she was walking by him in Tecumseh street. As on a previous occasion, the killer was frightened by an approaching automobile, and fled.

Mrs. Emma Hatfield, died September 28, being clubbed May 24. Lydia Baumgardner, 24, was clubbed to death August 21. Miss Wilma Hoadley was clubbed November 17, but was saved by the approach of a motorist.

Announcement was made at police headquarters that every effort would be put forth to catch the killer by nightfall. However, they admitted they were hampered in the search by incomplete and conflicting descriptions of the club wielder. The records of the Toledo state hospital for the insane were being searched in an effort to learn if some maniac with homicidal tendencies has recently been released as cured.

ROTARY CLUB TO ENTERTAIN LADY GUESTS

Dinner and Playle Tonight at Country Club.

125 WILL ATTEND

E. L. Carson Chairman of Committee in Charge.

One hundred and twenty-five reservations have been made for the ladies night meeting, to be given by the Rotary club at the Country club at 6:30 o'clock tonight.

A high class entertainment by four persons from the Department of Drama, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, will be presented after the dinner. The program will be in the form of a playlet.

E. L. Carson, chairman of the committee on arrangements, will be master of ceremonies. A dance will be the concluding feature.

M. E. BAXTER RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Morris E. Baxter, 59, Andrews place, chemist at the Wellsville plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, is in the City hospital today, suffering from an injured hip sustained late Tuesday night when struck by an automobile as he stepped from the street car at the mill stop on Wells avenue, Wellsville.

The automobile, said to have been driven by a Mr. Ward, stopped following the accident. The injured man was removed to his home here and then taken to the hospital, where Dr. R. J. Marshall attended him.

Priests Hurt in Auto Accident.

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 19.—Two Priests, Rev. John Carribine of Jefferson and Rev. P. J. Ferrow, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, Youngstown, were injured in an automobile accident today when a wheel came off their car, causing it to overturn.

MRS. BRADFIELD DIES SUDDENLY

Heart Disease Claims Widow in Thompson Avenue Home.

Mrs. Catherine Bradfield, 75, widow of Seth Bradfield and mother of the late E. L. Bradfield, died suddenly of heart trouble at 6:30 o'clock last night in her home, 152 Thompson avenue.

Mrs. Bradfield, who was born near Columbiana, was a daughter of Elias and Elizabeth Lower. She united in marriage with Seth Bradfield of East Fairfield in 1870. She is survived by two sons and one daughter, Everett C., California; George G., East Liverpool, and Lillian, at home.

She was a lifelong member of the Christian church and a member of the Rebekahs, Women's Relief Corps and the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Frank Church, Noted Humorist, to Speak In Eagles' Temple

Frank Church, noted lecturer, humorist and entertainer, will appear at the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway, Friday evening in the second number of the lyceum course which is being presented under the direction of the lodge degree team. The public is invited. No admission will be charged.

Church, who went overseas as an entertainer during the World war, plays a half dozen instruments and has often been called "the one-man band." He sings humorous songs to his own accompaniment and renders instrumental solos on the auto-harp. He also offers numerous monologues and side-splitting jokes.

In his work overseas, Church was a member of the Flying Squadron, a group of American speakers.

COL. COOLIDGE FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE IN PLYMOUTH HOME

President's Father Passes Comfortable Night.

HEART WEAKENED

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 19.—Colonel John C. Coolidge, 80 year-old father of the president, appeared to be winning the battle for his life, according to a bulletin issued today by Dr. Albert L. Cram, attending physician.

Attacks of heart bloc are becoming less frequent—an encouraging symptom—and the colonel was permitted to leave his bed this afternoon and read the newspapers.

The colonel passed a comfortable night.

Dr. Albert M. Cram of Bridgewater, visited his patient this morning before communicating with the White House by long distance telephone.

Those who have seen the colonel say that he realizes that he is on the brink of life's great divide.

President Advised of Condition.

Colonel Coolidge's unspoken wish, it is said, is to see his son again before the last farewell.

President Coolidge is in constant telephonic communication with the little white homestead on the mountainside here. If there is a turn for the worse, it is understood the president will hurry here by special train. Should the colonel rally, arrangements will probably be made, it was stated here, for the father to carry out the original plan to spend the winter in Washington.

Colonel Coolidge finds peace and contentment in Plymouth notch, however, and it was this reason that prompted Dr. Cram to refrain from moving him to a hospital during his present sickness.

Deputy Sheriff Angus Macaulay has been installed as the colonel's body guard, keeping the patient in seclusion. Macaulay acted in this capacity

CARMI A. THOMPSON HITS DONAHEY EXTRAVAGANCE IN STATE GOVERNMENT

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 19.—Colonel Carmi A. Thompson of Cleveland, projected himself into the state arena last night by charging Gov. A. V. Donahey, Democrat, with extravagance in running the state government, in an address before the Union League Republican club.

Though he did not flatly say he would be a candidate for governor in the Republican primary, Col. Thompson said he would at some future date say more on the subject. He was toastmaster of the state-wide gathering of Republicans, which, in effect, opened the campaign for the governorship.

Citing reports by the auditor and treasurer of state, Col. Thompson, who was the G. O. P. nominee in 1922 and beaten by Donahey, declared that disbursements for the last fiscal year were $4,500,000 more than the previous year, $3,000,000 of which he attributed to Gov. Donahey's policies.

Pointing to Gov. Donahey's stressing of economy in his campaigns, Thompson urged people to compare Donahey with President Coolidge in the matter of actual economy and tax reduction.

The Coolidge economy note was further emphasized by Senator William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican national committee, the principal speaker, and by Senator Frank B. Willis.

Willis further placed himself behind Vice President Charles G. Dawes in his proposal to reform the senate rules which permit unlimited debate, saying "either the senate will reform its rules or the people will reform the senate."

Candidates on Ground.

The meeting attracted 500 Republican county leaders, office holders, aspirants, judges and camp followers.

Chapman's Aide Guilty of Murder; Gets Life Sentence

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 19. — Another sensational chapter in America's books of crime was closed today following the conviction of Charles (one-arm) Wolfe, aide to Gerald Chapman, by a jury in circuit court here last night for the murders of Ben and Mary Hance, near Muncie, last August.

In finding Wolfe guilty of murder in the first degree the jury tempered its verdict with a recommendation that his punishment be fixed at life imprisonment instead of death. Sentence was temporarily withheld by the court.

J. D. Bennett Undergoes Operation.

James D. Bennett, Sixth street grocer, was removed from his home in McKinnon avenue to the City hospital last evening where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. The operation was performed by Drs. W. N. and C. H. Bailey and W. A. Hobbs. His condition was reported favorable today.

All members of Pride of Valley Council No. 4 D. of A. are requested to meet at Hall tonight at 7:30 sharp, to attend funeral services of Sister Elizabeth Spence.

Mrs. Coolidge Does Fall Shopping in New York Today

She is coming here by train with President Coolidge, who is to speak at a dinner given by the New York Chamber of Commerce. It is understood the president will discuss business matters and the international situation.

The president's train is due in New York around 2 o'clock. After the dinner, the president will rest at the Waldorf-Astoria, seeing a few visitors, while Mrs. Coolidge does her shopping.

The return trip to Washington will be made tonight.

THAD H. BROWN VISITOR HERE

Republican Gubernatorial Candidate Confers With Friends.

Thad H. Brown, of Columbus, secretary of state, who recently announced his candidacy for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in 1926, will confer with Municipal Judge Jesse Hanley and other friends here this afternoon regarding campaign plans.

Mr. Brown was to have arrived in the city at 1:30 o'clock.

Last night he attended the Ohio G. O. P. leaders' harmony banquet at Youngstown at which United States Senator Butler, of Massachusetts, was the principal speaker.

SOLONS PASS BILL BY 4-3 VOTE; BROWN MAY VETO IT

Proposal Slashes $600 From Salary of Ralph C. Benedum.

SPECIAL MEETING

Chambers, Eardley and Rowe Cast Negative Ballots.

Salary of the mayor of East Liverpool will be $100 per month, or $1,200 per year, after January 1, 1926, unless legislation enacted by the city solons upon final reading last night is killed by the veto power of Mayor Charles Brown.

The city executive, who retires from office on December 31, is expected to reject the measure, although he announced today that no action would be taken on the ordinance until the tenth day after he receives it.

Mayor To Take Time Limit.

"I have practically made up my mind as to the action which I shall take upon the measure but am not ready to make my decision public," said the mayor. "I do not expect to act on the ordinance until the last day under the law."

The ordinance was enacted by a vote of 4 to 3 at a special meeting. Solons Kerr, Farrall, Larcombe and Hayes supported the legislation, while Councilman Chambers Rowe and Eardley voted against it.

Councilman Chambers asked Kerr for a report on his conference with J. S. Wilson, Republican mayoralty nominee, and Mayor-elect Ralph Benedum, which took place prior to election. Chambers said that Benedum had told him that he had been misquoted by the two councilmen in a report previously made to the municipal legislative body.

Quote Mayor-elect

Kerr said that he and Farrall had called upon Wilson and that the former mayor, while he opposed a drastic cut, admitted he would be satisfied if the salary were fixed at $1,200. He refused, however, to make a statement until "after election." The two councilmen, Kerr further stated, then called upon Benedum and the Democratic candidate asserted that he would make a duplicate statement of whatever was signed by Wilson. He was told that Wilson refused to make any statement but expressed his approval of a $1,200 salary.

"If Mr. Wilson is satisfied with that, I am too," the Democratic standard bearer was quoted as having said.

Roll call was then taken and the ordinance was passed.

The measure was to be placed on Mayor Brown's desk today. He has until midnight of Saturday, November 28, to sign or veto the measure.

COMMON DRUNKS WILL BE ARRAIGNED AT CITY HALL BY MUNICIPAL JUDGE

Only Major Cases Will be Tried in Proposed Library Courtroom, Says Hanley.

Common drunks and other prisoners charged with minor offenses will be arraigned at the city hall on and after January 1, Municipal Judge-elect J. C. Hanley declared today in answer to opposition which has been voiced against the establishment of the new courtroom in the Carnegie Library building.

Opponents of the proposed courtroom location assert that the dignity of the library would be lowered by the appearance in court of the ordinary type of prisoners picked up by the police.

One member of the library board claimed that such characters would serve as a bad example to children attending the high school and Central building.

Police court offenders will be given hearings at City hall between 8:30 and 9 a. m. daily, the judge-elect said. These offenders will include persons charged with intoxication, disorderly conduct, traffic violations and other minor counts on which trials are improbable.

"Of course, where a trial would be demanded by an offender charged with some major violation, it would be necessary to use the court room, but these cases would be far between," said the judge-elect. "It is planned to open court for civil and trial cases at 9 o'clock each morning upon conclusion of the work at the city hall."

TREASURY READY FOR COURT FIGHTS AIMED AT BAN ON BOOTLEG LIQUOR

Industrial Alcohol Magnates Urge Modification of New Regulations Abolishing Permits.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Caught between two fires—Gov. Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, on one side, and manufacturers and consumers of industrial alcohol on the other—the treasury prepared today for court fights against drastic regulations aimed at curbing diversion of liquor into bootleg channels.

Industrial alcohol magnates are planning to confer with General L. C. Andrews, prohibition czar, to demand modification of new regulations which abolish all manufacturing permits, effective Dec. 31, and provide for an annual licensing system.

Pinchot, who is backing stricter supervision of alcohol and cereal beverage plants, is expected here shortly for a conference with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, to urge that the treasury take stronger steps against diversions.

Industrial alcohol manufacturers contend that the bureau of internal revenue has exceeded its authority in the new regulations and, according to information obtained at the treasury, are ready to seek injunctions against enforcement of the new policies.

Treasury legal experts declared that the new policies will stand a court test, although it was admitted they

The jury decides that he was sufficiently sane to be killed by the electric chair. That will happen unless some higher authority changes the arrangement.

Biologists will tell you that Providence does not deserve the horrible accusation, "afflicted by the hand of God," and common sense tells you that a just omnipotent, merciful being ruling the universe would not voluntarily "afflict' a boy of 20 with insanity, causing him to murder a man and little girl that had done no wrong.

Everything in the visible universe from the egg of an oyster to the big star Aldebran is made up of fewer than 100 different "elements' or substances.

A few are missing, and two scientists, Jaraslav Heyrovsky and Professor Dolejsek, announce the discovery of one more which they call "Dvimagan."

That new word, "Dvimagan," will live millions of years after every language now spoken shall have completely vanished from use and memory.

Hunters! Ask Yourselves These Questions

Do you know the dates of the open season for the game you are going after?

Can you name the animals and birds that you are not permitted to kill?

What is the cost of a hunting license and where can it be obtained?

What are the bag limits?

Are you allowed to ship your kill out of the state, or sell it locally?

All of the above questions are answered in a 46-page Game Law Booklet issued by the government.

ALL TOLEDO POLICE ON TRAIL AS ANOTHER WOMAN IS NEAR DEATH

Fourth Victim's Skull Fractured When She is Attacked by Maniacal Assassin as She Walks on Street.

TWO ARE DEAD, THIRD ESCAPES

Fiend, as on Previous Occasion, is Frightened by Approaching Automobile and Flees—Believed Demented.

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 19—With every available officer assigned to the work, Toledo police were hopeful today to arrest the "club killer," who last night, for the second time this week, attacked a woman on the streets of the city, after having previously killed two with a club.

Search Hospital Records.

Miss Freda Draheim, 31, is lying near death at Mercy hospital. Her skull is believed fractured and there are also two deep scalp wounds. She was attacked by the club wielder as she was walking by him in Tecumseh street. As on a previous occasion, the killer was frightened by an approaching automobile, and fled.

Mrs. Emma Hatfield, died September 28, being clubbed May 24. Lydia Baumgardner, 24, was clubbed to death August 21. Miss Wilma Hoadley was clubbed November 17, but was saved by the approach of a motorist.

Announcement was made at police headquarters that every effort would be put forth to catch the killer by nightfall. However, they admitted they were hampered in the search by incomplete and conflicting descriptions of the club wielder. The records of the Toledo state hospital for the insane were being searched in an effort to learn if some maniac with homicidal tendencies has recently been released as cured.

32 Wellesley Girls Interned as They Defy Smoking Ban

WELLESLEY, Mass., Nov. 19.—Thirty-two demure girl students at Wellesley college, residents of exclusive Cazenove hall, were interned today because they violated the college anti-smoking edict.

COL. COOLIDGE FIGHTING FOR HIS LIFE IN PLYMOUTH HOME

President's Father Passes Comfortable Night.

HEART WEAKENED

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 19.—Colonel John C. Coolidge, 80 year-old father of the president, appeared to be winning the battle for his life, according to a bulletin issued today by Dr. Albert L. Cram, attending physician.

Attacks of heart bloc are becoming less frequent—an encouraging symptom—and the colonel was permitted to leave his bed this afternoon and read the newspapers.

The colonel passed a comfortable night.

Dr. Albert M. Cram of Bridgewater, visited his patient this morning before communicating with the White House by long distance telephone.

Those who have seen the colonel say that he realizes that he is on the brink of life's great divide.

President Advised of Condition.

Colonel Coolidge's unspoken wish, it is said, is to see his son again before the last farewell.

President Coolidge is in constant telephonic communication with the little white homestead on the mountainside here. If there is a turn for the worse, it is understood the president will hurry here by special train. Should the colonel rally, arrangements will probably be made, it was stated here, for the father to carry out the original plan to spend the winter in Washington.

Colonel Coolidge finds peace and contentment in Plymouth notch, however, and it was this reason that prompted Dr. Cram to refrain from moving him to a hospital during his present sickness.

Deputy Sheriff Angus Macaulay has been installed as the colonel's body guard, keeping the patient in seclusion. Macaulay acted in this capacity

Lingering coughs — the kind that hang on and hang on and rob a man of his sleep—the kind that makes him peevish and all worn out.

Those are the breed of coughs that prove that common cough syrups are about as useful as a bottle of ginger pop.

The quickest and surest way to get rid of a persistent cough is to take a teaspoonful of Bronchuline Emulsion four times a day.

It's made to stop the old timers—the tough ones—and it does it without any loss of time.

And remember, there is no chloroform—no sugar—no dope in this grand cough medicine. It's a prescription for stubborn coughs and that's the kind it speedily conquers.

For ordinary coughs one or two doses is usually enough. Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway and dealers everywhere can supply you.

Preacher, 93, Claims He's Oldest Telegrapher

Mr. Titus learned telegraphy when he was fourteen years old, three years after the first message was sent from Washington to Baltimore, May 24, 1844. He is now ninety-three years of age.

Mr. Titus was deeply interested in the story of how Dr. Samuel F. B. Morse built his first telegraph line from Washington to Baltimore as he worked on his father's farm in Perrysburg, N. Y.

He wrote to Doctor Morse to send him a copy of the Morse code and the boy learned the alphabet.

Then he desired to own an instrument.

He worked all summer, saved $28 and bought the instrument. For many months he practiced on his outfit.

A short time later the first telegraph line in New York state was erected across one corner of his father's farm.

A few years later the railroad followed the telegraph and he was given a chance to earn a living as a telegraph operator for the railroad company.

When the Civil war broke out Mr Titus enlisted in the federal army and was assigned to the telegraphic service, in which he served through the war.

Kills Catarrh Germ In Three Minutes

Chronic catarrh, no matter how bad, and cases of bronchial asthma now yield instantly to the amazing discovery of a French scientist. This drugless method called Lavex kills the germ in three minutes, yet is positively harmless to the most delicate tissues. Your head and lungs are cleared like magic. Sufferers are relieved in a single night.

To prove it and to introduce Lavex to a million sufferers in one month, I offer to send a treatment free and postpaid, to any one who will write for it. No obligation. No cost. If it cures you, you can repay the favor by telling your friends—if not, the loss is mine. No matter what you have tried, just send me your name and address for this generous free treatment and prove that you can be rid of catarrh.

War Experiences of General Hindenberg Surpass All Others

BERLIN — Hindenburg has the most extensive war experience of all living great soldiers. When a boy of 15, he talked to veterans of the Napoleonic wars, when a youth of 20 he was a lieutenant and fought in the Austro-German war.

As an aide-de-camp he participated in the Franco-German war of 1870 71, and from the second month after the World war on until long after the Armistice Hindenburg saw nothing but war.

BLAZER CASE IS DISMISSED

Upon motion of District Attorney Joel Stone, the murder charge against Dr. Harold E. Blazer, former Salineville physician, charged with the killing of his invalid daughter, Hazel Ingrit Blazier, 33 year old "child-woman," has been dismissed in the district courts at Littleton, Colo., by Judge Samuel W. Johnson.

The district attorney, in his petition, declared that the jury's disagreement over the guilt of the aged physician last week was satisfactory to the prosecution and no further attempt would be made to give Dr. Blazer a second trial.

The judge denied an application of Attorney Lewis D. Mowry, counsel for Dr. Blazer for a new jury to acquit him of the charge. Dr. Blazer has gone to Cumbres, Colo., where he is working as the foreman of a lumber camp in an effort to begin life anew.

LOOK OUT FOR SELF POISONING

Neglect of the liver results in self-poisoning! Not so quickly, perhaps, but just as surely as if you drank poison out of a bottle. If your liver is not doing its work of helping digestion, eliminating waste from the bowels and purifying the blood, you will always be troubled with sick headaches, nausea, biliousness, bad breath, gas, sour stomach, or constipation.

Cleanse and tone your liver! Put your system in condition so you feel your very best again! Try just a spoonful of Dr. H. S. Thacher's excellent Liver and Blood Syrup after the next few meals and notice the quick improvement in the way you eat, sleep, look and feel — the return of strength, vigor and energy. You will be completely satisfied; otherwise there will be no cost.

FREE! This Coupon is Good for Sample Bottle Dr. Thacher's Liver & Blood Syrup if presented before the supply for free distribution is already given away. Carnahan Drug company, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Sciatic Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint, is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pain which shoots down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The disease is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual plain sedative even to alleviate the pain.

The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, all pain and soreness. Continue until the Neuritis has entirely disappeared and you are able to work and rest in comfort once again. Mathews Original Cut Rate Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

Sciatic Neuritis

The sciatic nerve, situated at the back of the hip joint, is frequently the subject of Neuritis, giving rise to the painful disease Sciatica. The symptoms are intense pain which shoots down the thigh to the foot, often aggravated by walking, and with painful points along the course of the nerve, very tender to the touch.

The disease is a very obstinate one and does not readily respond to ordinary treatment. It takes more than the usual plain sedative even to alleviate the pain.

The quickest, safest and surest way to get rid of the persistent nerve racking pains of Neuritis is to get a bottle of Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2, which comes in capsule form. Take them as directed and notice how in about 24 hours they have considerably reduced, if not entirely banished, all pain and soreness. Continue until the Neuritis has entirely disappeared and you are able to work and rest in comfort once again. Mathews Original Cut Rate Store keeps Allenrhu Special Formula No. 2 in stock all the time and sells lots of it.

Council's Offer For Municipal Courtroom

A different complexion has been given the city council's request for the use of the second floor auditorium of the Carnegie public library as a courtroom for the municipal bench, to be established on January 1, as a result of a conference between the library trustees and a committee representing the legislators.

Solon N. P. Kerr, who, with Councilman James M. Larcombe, presented the proposal to the library board, pointing out that the city is without funds to make improvements necessary to provide quarters for the court in the almost-delapidated city hall, said the library offers the only solution of the problem pending the erection of a modern municipal building.

He promised that the city, which appropriates funds for the maintenance of the library, would furnish janitor service, light and heat for the entire building—proposed courtroom as well as reading rooms—without reducing the present library budget, and suggested that an outside stairway should be constructed from Broadway to the second floor of the structure, thus providing an entrance other than the main door of the libray.

And, too, he declared that possible confusion to readers due to arguments before the court would be overcome by closing the opening in the second floor corridor of the building.

If the outside stairway were erected and other alterations made to the end that the courtroom would be segregated from the library proper, there should be less objection to the councilmanic proposal.

Entering into the discussion at this juncture, however, is the likelihood that these alterations shall mar the beauty of the exterior of the library building. And to offset this, proponents of the plan say the stairway would fill the need of a fire escape.

And, again, library patrons fear the effects of police court environment that is inevitable if such hearings are not conducted at city hall.

Both sides have strong arguments, and the library trustees should take all facts into consideration before handing down a decision.

Beautiful Playgrounds

The Playground and Recreation Association of America is conducting a playground beautification contest in which any community may compete. The contest will close December 1, 1926, the awards going to the playgrounds making the greatest progress up to that date.

Cities from 25 states have already entered from one to four of their own playgrounds and the committee in charge expects every state in the union to be represented soon.

The idea may be new to some persons, but an understanding of its importance grows with consideration. One city, with a large number of playgrounds, discovered last summer that several of these were little more than barren vacant lots. There was some playground equipment, but little else. There was no grass, trees, flowers, pools of fountains. In fact, there were only the apparatus and dirt. On warm days the sun beat down scorchingly and all through dry weather clouds of dust accompanied every active game.

Beautification need not be costly. A little neighborly cooperation would help greatly to make playground funds go far in this work. A barren playground probably is better than none. Nevertheless one that boasts a little natural beauty is still better. A beautiful tree under which story hour may be held, some flower beds which some of the children might help to cultivate, a grass plot, a little wading pool, some shrubbery, and perhaps a rustic arbor or summer house, would add greatly to the looks of the place and also to the health of the little folks who play there.

Five Cent Cigars

Not the least benefit of the proposed federal tax reduction, the country is now informed, is the prospect of "a good five-cent cigar" which, according to the vice presidential philosopher Tom Marshall, was the great American need. Tobacco manufacturers say that the contemplated reduction of the internal revenue tax should make that possible.

It is an easy way to save the country—knocking a few paltry millions off the tobacco tax. Cigar smokers will welcome it selfishly. Non-smokers will take a chance on it, hoping it will reduce the grouch of a lot of their fellow-citizens.

There are smokers, however, so heterodox as to assert that there are good five-cent cigars obtainable now. And it need not be rashly assumed that such consumers lack taste and judgment. American smokers generally run to the two extremes of absurdly small and medium-sized cigarets and absurdly large cigars. There is an odd lack of small and medium sized cigars. Yet manufacturers are beginning to see the wisdom of taking tobacco ordinarily used for fat 10 and 15-cent cigars and wrapping it up in nickel sizes. It would be a simple thing to encourage this policy, tax or no tax. Big cigars are too much for the puny smokers of the present day, anyway.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The most bizarre apartments in Gotham are occupied by film folk. No mid-Victorian simplicity for them. The story is told of an English playwright who sub-leased an apartment of a Hollywood star. He was asked the period of the furnishings. "Early Mero-Goldwyn," he replied.

When cinema players arrive at the prestige of a de luxe apartment they decide it must smack of the same splendor that actuates the homes seen on the screen. They even give their butlers the film flair of periwigs and silver buckled knee pants.

An interviewer arrived late one morning to the silk canopied bedside of a queen of shadowland. Suzette was pouring the morning chocolate from a silver urn. A visiting manicurist was applying a buffer. From the Roman bath came yips of Ching, protesting against the morning ablution.

The queen languidly motioned a Persian cat out of a brocaded chair and asked her guest to be seated. "Is your hour of awakening usually like this?" asked the visitor. "Not so harrassing," was the reply. "I am usually soothed by a strain from my pipe organ, but it is being repaired."

The imperious lady began her career dancing a break down. Yet on the other hand, the simplest of all country places is the Colonial domicile of Gilda Gray, the shimmy dancer. It might be transported to the Southland without causing neighbors to stare.

Most of the very rich movie stars in Gotham are cached in ponderous apartment houses on Park avenue, known by numbers. They employ theatrical designers to decorate them and more than likely the effect is that of a stage setting in musical comedy.

New York will not tick to the Continental idea of going to the theater at 9 o'clock. Ziegfeld tried it in vain with a Nine O'Clock Frolic and the Century Roof with a Nine O'Clock Revue. John Murray Anderson is to breast traditional scorn with an intimate theater seating 299 on Park avenue. It will offer tabloid musical revues and the idea is to catch late diners. The midnight show is dead and the several efforts to revive it have been futile. The supper club offers more intimacy.

I watched a lonely fiacre drawn up among the limousines as crowds were leaving a supper club. The old Jehu hunched up on his seat was intoning without enthusiasm: "Kerridge, very exclusive!" He was soon all alone in a deserted street—still hunched up on his seat like a moulting sparrow in the rain.

The "butter and egg man" is becoming a fruity memory. He was a symbol for lavish expenditure in gilded places. Now the spender is known as "an Oklahoma boy." Oklahomans, it seems, are spenders. They give big tips and are good natured hosts, allowing cadgers to horn in without resentment.

In front of the Waldorf, by the way, one is always able to find a decollette hack. The drivers are mostly white mustached and Irish. They are very much philosophers. Too old when the Gasolene Age came to turn to other pursuits, they carried on. They are devoted to their ancient nags and the time they are not soliciting fares they are stroking them. "Ol Morely" is a cabbie who decorates the front of the Exclusive Racquet club. He caters only to the membership, who now and then engage him for a little fresh air on the way home. He has no rates and consequently is overpaid. When he is ill he is taken care of. All his bills are paid from a mysterious source.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Colorado River Development—III.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Colorado river has been under observation, survey, and study since the close of the Civil war, more than a million dollars having been expended in this work by various departments of the United States government. Its bibliography consists of 1,000 books, articles, and maps, while no less than fifty-five measures have been introduced in congress providing for different phases of its development. It has been under consideration by every congress for the last six decades, and right now, as has been explained, it is a cause of perturbation to the officials of seven western states, to say nothing of the department of the Interior and the federal Pawer commission.

There are on file before the federal Power commission twenty three projects for the development of the Colorado. Of these, thirteen arrest attention as being the most practicable. These thirteen lie between the mouth of the Green river, and Parker, Arizona. This sector of the river's course is where its greatest fall is found and is, therefore, most propitious for the construction of dams and reservoirs for power and for the equalization of flow for flood protection in the lower basin. It is approximately 500 miles along the river from the mouth of Green river to Parker.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado lies within these limits. Through it and other gorges the river rushes with terrific force, swirling fiercely in foaming rapids, with an average fall exceeding seven and one-half feet per mile. The elevation at the mouth of the Little Colorado river, for instance, is 2715 feet, while at the mouth of the Virgin river the elevation is 740 feet. The fall between these rivers is 1975 feet, and the distance between them is 262 miles.

In flood time the volume of the Colorado is as great as that of the Ohio in flood, or as much as the full flow of Niagara Falls. It has a very steep profile and while most of the fall is concentrated at rapids, the stretches of smooth water have an average fall of three feet per mile. In the delta the fall is about one foot per mile.

When the snows melt in the mountains of the upper tributaries and pour their water toward the Colorado the rapids in the gorges become seething torrents which finally descend upon the lower basin with terrific force and endanger those who live within it.

A Very Muddy River.

Carried along in this rushing flood is an immense amount of sediment. The Colorado is one of the muddiest rivers in the world, and when it deposits this sediment it lays plans for a shift in its channel the next year. This erratic habit is another source of danger.

So within the Canyon section lies a golden opportunity. The great fall is propitious for power projects and at the same time the building of dams and reservoirs will equalize the flow so that the flood danger of the lower basin will be minimized.

There are three flood control dams suggested. Two of these—Boulder Canyon Dam and Lee's Ferry Dam—are combination projects. That at Topock is purely a flood protection.

Lee's Ferry, at the mouth of the Paria, is at the foot of Glen Canyon, the next depression of any extent avove Grand Canyon. This gorge extends up into Utah and a dam and reservoir situated at its foot would be an excellent power site. If sufficient storage were provided within it, 19,300 second-feet would be available continuously at Lee's Ferry.

Also this would make the river navigable to motor boats and permit of tourists making a trip much further north and through beautiful country that hitherto has been relatively inaccessible. With the building of highways north from the trunk lines that traverse Arizona this is a point that will be seriously considered. Lee's Ferry, Diamond creek, and Boulder Canyon perhaps are the most discussed of the sites now being considered.

Diamond creek is a little stream that flows into the Colorado near the lower end of Grand Canyon. This is the site in which James B. Girard is interested. Mining interests are believed to be supporting him. Likewise with the coming of electric railroads, the oil burning roads that now cross Arizona are urging that a plant be erected here. With storage in Glen Canyon and with other conditions favorable, a flow of 22,300 second-feet could be attained at the Diamond creek site. Under the same conditions, but without storage, the flow at Diamond creek would be about 10,900 second-feet half of the time and 7,180 second-feet ninety per cent of the time. For a dam of moderate height, the Diamond creek sites, as there are several possible ones, have many favorable features.

Imperial Valley Irrigation.

Linked with the Boulder Canyon dam project is the All-American Canal. This is for the irrigation of the Imperial Valley. At the present time water for this valley is secured from a canal running through Mexico. The people of Imperial Valley, however, are restive and nervous because of the excessive cost of repairs and the canal's being under foreign control. To correct this situation it is proposed to build a canal running from the Colorado river to the valley, entirely on the American side of the border.

By this plan 700,000 acres would be brought under irrigation in the valley, 300,000 more than are now being watered. This canal and the dam would make necessary an estimated expenditure of $200,000,000 while the actual expenditures required to complete the work might run half as high as the cost of the Panama Canl.

The thirteen dam sites are Dark Canyon, Glen Canyon. (Lee's Ferry), Mineral Canyon, Ruby Canyon, Specter Chasm, Bridge Canyon (Diamond Creek), Devil's Slide, Hualpai Rapids, Lower Black Canyon (where the Boulder Canyon project will be situated), Mohave Canyon and Parker.

A problem that is creating much discussion with respect to the development of the river is the Grand Canyon. Whether to build within the limits of its National park is the sore spot. Engineers see tremendous possibilities of power in the rapids that surge through the magnificent gorge and urge that they be harnessed.

The National park people declare for the inviolability of nature saying dams and other structures would ruin the beauty of the canyon. To this the engineers answer that any dam would not reuin the beauty of the canyon when viewed from the rim or from the rivers bed as its height would make no ppreciable difference to the massive ramparts that would tower above it. Moreover they declare that it would make possible the navigation of the canyon by motor boat and open up something new for the tourists. They point out that only a score of people now living have made the trip down the river through the canyon. To date, however, no one has considered seriously the construction of a dam in the park.

The thirteen projects are not necessary at the present time. One, or at most two would suffice, but ultimately all will be essential. When they are all built the Colorado river basin will have come into its own.

Most of the very rich movie stars in Gotham are cached in ponderous apartment houses on Park avenue, known by numbers. They employ theatrical designers to decorate them and more than likely the effect is that of a stage setting in musical comedy.

New York will not tick to the Continental idea of going to the theater at 9 o'clock. Ziegfeld tried it in vain with a Nine O'Clock Frolic and the Century Roof with a Nine O'Clock Revue. John Murray Anderson is to breast traditional scorn with an intimate theater seating 299 on Park avenue. It will offer tabloid musical revues and the idea is to catch late diners. The midnight show is dead and the several efforts to revive it have been futile. The supper club offers more intimacy.

I watched a lonely fiacre drawn up among the limousines as crowds were leaving a supper club. The old Jehu hunched up on his seat was intoning without enthusiasm: "Kerridge, very exclusive!" He was soon all alone in a deserted street—still hunched up on his seat like a moulting sparrow in the rain.

The "butter and egg man" is becoming a fruity memory. He was a symbol for lavish expenditure in gilded places. Now the spender is known as "an Oklahoma boy." Oklahomans, it seems, are spenders. They give big tips and are good natured hosts, allowing cadgers to horn in without resentment.

In front of the Waldorf, by the way, one is always able to find a decollette hack. The drivers are mostly white mustached and Irish. They are very much philosophers. Too old when the Gasolene Age came to turn to other pursuits, they carried on. They are devoted to their ancient nags and the time they are not soliciting fares they are stroking them. "Ol Morely" is a cabbie who decorates the front of the Exclusive Racquet club. He caters only to the membership, who now and then engage him for a little fresh air on the way home. He has no rates and consequently is overpaid. When he is ill he is taken care of. All his bills are paid from a mysterious source.

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Colorado River Development—III.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Colorado river has been under observation, survey, and study since the close of the Civil war, more than a million dollars having been expended in this work by various departments of the United States government. Its bibliography consists of 1,000 books, articles, and maps, while no less than fifty-five measures have been introduced in congress providing for different phases of its development. It has been under consideration by every congress for the last six decades, and right now, as has been explained, it is a cause of perturbation to the officials of seven western states, to say nothing of the department of the Interior and the federal Pawer commission.

There are on file before the federal Power commission twenty three projects for the development of the Colorado. Of these, thirteen arrest attention as being the most practicable. These thirteen lie between the mouth of the Green river, and Parker, Arizona. This sector of the river's course is where its greatest fall is found and is, therefore, most propitious for the construction of dams and reservoirs for power and for the equalization of flow for flood protection in the lower basin. It is approximately 500 miles along the river from the mouth of Green river to Parker.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado lies within these limits. Through it and other gorges the river rushes with terrific force, swirling fiercely in foaming rapids, with an average fall exceeding seven and one-half feet per mile. The elevation at the mouth of the Little Colorado river, for instance, is 2715 feet, while at the mouth of the Virgin river the elevation is 740 feet. The fall between these rivers is 1975 feet, and the distance between them is 262 miles.

In flood time the volume of the Colorado is as great as that of the Ohio in flood, or as much as the full flow of Niagara Falls. It has a very steep profile and while most of the fall is concentrated at rapids, the stretches of smooth water have an average fall of three feet per mile. In the delta the fall is about one foot per mile.

When the snows melt in the mountains of the upper tributaries and pour their water toward the Colorado the rapids in the gorges become seething torrents which finally descend upon the lower basin with terrific force and endanger those who live within it.

A Very Muddy River.

Carried along in this rushing flood is an immense amount of sediment. The Colorado is one of the muddiest rivers in the world, and when it deposits this sediment it lays plans for a shift in its channel the next year. This erratic habit is another source of danger.

So within the Canyon section lies a golden opportunity. The great fall is propitious for power projects and at the same time the building of dams and reservoirs will equalize the flow so that the flood danger of the lower basin will be minimized.

There are three flood control dams suggested. Two of these—Boulder Canyon Dam and Lee's Ferry Dam—are combination projects. That at Topock is purely a flood protection.

Lee's Ferry, at the mouth of the Paria, is at the foot of Glen Canyon, the next depression of any extent avove Grand Canyon. This gorge extends up into Utah and a dam and reservoir situated at its foot would be an excellent power site. If sufficient storage were provided within it, 19,300 second-feet would be available continuously at Lee's Ferry.

Also this would make the river navigable to motor boats and permit of tourists making a trip much further north and through beautiful country that hitherto has been relatively inaccessible. With the building of highways north from the trunk lines that traverse Arizona this is a point that will be seriously considered. Lee's Ferry, Diamond creek, and Boulder Canyon perhaps are the most discussed of the sites now being considered.

Diamond creek is a little stream that flows into the Colorado near the lower end of Grand Canyon. This is the site in which James B. Girard is interested. Mining interests are believed to be supporting him. Likewise with the coming of electric railroads, the oil burning roads that now cross Arizona are urging that a plant be erected here. With storage in Glen Canyon and with other conditions favorable, a flow of 22,300 second-feet could be attained at the Diamond creek site. Under the same conditions, but without storage, the flow at Diamond creek would be about 10,900 second-feet half of the time and 7,180 second-feet ninety per cent of the time. For a dam of moderate height, the Diamond creek sites, as there are several possible ones, have many favorable features.

Imperial Valley Irrigation.

Linked with the Boulder Canyon dam project is the All-American Canal. This is for the irrigation of the Imperial Valley. At the present time water for this valley is secured from a canal running through Mexico. The people of Imperial Valley, however, are restive and nervous because of the excessive cost of repairs and the canal's being under foreign control. To correct this situation it is proposed to build a canal running from the Colorado river to the valley, entirely on the American side of the border.

By this plan 700,000 acres would be brought under irrigation in the valley, 300,000 more than are now being watered. This canal and the dam would make necessary an estimated expenditure of $200,000,000 while the actual expenditures required to complete the work might run half as high as the cost of the Panama Canal.

The thirteen dam sites are Dark Canyon, Glen Canyon, (Lee's Ferry), Mineral Canyon, Ruby Canyon, Specter Chasm, Bridge Canyon (Diamond Creek), Devil's Slide, Hualpai Rapids, Lower Black Canyon (where the Boulder Canyon project will be situated), Mohave Canyon and Parker.

A problem that is creating much discussion with respect to the development of the river is the Grand Canyon. Whether to build within the limits of its National park is the sore spot. Engineers see tremendous possibilities of power in the rapids that surge through the magnificent gorge and urge that they be harnessed.

The National park people declare for the inviolability of nature saying dams and other structures would ruin the beauty of the canyon. To this the engineers answer that any dam would not reuin the beauty of the canyon when viewed from the rim or from the rivers bed as its height would make no ppreciable difference to the massive ramparts that would tower above it. Moreover they declare that it would make possible the navigation of the canyon by motor boat and open up something new for the tourists. They point out that only a score of people now living have made the trip down the river through the canyon. To date, however, no one has considered seriously the construction of a dam in the park.

The thirteen projects are not necessary at the present time. One, or at most two would suffice, but ultimately all will be essential. When they are all built the Colorado river basin will have come into its own.

THE STORY OF A GIRL WHO MARRIED FOR MONEY — By EDGAR POE NORRIS

THREE.

The character of Noble Harwood's house, which every Central Citian pointed to with pride as "the finest in the state," was one of those flowerings out of a disposition which eventuate in the case of men quite as in that of plants It was a conventionalized Italian Renaissance villa in design; the work of an architect in the state capital who had been sent to Florence ten years before by Noble Harwood to copy a house he saw there that struck his fancy. About it was a perpetual atmosphere of sunrise, with the songs of birds attracted by the protective trees and frequent feedings, trellises of vines, stone benches, a central pool of glistening water surrounded by sentinel-like poplars. It was Central City's idea of kingly magnificence.

Inside, there was a conglomeration of rich woods, silks, tapestries, paintings, glass, marble, alabaster. Noble Harwood loved beautiful things, but had no taste, a fact that his house reflected. He bought things like those he saw in houses into which he was frequently invited in New York, without consideration of surroundings. He bought pictures on other person's recommendations, and half of the books in his library, rich in binding, had uncut pages.

It was in this library he stood now, with Laurel and her mother looking up to him.

"Something rather unfortunate has come up," he said, noting Mrs. Wellington Todd's anxious eyes.

Laurel was all confidence, hanging on his every word.

"Developments in the affairs of the company make it necessary for me to remain in Central City for at least a week," he went on. "I wouldn't think of postponing the wedding" — looked feeling at Laurel—"but we will have to suspend our honeymoon for a week."

"Oh!" Laurel's utterance was involuntary.

"I'm awfully sorry, dearest," he said, sitting down by her side and taking her hand. "I tried to avoid it."

She squeezed his hand. "If it can't be helped, there's nothing to be done about it. Only—."

"Yes, I know," he interrupted. "We'll just live here quietly, at home to no one, until we can go away." He looked toward Mrs. Todd expectantly.

"That is the wisest thing to do," she opined, breathing easier.

"Then, Mrs. Todd, will you see that the proper explanations are made? I hardly know how to go about it, myself."

"Yes, every one would be dying of curiosity." She arose. "Noble, I think it would be best if you would bring her home early this evening. She will need a good night's rest."

"Yes, I shall," he replied carelessly, smiling at Laurel. When the elder woman had gone he sat down again and took her hand. He was intoxicated by her flushed cheeks, sparkling eyes that were dark pools red mouth, all framed in lustrous, rippling black hair. Tomorrow—this superb jewel would be his. He felt very young again.

He knew very well what people were saying about this second marriage of his. His own daughters had not spared him. His sister had raged. But Noble Harwood, chairman of the board of the National Axle and Bearing Co.; chairman of the board of the Central City National Bank; vice president of the state manufacturers' association; president of the Central City Country club; member of New York clubs; indifferent contributor to a score of funds, didn't care what they said. He was not the richest man in the state, as Central City fondly believed, and his possessions were less than half of the ten millions he was supposed to be worth; nevertheless, he was the wealthiest and most powerful man in Central City and its environs, and he was conscious of that power. Let Central City say what it liked; it would, nevertheless, continue to kow-tow and bend the knee to him, and hope to be invited into his home.

He had often speculated on whether Laurel Todd really loved him, without arriving at any definite conclusion, although he realized his wealth probably was the strongest attraction. Sometimes, however, as he regarded himself in the mirror, he decided that he could have won her if his wealth had been much less. He was 52, but well preserved, and his grayed temples enhanced, rather than detracted from, his strong handsomeness. He had so often had it clearly forced upon him that he was more than interesting to women.

Anyway, even if she didn't love him, he loved her. He had wooed and won her because she was, at the moment, the thing he wanted more than anything else in the world. A beautiful wife, young, vibrant, sensuous—what possession could compare with this. And Laurel had, besides these attributes, something supremely important to men, a curious air which aroused his sense of mastery, his desire to dominate.

His lips found hers and lingered; then, briskly, he arose. "I suppose they are waiting for us." She took his hand and stood up weakly, only to lean lightly on his arm. "Oh, Noble, I wish it were all over."

"You don't know how much you will enjoy it! A wedding is a woman's supreme moment. Every woman is an actress, and few of them ever star in anything but a wedding, so they all take full advantage of the opportunity."

"That's just it. I'm afraid I'll crumple up with all those staring eyes upon me."

"Yes," he said, grimly, "all the women will be out in full force to show you by their expressions what they think of you for marrying an old man like me."

"Noble! You know—." She raised herself on tip-toe to his lips. They reentered the hallway laughing, to find themselves awaited.

This One-Profit · · Unit-Built Studebaker

offers you 3 major advantages in Quality, Price and Protected Investment

THE average man on the street today knows that through more efficient manufacture, standardization of parts, etc., all makers offer him more for his money than ever before.

All makers claim greater things for their product — and can prove them. All makers rest their case on more economical manufacturing due to quantity production under modern efficiency methods. All cars are fair value but there is a best value.

Few motor car "manufacturers" have foundries, forges, etc., to make their own engines—yet one-fourth of the cost of an automobile is in the engine. Even fewer build their own bodies—yet one-third of the cost of a car is in the body.

Only two makers have adequate facilities for making all bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings: Ford in the low-price field and Studebaker in the fine-car field.

One-Profit Value

Because of its unique manufacturing facilities, Studebaker eliminates profits which all other quality car manufacturers must pay to outside parts or body makers. Savings effected in this way run to hundreds of dollars on some models. Thus Studebaker is able to use finest steels, finest woods, finest engineering and superlative workmanship in its cars; then to add costly extras . . . and still charge no more than competing cars.

Unit-Built Construction

One-Profit facilities result, too, in Unit-Built construction. In cars designed and built as units. The hundreds of parts used in a Studebaker car are Studebaker. They function together as a unit, resulting in longer life, greater riding comfort and higher resale value for you. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation thus are built into Studebaker cars. Records of more than one hundred thousand miles are not uncommon.

And "No-Yearly-Models"

As a natural outgrowth of those two factors, a third great advantage to the buyer is attained . . . "No-Yearly-Models." Because all phases of manufacture are directly under Studebaker control, Studebaker cars are constantly kept up-to-date. Improvements are continually made—not saved up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete. Resale values are thus stabilized. As an example of the value One-Profit manufacture makes possible, see the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Studebaker's Lowest Priced Sedan—but all quality

THE fine Studebaker Standard Six Sedan illustrated below is a real four-door sedan. It is upholstered in genuine wool cloth. Carpets are wool. Windows are real plate glass.

The equipment includes an 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, ash receiver, rear-vision mirror, stop light, dome light, safety lighting control on steering wheel, automatic windshield cleaner, coincidental lock to steering gear and ignition controlled by same key operating door and spare-tire locks, and full-size balloon tires. All instruments are grouped under glass on a silver-faced dial set in a beautiful walnut finished panel.

But the most important superiorities of this Sedan are concealed within the framework of the body and in the chassis.

Body pillars, for instance, are of northern white ash, cross-members of hard maple. We pay a premium for steels of extra toughness.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of its size and weight, according to the rating of the N. A. C. C. and the Society of Automotive Engineers. The motor is not built for excessive speed, but rather for smooth, trouble-free service at 5 to 55 miles an hour. It is built for a long, quiet life—not for spectacular stunts.

We will gladly demonstrate this car and finance its purchase on Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan.

"Noble! You know—." She raised herself on tip-toe to his lips. They reentered the hallway laughing, to find themselves awaited.

Jews Sacrifice Career To Rebuild Palestine; Movement Explained

CLEVELAND—Jewish youth—Jewish intellectuals—Jewish artists are sacrificing career, position and wealth in the struggle to effect the rebuilding of ancient Palestine and emigration of the Jewish nation to the Biblical home. Dr. Leon Reich, member of the Polish parliament, in an address here, explained the activities in the "back to Palestine" movement and received contributions to carry on the work.

This One-Profit · · Unit-Built Studebaker

offers you 3 major advantages in Quality, Price and Protected Investment

THE average man on the street today knows that through more efficient manufacture, standardization of parts, etc., all makers offer him more for his money than ever before.

All makers claim greater things for their product — and can prove them. All makers rest their case on more economical manufacturing due to quantity production under modern efficiency methods. All cars are fair value but there is a best value.

Few motor car "manufacturers" have foundries, forges, etc., to make their own engines—yet one-fourth of the cost of an automobile is in the engine. Even fewer build their own bodies—yet one-third of the cost of a car is in the body.

Only two makers have adequate facilities for making all bodies, engines, clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, axles, gray iron castings and drop forgings: Ford in the low-price field and Studebaker in the fine-car field.

One-Profit Value

Because of its unique manufacturing facilities, Studebaker eliminates profits which all other quality car manufacturers must pay to outside parts or body makers. Savings effected in this way run to hundreds of dollars on some models. Thus Studebaker is able to use finest steels, finest woods, finest engineering and superlative workmanship in its cars; then to add costly extras . . . and still charge no more than competing cars.

Unit-Built Construction

One-Profit facilities result, too, in Unit-Built construction. In cars designed and built as units. The hundreds of parts used in a Studebaker car are Studebaker. They function together as a unit, resulting in longer life, greater riding comfort and higher resale value for you. Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation thus are built into Studebaker cars. Records of more than one hundred thousand miles are not uncommon.

And "No-Yearly-Models"

As a natural outgrowth of those two factors, a third great advantage to the buyer is attained . . . "No-Yearly-Models." Because all phases of manufacture are directly under Studebaker control, Studebaker cars are constantly kept up-to-date. Improvements are continually made—not saved up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete. Resale values are thus stabilized. As an example of the value One-Profit manufacture makes possible, see the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Studebaker's Lowest Priced Sedan—but all quality

THE fine Studebaker Standard Six Sedan illustrated below is a real four-door sedan. It is upholstered in genuine wool cloth. Carpets are wool. Windows are real plate glass.

The equipment includes an 8-day clock, gasoline gauge, ash receiver, rear-vision mirror, stop light, dome light, safety lighting control on steering wheel, automatic windshield cleaner, coincidental lock to steering gear and ignition controlled by same key operating door and spare-tire locks, and full-size balloon tires. All instruments are grouped under glass on a silver-faced dial set in a beautiful walnut finished panel.

But the most important superiorities of this Sedan are concealed within the framework of the body and in the chassis.

Body pillars, for instance, are of northern white ash, cross-members of hard maple. We pay a premium for steels of extra toughness.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of its size and weight, according to the rating of the N. A. C. C. and the Society of Automotive Engineers. The motor is not built for excessive speed, but rather for smooth, trouble-free service at 5 to 55 miles an hour. It is built for a long, quiet life—not for spectacular stunts.

We will gladly demonstrate this car and finance its purchase on Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To enlighten the public on Permanent Hair Waving, Prof. Francois Marcel, who has given preliminary announcement of so-called "Permanent Marcel Wave" is still in Paris, but announces demonstrations will be given in Brooklyn, N. Y., upon the return of Prof. and Mme. Marcel from Paris, France, last of November. As yet there is not any company advertising their machine will produce Permanent Marcel. The nearest approach to Marcel effect is the Nestle Method of Flat Winding as taught by Nestle ("and not amateurs idea of it") producing a flat wave.

The only new thing in permanent hair waving was when Nestle, the originator of permanent waving, introduced the Lanoil Method and doing away with dangerous steam, tubes and reducing heating period to 7 minutes.

Foot Comfort Demonstration Tomorrow

Foot troubles are universal. Government records show that 7 out of every 10 adult people have some form of foot trouble.

You are probably a victim of foot trouble yourself. It may be only a corn, a callous, a bunion or some more serious trouble such as weak and broken-down arches. You might not know the nature of your trouble but you do know that your feet ache, pain, and get all tired out on the slightest provocation.

FOOT COMFORT EXPERT HERE

Come to our Foot Comfort Department on the above date and get a Free Demonstration. There's no charge for this valuable service. This work is in charge of a Special Demonstrator from The Scholl Mfg. Co. This is an opportunity that every foot sufferer should grasp.

In a few seconds' time, without removing the hose, he can make a photographic print of your foot that positively shows if you do have foot troubles and to what stage the trouble has progressed. This service is absolutely free and places you under no obligation whatever.

Children need more fat in the diet when snow flies and wintry winds blow

Build up resistance to cold weather with GOOD LUCK

Cold weather, with its icy winds, snappy temperatures and drifting snows, makes heavy drafts on vitality and energy. A richer menu then is needed.

Fat is the great energy restorer—the builder of resistance against exposure. Jane Eddington says, in the Chicago Tribune, that the mother who consciously sees that children get enough fat food in winter time is on the right track.

Send children out to brave winter elements sustained by sturdy menus in which GOOD LUCK is included. It is a fat food in purest form—an energy food for cold weather. The formula for GOOD LUCK is

Full Cream Milk—Wholesome
Beef Fat—Nourishing Pork Fat

These choice fats skillfully blended together produce a rich, wholesome food. GOOD LUCK has all the energy food values that center in these nourishing ingredients. Serve GOOD LUCK as a spread for bread to children to enrich their diet, restore energy, ward off winter's chill, and protect against the extra demands that cold makes upon the vitality. 2 Complete Washers for the Price of ONE!

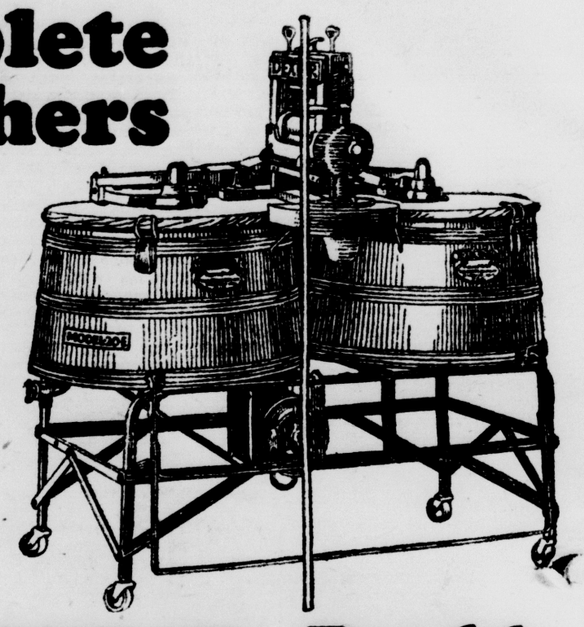
The Greatest Washer Value Ever Offered—
Now on Display At Trotters Store-



DEXTER Double Tub

WHY spend your money for even the speediest of single tub washers when you can buy a Dexter Double Tub for about the same price—or possibly less? Each tub will do everything that any single tub washer can do, and the two tubs working together actually doubles the washing speed.

Why be content to spend two or three hours over the washing machine, when you can turn out the largest family washing in about an hour with the Dexter Double Tub—with less effort and fatigue, without changing the water once, with the use of less current, and with every piece beautifully white and clean without the necessity for soaking, boiling or hand-rubbing?

The Dexter Double Tub is the biggest washer value that you'll ever find, anywhere. You buy a washer but once or twice in your lifetime—why not have the best?

Come in and let us show you this practical double-duty washer.

Children need more fat in the diet when snow flies and wintry winds blow

Build up resistance to cold weather with GOOD LUCK

Cold weather, with its icy winds, snappy temperatures and drifting snows, makes heavy drafts on vitality and energy. A richer menu then is needed.

Fat is the great energy restorer—the builder of resistance against exposure. Jane Eddington says, in the Chicago Tribune, that the mother who consciously sees that children get enough fat food in winter time is on the right track.

Send children out to brave winter elements sustained by sturdy menus in which GOOD LUCK is included. It is a fat food in purest form—an energy food for cold weather. The formula for GOOD LUCK is

Full Cream Milk—Wholesome
Beef Fat—Nourishing Pork Fat

These choice fats skillfully blended together produce a rich, wholesome food. GOOD LUCK has all the energy food values that center in these nourishing ingredients. Serve GOOD LUCK as a spread for bread to children to enrich their diet, restore energy, ward off winter's chill, and protect against the extra demands that cold makes upon the vitality. Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Stop a minute and think about this fact. You can ask The Review & Tribune Information Bureau any question of fact and get the answer back in a personal letter. It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—SERVICE. There is no charge except two cents in stamps for return postage. Get the habit of asking questions. Address your letter to The East Liverpool Review & Tribune Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q. What is the per capita consumption of apples in the United States? C. R. M.

A. The department of Agriculture says that it is about half an apple a day for every man, woman and child in the country.

Q. How much honey does a swarm of bees produce in a year? H. L. D.

Q. Can pock marks be removed? I. C. W.

A. Pock marks are sometimes removed with success by methods employed by plastic surgeons and dermatologists. There is, however, no simple way that this can be accomplished by the layman.

Q. Why is a French seam so-called? N. V.

A. No reason can be advanced for the name, since the seam is not typical of French sewing. In France, the same seam is known as an English seam.

Q. Are the Jews in a majority in Palestine? H. M. W.

A. The Jews are in a minority in Palestine. There are three times as many Arabs as Jews. Christians, however, are fewer in number than Jews.

Q. Are there any scholarships in music available for study abroad; or if not abroad, in this country? G. R. T

A. Outstanding scholarships in music not limited to study in any one school are the following: The Clarence Barker Musical Scholarship for at least two years of study, preferably abroad, under the direction of the department of Music of Columbia university; the Enid Williams Scholarship, for study at the University of California or elsewhere, open to undergraduates; the George Ladd Prix de Paris, for study in Paris open to students of music at the University of California, awarded for two years; Juilliard Musicl Scholarship, for students of American birth and citizenship, the Mosenthal Fellowship, for applicants with ability to compose full orchestra; Pulitzer Traveling Scholarship, awarded each year to that student from any part of the United States who shows the greatest promise in serious composition in the larger forms—orchestral, choral or chamber music.

Q. Did the Dutch people—the wealthy ones—wear wooden shoes in the year 1837? R. G. L.

A. The Royal Netherlands Legation says that the wealthy Dutch people of 1837 did not wear wooden shoes. In fact, wooden shoes have always been worn only by servants, farmers and peasants.

Q. Are patents for inventions granted by the Irish Free State? N. R.

A. Our latest information is that Patent, Design, and Trade Mark legislation is pending. Also that applications may be filed now and that priority dates will be granted for applications corresponding with British patent aplications dated after December 6, 1921. Any one who has already applied for a patent or design in Great Britain after December 6, 1921 may now claim the priority date of the British application in the Irish Free State. British registered trade marks may be re-registered. The requirements in connection with application forms and powers of attorney are the same as for Great Britain.

Q. Haw many hymns did Luther write? D. C.

A. Martin Luther is credited with 37 hymns. Of those, Ein Feste Burg is regarded as his masterpiece.

Hotel rates in interior Argentina are now $5 a day for room and meals, but the rooms are not heated in winter and private baths are scarce.

Condensed milk from other countries must be fully described in Turkish on all cans of the fluid sent into Turkey, according to a recent edict.

FOR ITCHING TORTURE

Use Antiseptic Liquid Zemo

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation, and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes skin diseases. Eczema, Itch, Pimples, Rashes, Blackheads, in most cases quickly give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid that may be applied at any time, for it does not show.

COL. MITCHELL TO TESTIFY AT COURT-MARTIAL

Will Defend Criticism of Administration of Aviation.

TRIAL NEAR END

Captain Foley Denies Charge Made by Mrs. Lansdowne.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Col. William Mitchell, storm center of America's aviation controversy, will take the witness stand in his own defense before his court-martial jury of generals, it was announced today.

Mitchell probably will take the stand tomorrow to defend his criticism of the administration of aviation, and to reply to the war department's charges of "conduct prejudicial to military discipline."

Mitchell will take the witness stand as the final act of his defense. Announcement to this effect was made at the opening of today's session of the military trial by Rep. Frank R. Reid, (R.) of Ills., chief of defense counsel.

Men who flew the nation's airplanes in the World war came to the support of Mitchell today.

A parade of American "aces," topped by Major Eddie Rickenbacker, the "aces of aces," passed through the witness stand. They joined in criticizing the administration of aviation by both the war and navy departments.

In the list were Reed G. Chambers of Detroit and Lieut. Leigh Wade, one of the army's around-the-world pilots.

Shenandoah Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Captain Paul Foley took the witness stand in his own defense before the Shenandoah court of inquiry today and denied emphatically that he attempted to "influence or sway" the testimony of Mrs. Margaret Ross Lansdowne, widow of the dirigible commander.

Mrs. Lansdowne only two days ago set for four hours before the same circle of high ranking navy officers and accused Foley, former judge advocate of the court, with trying to induce her "to twist the facts" in testimony before the board.

A formal motion to relieve Foley of the "stigmy" of the widow's accusation was ofefered to the court by Col. James S. Easby-Smith, counsel for the naval officer.

A decision on the motion was promised tomorrow by Rear Armiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the court.

Major Henry Leonard, marine corps, new judge advocate, offered no objections, saying the issue was relatively unimportant.

MISSIONARIES PLAN PAGEANT

Thirteen Workers to Appear at First U. P. Church.

A missionary pageant, depicting the work of United Presbyterian church in Egypt, will be staged in the First United Presbyterian church at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening by a party of 13 missionaries who are spending a furlough in the United States.

The group is making a tour of the Ohio Synod, giving their pageant three evenings each week. This will be their final date in the Steubenville Presbytery.

The entertainment scheduled is entitled "The Kahn Cheub Pageant." The cast includes Dr. J. B. Buchanan, who is blind as a result of an eye infection, which he suffered in Egypt. Other missionaries who will take part are Rev. J. A. Heasty, of Sudan; Miss Ruth Beatty, of Abyssinia; Mrs. J. B. Buchanan, Rev. R. R. Scott, Rev. H. A. McGeogh, Rev. J. C. Lorimer, Miss Dora Mason, Miss Evelyn McFarland, all of Egypt; Rev. J. H. Stewart, Rev. S. C. Picken, Rev. E. L. Porter and Miss Sallie Dickey, all of India.

The pageant is open to the public. A silver offering to assist in paying the traveling expenses of the missionaries will be taken.

E. P. Gebhardt, a missionary to Egypt, will show motion pictures of Egypt at the Second United Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock tonight. These pictures were taken by Dwight E. See, Washington newspaperman, whom the church sent to Africa several months ago for the purpose of gathering information to be used in a publicity campaign.

The law works in different ways, even when you try to make it work all one way. While a moron escaped from the lunatic asylum is sentenced to death, Platt May, a Ute Indian, is acquitted of murder.

The Indian's wife died when the baby was 17 days old, and the baby had pneumonia. The Indian tied the bodies of wife and baby together and buried them in the same grave, the baby alive.

Platt May was acquitted because a medicine man, "Mormon Joe," told him to do it, and they obeyed through fear. There was reason for fear. "Mormon Joe" while in jail, beat to death a fellow prisoner who spoke lightly of him.

Rev. H. R. A. Philip, 20 years a Presbyterian minister at Tumu Tumu, in East Africa, says, "in the jungle, human babies learn to swing from tree to tree almost before they can crawl. I have seen convincing proof of the evolution theory many times among the wild tribes in East Africa."

You need not go to East Africa to see babies able to cling to a tree. Every baby, for a considerable time after birth, will easily support its weight clinging to your finger or to a small piece of wood.

Every mother knows how a small baby grasps the mother's hair and holds on. Evolutionists tell you that goes back to a time when the little monkey clung to the fur of its mother's chest, while the mother hopped from tree to tree.

That's what evolutionists say. Let us, however, not presume to form opinions, but let missionaries and the scientists deal with it.

Ethel Bunnell, a young girl in the University of Illinois, beat 58 men in a cattle judging competition, and that isn't surprising.

Women had to be good judges of animals to exercise discretion in picking out their husbands. Nature has given them power to see clearly and form sound judgment at a glance.

Many a husband who thinks he did the picking was in reality the one picked by a natural born judge of livestock.

No new comet is discovered in the constellation of the hunting dog. It is a small comet. Fortunately, we have learned not to be afraid, even of big ones. We no longer ring church bells to frighten the comet away, as our ancestors did. We measure it and catalogue it.

We ought to get on our knees and thank heaven for that wonderful, greatest of all shock absorbers, our atmosphere. Scientists are surprised by a show of meteors, unusual at this time of year.

They are supposed to be connected with the "Leonide" showers that bombard the earth once in 3 years. If it were not for our atmosphere's friction, which melts the meteors, great blocks of stone would bombard our earth and soon nobody would be left alive to make observations or records.

Col. Coolidge Ill

President Goes to New York.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—President Coolidge's special train passed through here shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. It was running on schedule.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—President Coolidge left the capital this morning on a trip that may be of uncertain duration.

In New York tonight he will deliver an important speech on the government's attitude toward business, the last address of major importance he will make before he sends to congress three weeks hence his annual report on the state of the nation. His audience tonight will be composed of several thousand business executives at the banquet of the New York Chamber of Commerce.

When the presidential special pulled out of Washington plans were for it to return here immediately after the speech tonight, but if the condition of the president's father, Col. John C. Coolidge, becomes alarming during the day it is probable these plans will be cancelled and the special diverted northward from New York for a hurried trip to Plymouth, Vt.

Concerned About Father.

The president is deeply concerned about his father. His present illness follows closely upon the near-fatal attack of last summer. The president has been endeavoring to persuade his father to leave the rigors of a Vermont winter and come to Washington, but without success thus far. The habits of 80 years are strong with Col. Coolidge.

Frequent reports on his father's condition are being relayed to the president, and he has several times consulted Major J. F. Coupal, the White House physician. Major Coupal probably will go to Plymouth from New York tonight, irrespective of whether president does or not.

The president left Washington soon after breakfast. He will arrive in New York early in the afternoon, and go to the Waldorf, where he probably will receive business and political friends during the afternoon. Mr. Coolidge, however, plans to keep entirely aloof from the internal squabbles that have affected the New York Republican ranks since the mayoralty election.

Aboard the train when it left Washington were the president and Mrs. Coolidge; Frank W. Stearns, of Boston; Dwight W. Morrow, of New York, a classmate and frequent adviser of the president's; Secretary Sanders, Major J. F. Coupal, Col. S. F. Cheney, military aide; Capt. Adolphus Andrews, naval aide, and the usual complement of newspaper correspondents and secret service guards.

The lobby of the Hotel Ohio was crowded with cigar-emoking individuals, feeling each other out on candidates.

Secretary of State Thad H. Brown, already running for governor, was prominent in the lobby and at the speakers' table.

State Treasurer Harry S. Day, mentioned by some as a gubernatorial possibility, was also at the speakers' table.

Attorney General C. C. Crabbe and James A. White, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, who was defeated in the Republican primary of 1924, were here. Lieutenant Governor Charles H. Lewis and Auditor Joseph Tracy were the only state office holders who were missing.

The meeting was obviously designed as a love and harmony gathering. Col. Thompson used the term "harmony meeting" and said that any Republican can "beat our Democratic governor if he has a united party behind him."

Thompson compared the governor to the president in his planning of financial policies. He said that while the legislature appropriated money it was largely up to the governor to administer it. He cited Treasurer Day's report to show that in the last fiscal year, in addition to running $4,500,000 over in expenses the state ran $5,000,000 short in receipts and "went" back financially $9,500,000.

Butler Urges Victory.

Senator Butler declared the 1926 election year "of vital importance," and said on its outcome largely depended President Coolidge's ability to carry out his tax reduction aims.

Senator Butler's remarks were listened to with earnest attention for it was his first appearance on a public platform in Ohio since he took charge of the national committee. It was also interpreted as being somewhat of a slant of the White House on Ohio political affairs, since both Butler and Col. Thompson are close to the president.

Thompson was associated with Butler as national campaign manager last year, and has frequently been discussed for a cabinet vacancy.

EXECUTE TWO IN LOVE CRIME

Slayers of Wealthy Bombay Merchant Pay Penalty.

BOMBAY, Nov. 19.—Shafi Ahmed and Shem Rao Dughe were executed early today for the murder of Abdul Kadir Baula, wealthy Bombay merchant.

Baula was murdered on January 12, 1924, while riding in an automobile with Mumtaz Begum, the nautch girl who was one of the favorites of the Maharajah of India.

Nine men were arrested for the murder. At the trial it was disclosed that the slayers of Baula were in the employ of the maharajah who sought revenge for the nautch girl's desertion.

Five others involved in the killing are now serving life sentences.

Pennsy Train Runs Into Cut of Freight Cars.

TOLEDO, Nov. 19.—Mrs. G. E. May, of Carruthers, O., was injured and several other passengers badly shaken up when Pennsylvania train No. 444, bound from Detroit to Pittsburgh, ran into a cut of freight cars at Walbridge, near here, early today.

The passenger engine, an express car and a car loaded with horses were damaged.

Traffic was tied up for two hours. Mrs. May's injuries were treated on the train. All passengers were taken on to their destinations.

That no serious injuries were reported was due, Pennsylvania officials said, to the order that all trains slow down to 15 miles per hour at this point.

An investigation was launched today by officials to determine how the freight cars got on the main track.

Treasury Ready

might go to the supreme court for final decision.

"Dry" lawyers, who have a lucrative practice before the treasury, said that the reorganized permit system would boost their business 100 per cent throughout the United States. They pointed out that prohibition administrators will be charged with enforcing the regulations, and that in each district hundreds of individual actions against the treatury may be anticipated.

The treasury had reports today of tremendous diversons of non-beverage alcohol into bootleg channels. They insisted that a strict inspection is necessary to meet the situation. Non-beverage alcohol, which goes for the manufacture of flavoring extracts, toilet waters and other special purposes, is denatured under a special process and widely used for beverage.

Little trouble is experienced with industrial alcohol, according to officials, owing to the denaturing method which is said to convert it into a deadly poison.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—London cables advising that no change was made today in the Bank of England discount rate was good news for the bulls in Wall Street, and industrial stocks which had been under pressure at the close of Wednesday's session responded buoyantly at the opening, with first prices from 1 to 4 points higher. In some cases there was a disposition to follow up these advances, but the market lacked snap and decisiveness.

The bears appeared to be firmly entrenched in some parts of the list, and the market as a whole was decidedly irregular in the early trading.

The big problem in the financial district is the money question. Failure to announce an increase in the Bank of England's rate was taken to mean that no advance would be made in the New York rediscount rate today. But in most parts of the "street" it is believed that the effects of a higher bank rate have already been discounted, and, therefore, it would be well for all concerned if the increase were made at once and have the matter settled.

The market was active in the first hour, though the bulk of the trading was in 100-share lots, with scale buying and large lot trading unusually small in volume, which was taken to indicate outside selling by the public rather than bearish pressure on the market.

est on our every-day lives," said Mr. Pate. "We are tied up with utilities and could not properly carry on without them. America leads the world and without our utilities we would lose that place.

"We are partners with the utilities. The average viewpoint to the utilities is antagonistic, either passive or active. We are serving you as partners. If you and your partner are doing business you want to be prosperous.

"A utility does not expect, never did expect high profits, but just enough of a margin to pay their employes, pay a reasonable interest on the money invested and a little to lay away for future improvements, extensions and replacements. The money needed to carry on these utilities is astounding. Five years were required to build the cable from New York to Chicago at a cost of $35,000,000.

"Take care of your utilities and you will insure your service for the present and guarantee it for the future.

"Put the burden on your utility officials and let them take care of it. Get acquainted with the men, who are rendering your service. Don't hesitate to commend your utilities. Give them a pat on the back and you will profit by it."

20 Fishermen Saved From Watery Grave By Shift in Wind

NEW PORT, R. I., Nov. 19.—Twenty fishermen aboard the steam trawler Sea Gull, Portland, Maine, to New York, were saved from a watery grave by a shift in the wind, they reported when the trawler was towed in here today by the Trawler Seiner.

On Monday, 75 miles east of Nantucket lightship, the Sea Gull's engines became disabled and she began to drift into shoal water S. O. S. calls were flashed.

Before the Seiner and other rescue ships reached the Sea Gull, however, the wind shifted and the Sea Gull drifted away from the dreaded shoals.

STEAMERS RIDE 50-MILE GALE

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19.—With the 50-mile gale, which has been holding 15 ships at anchor outside of Miami since Tuesday, dying down as quickly as it came, the Berkshire of the Merchants and Miners line moved cautiously into port today with 206 passengers from Philadelphia aboard. She was followed by the Clyde liner George Washington, with 265 passengers aboard from New York.

Captain Charles Jones, of the Berkshire, reported one of the worst voyages of his marine career. Two days out of Philadelphia the ship ran into an 80-mile hurricane which slowed it down to less than three knots an hour.

How French Women Get Thin

In Paris today old ladies and fat women are a thing of the past. Everywhere you turn you meet slender, girlish figures. It has become necessary for smart women to reduce because couturiers and dressmakers are only creating models for the thin and slender; also large hips and big busts do not fit in with bobbed hair, which has been so largely adopted, so that even women who were only plump or slightly over weight had to reduce to keep in style.

A marvelous discovery has helped French women in their search for slenderness. It is the formula of a French physician, who has been able to concentrate in a small tablet called "SAN-GRI-NA," a combination of harmless ingredients which eliminate from the food (while being absorbed by the system) all unnecessary fat-forming elements, thus preventing fatty tissues to form on the body. You can eat all you want while using "SAN-GRI-NA" and still get thin. While "SAN-GRI-NA" is considered a most remarkable discovery to reduce, it is guaranteed absolutely harmless, and is also endorsed by physicians and patients as a wonderful health-builder. Fat men and women report that almost immediately after starting to use "SAN-GRI-NA" they felt healthier and stronger than before in years. No wrinkles, saggy tissues or stomach disorders follow this simple and easy treatment, so that we can consider to at last have something really worth while trying if we care to become slender and youthful, as fashion has decided we must be. "SAN-GRI-NA" can be had at any leading drug or department store.

If your druggist does not carry SAN-GRI-NA in stock he can get it from his wholesaler or you can send a money order or check for $1.50 direct to the Scientific Research Labs. 1841 Broadway, N. Y. C., and one full sized box SAN-GRI-NA will be mailed you prepaid

Come down to the Sea for Thanksgiving Day!

Atlantic City is the logical place for Thanksgiving. Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, provide the great hearty meal, deliciously cooked, while clean salt-sea air edges your appetite for it.

But wholly apart from these considerations, the very first Thanksgiving in America was held at the seaside—not Atlantic City of course, but on a stern and rock-bound New England coast.

Our own Thanksgiving alongside a smiling white New Jersey beach is a most desirable contrast. We can compare the seaside recreations and comforts of today with the seacoast privations and dangers of yesterday, and feel more grateful for the blessings which our forefathers so helped to make our heritage.

Finds effective treatment for sore muscles

TELLS HOW TO AVOID LAMENESS AFTER EXERCISE

"In my training work," writes a well-known athlete, "I have used Sloan's Liniment for the past five years and found it most effective for soreness caused by vigorous exercise. Also an incomparable remedy for stiff neck." (Name and address of writer given on request.)

It is marvelous how ache and stiffness in lame muscles yield to the magic of Sloan's. Just a little patted on lightly, and healing new blood tingles through the hurt place.

Away go "fatigue-poisons." New tissue gets needed nourishment. Sore muscles limber up and stop aching. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

"COLD GAS" DOES WORK OF STEAM IN TEXAS OIL FIELDS

Harnessed Under 300 Pounds Pressure It Provides Power to Operate Machinery.

Snyder, Texas.—A vast reservoir of "cold," non-inflammable gas has been discovered in the oil fields of this section and is being used to operate machinery and pumps.

The gas is said to insure the most economical operation in the history of oil production. Small wells, which otherwise would require more oil for their boilers than they could produce are now operating at a profit.

For a time the gas mystified oil men and chemists, but it finally has been analyzed as an air containing about 93 per cent nitrogen.

One of the strange sights here is to see boilers producing pressure without fire. The gas is run into the boilers and in two minutes a pressure of 125 pounds is attained. From the boiler the "air" is carried under pressure through the usual steam lines to pumps and machinery.

The air has been used to drill three wells within a radius of three miles. Additional producers have all struck this gas in sufficient quantities to finish their wells.

Men in the field use the air for anything steam would accomplish. All they need to do is to turn the air into the boiler, which merely acts as a reservoir to equalize pressure. It also is used to inflate automobile tires and for refrigeration.

Watermelons, milk, water, or anything the men wish to cool is placed under the exhaust of an engine, which is covered with ice instead of being hot with steam. A watermelon left under the exhaust for two hours will freeze solid.

The air itself is not actually cold, but the release of pressure produces the effect of cold, similar to the process of manufacturing ice with ammonia under pressure.

The gas makes between three and five million cubic feet a day from the first well, with a rock pressure of more than 300 pounds.

Dead Fish in Water.

NEWARK, O. — Lowering of the waters in Buckeye Lake has left thousands of dead fish in the dry water holes, sportsmen who have visited there report.

Buckets full of the dead small fish have been scooped up.

They included catfish, bass, sunfish, croppies, perch and th elesser breeds.

Claims that Philippine labor laws form an obstacle to their industry were made at a recent convention of sugar producers held in Manila.

Come down to the Sea for Thanksgiving Day!

Atlantic City is the logical place for Thanksgiving. Chalfonte-Haddon Hall, provide the great hearty meal, deliciously cooked, while clean salt-sea air edges your appetite for it.

But wholly apart from these considerations, the very first Thanksgiving in America was held at the seaside—not Atlantic City of course, but on a stern and rock-bound New England coast.

Our own Thanksgiving alongside a smiling white New Jersey beach is a most desirable contrast. We can compare the seaside recreations and comforts of today with the seacoast privations and dangers of yesterday, and feel more grateful for the blessings which our forefathers so helped to make our heritage.

Finds effective treatment for sore muscles

TELLS HOW TO AVOID LAMENESS AFTER EXERCISE

"In my training work," writes a well-known athlete, "I have used Sloan's Liniment for the past five years and found it most effective for soreness caused by vigorous exercise. Also an incomparable remedy for stiff neck." (Name and address of writer given on request.)

It is marvelous how ache and stiffness in lame muscles yield to the magic of Sloan's. Just a little patted on lightly, and healing new blood tingles through the hurt place.

Away go "fatigue-poisons." New tissue gets needed nourishment. Sore muscles limber up and stop aching. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.

In Memoriam.

In living memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Charles Hanley, who died one year ago, Nov. 19, 1924.

"You were a wonderful mother, dear old mother of mine—
You hold a spot down deep in our hearts, till the stars no longer shine.
You couldn't live on forever—but on to the peace of time—
There will never be a mother to us—Like that wonderful mother of mine."

Sadly missed by husband and children.
CHARLES HANLEY.

TELEPHONE GIRL NOW WELL

Marshalltown, Iowa. — "At the time I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a telephone operator, and had been suffering for two years with bearing-down pains and cramps in my legs so I could scarcely walk. At times I could not do any kind of work on account of my trouble. My mother was taking the medicine for the Change of Life and she thought it would help me and it did. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills. I recommend your medicines to my friends and I will answer all letters asking about them." — Mrs. P. E. EVERTS, Box 149, Marshalltown, Iowa.

Mrs. Norton's Experience

"Before I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was weak and nervous, and had such terrible dizzy spells that I could not stand some days. I had no appetite, was restless at night and felt all run-down. My husband got me a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and I am surprised at the results after taking it." — Mrs. CLARENCE S. NORTON, 18 Pierce St., Dover, N. H.

"COLD GAS" DOES WORK OF STEAM IN TEXAS OIL FIELDS

Harnessed Under 300 Pounds Pressure It Provides Power to Operate Machinery.

Snyder, Texas.—A vast reservoir of "cold," non-inflammable gas has been discovered in the oil fields of this section and is being used to operate machinery and pumps.

The gas is said to insure the most economical operation in the history of oil production. Small wells, which otherwise would require more oil for their boilers than they could produce are now operating at a profit.

For a time the gas mystified oil men and chemists, but it finally has been analyzed as an air containing about 93 per cent nitrogen.

One of the strange sights here is to see boilers producing pressure without fire. The gas is run into the boilers and in two minutes a pressure of 125 pounds is attained. From the boiler the "air" is carried under pressure through the usual steam lines to pumps and machinery.

The air has been used to drill three wells within a radius of three miles. Additional producers have all struck this gas in sufficient quantities to finish their wells.

Men in the field use the air for anything steam would accomplish. All they need to do is to turn the air into the boiler, which merely acts as a reservoir to equalize pressure. It also is used to inflate automobile tires and for refrigeration.

Watermelons, milk, water, or anything the men wish to cool is placed under the exhaust of an engine, which is covered with ice instead of being hot with steam. A watermelon left under the exhaust for two hours will freeze solid.

The air itself is not actually cold, but the release of pressure produces the effect of cold, similar to the process of manufacturing ice with ammonia under pressure.

The gas makes between three and five million cubic feet a day from the first well, with a rock pressure of more than 300 pounds.

THREE CONVICTS ESCAPE PRISON

Using a cleverly-fashioned rope ladder, secured to the top of the east wall by iron hooks, three negro convicts escaped from the state prison at Mounsville, Tuesday night, and one of them has been recaptured, the other two are still at liberty.

Two of the convicts participating in the delivery are life termers, but one of the murderers was returned through the unaided efforts of Warden S. P. Smith, who was leading the search.

Bud Lightsey, 31, serving three years for larceny, sent up from Cabell county last January, Fred Morgan, life termer from Marion county, sent up early this year, and Alfred Wilkes, life termer from Marion county, sent up in March, 1924, made up the departing group. Morgan was walking along the tracks of the Ohio River division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad south of Moundsville several hours after he had scaled the prison wall when he was sighted by Warden Smith, and was led back to his cell.

All three of the escaped men had been students at night school, conducted inside the prison each evening. They had been freed from their cells to attend the school session, and 15 minutes after leaving the cell halls were reported missing. A rope ladder was still hanging on the inside of the wall, mute testimony of the delivery.

GOOD LUCK CIRCLE TO HOLD SESSION

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS MEET

Large audience attended revival services last evening in the First Christian church. Evangelist William Mart Miller of Newport, Ky., had as his subject "How May I Know Which Church." He spoke in part as follows:

"With hundreds of Protestant churches in the land, all differing from each other, and at many points actually contradicting each other's teaching — with every conceivable proposition relating to Christianity being affirmed by some and as confidently denied by others—the man in the street becomes confused. One thing he knows, and that is that two contradictory statements cannot both be true. And, since God is not a God of confusion, but of order, that rule applies just as forcibly to religious truth as to any other. The only possible course open to the fair-minded man is to seek some standard which all churches claim to approve — to measure each church by the church which Jesus actually established, the one described in the new testament. Again he said 'If Jesus' church is on earth today it must surely command all that He commanded, and no more; forbid all that He forbade, and no more, and must leave us free where He left us free. I know of no other fair test'"

Unusual interest is being manifested in tonight's subject, "The Gospel According to the Holy Spirit."

WEIRTON MAN IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Joe Brown, colored, of Weirton, whose trial on the charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of George Zaharadis, Greek resident of Steubenville, as the result of an automobile accident Oct. 3, opened at the circuit term of court in New Cumberland Monday afternoon, was found not guilty by a Hancock county jury late Tuesday afternoon. The jury was out two hours and 40 minutes.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS BRIDE

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Aken of Burbank, Cal., formerly of Chester, and Donald Densmore, of Los Angeles, Cal., which took place in the latter city Saturday, Nov. 7. The bride was attired in a traveling costume of grey with accessories to match.

After a honeymoon trip to Catalina Island they will reside in Orange Grove avenue, Burbank, Cal.

MANY TO ATTEND BANQUET HERE

Large crowd is expected to attend the banquet and get-together social to be held this evening in the First National bank building under the auspices of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Elaborate program has been arranged by the committee in charge of the affair.

Public Funeral Services For Late Mayor Barnes Tomorrow

Flags on Municipal Buildings Fly at Half Mast in Tribute to Former Chief Executive.

Funeral services for Mayor James S. Barnes will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the John Haugh funeral home, in Seventh and Main streets.

The services will be in charge of Rev. F. H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

The body of the late mayor today is laying at the home of Chief of Police John Fultz, in Henry avenue, where it may be viewed until 10 o'clock tonight.

The body will be removed tomorrow to the Haugh funeral home. The services at 2 o'clock will be public.

Wellsville business establishments are expected to act on the suggestion of Mayor Frank C. Blackburn that they suspend operations for a period of two hours, from 2 until 4, or during the period in which services will be under way.

Flags on municipal buildings today were flown at half mast in tribute to the former chief executive.

PENNSY WINNER IN CLAIM SUIT

Following a trial that continued for three days in common pleas court No. 2, with Judge John B. Worley presiding, a jury returned a verdict for the defendant in the case of Beryl L. Woods against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

In this action, which was filed Dec. 22, 1924, the plaintiff sought $10,000 damages against the company for personal injuries. Woods was employed by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad at the Wellsville Shops, and was engaged in operating an air hammer when he was injured. Interest on the claim from Nov. 2, 1921, was sought in the petition.

The plaintiff was represented by Lones, Hill & Davidson, of East Liverpool, while the defendant was represented by W. I. Knisley of Canton and Billingsley & Moore of Lisbon.

J. H. STEWART WEDS MISS SARA DAVIS

Miss Sara Beatrice Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, of 411 Buckeye avenue, this morning at 11:30 o'clock became the bride of John H. Stewart, son of Isaac Stewart, of Broadway. The ceremony was performed in the Wellsville Christian church, with Rev. Thomas B. Shearer officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar House were the only attendants.

The bride was gowned in blue satinback crepe, with hat to match. Her corsage was of bried's roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. House was gowned in poudre blue crepe. The bride previous to her marriage was employed at the A. J. McCain Wall paper store of this city. The bridegroom is employed at the American Sheet & Tin Plate company in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will reside temporarily with the bride's parents.

L. T. L. MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Featuring the affair will be a reception for new members who have joined the organization within the last month. Miss Kate MacGillivray has requested that children bring handkerchiefs for use in the special drill exercises planned. Children living east of Ninth street will convene at 6:30 o'clock at Miss MacGillivray's home, and will go from there to the Ingram residence in a body. The meeting will start at 7 o'clock.

Roller skating tonight. Rock Springs park.

CITES EVILS OF MIS-SPENT LIFE

A specially arranged vocal duet, selections by a chorus choir, and Dr. L. H. Lawther's sermon of inspiration on "God's Hand of Wrath, or a Mis-spent Life" combined to make last night's meeting at the First Presbyterian church one of the outstanding services of the present week of revivals.

Dr. Lawther outlined the sins for which Israel was destroyed because of desertion from the true Jehovah God, and because God's word was despised. His sermon carried a message to fathers, and sons, as well, of today, on the evils and the results of a mis-spent life.

Featuring the musical program was a vocal duet by Oliver Johnson and Wilbur Newman.

Notable accessions to the church have been recorded during the services. There were four last night and eight the night previous.

Rev. W. S. Rowe, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and members of his church, following their regular prayer meeting, attended the revival services in a body.

Tonight Dr. Lawther will speak on the subject, "Man's Great Question in Life." He will deliver his final sermon of the two-weeks' series tomorrow night.

Stork Brings Daughter.

Announcement was made today of the birth to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, of Fourteenth street, a baby girl. She has been named Helen Josephine. Mrs. Davis, prior to her marriage, was Miss Helen Presser.

Surprise Birthday Party.

Mrs. E. L. Armstrong was pleasantly surprised last evening at her home at 1795 Clark avenue by a number of her friends, the affair honoring her birthday anniversary.

She received a large number of gifts. A two course luncheon was served, with Mrs. Minnie Russell as co-hostess. Music was provided by Buckley's orchestra.

Hold McDevitt Services Here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessie Gibbons McDevitt were held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church here, in charge of Rev. W. S. Rowe, pastor. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Murray McDevitt; one daughter, Mrs. Maxine Gearin; her mother, Mrs. Martha Gibbons, of Wellsville, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Carnahan, of Toronto; Mrs. Maynard Reager, of Wellsville, and Mrs. Eunice Godwin, of Madison township.

Lost Painting Found.

LONDON — London art experts are skeptical of the reported find at Newcastle of the original of Van Eyck's famous painting of the "Head of Christ." The supposed original was bought at a weekly sale at Newcastle auction rooms. If original, as it has been declared by Sir Martin Conway, N. P., it would be worth at least $150,000.

THREE CONVICTS ESCAPE PRISON

Using a cleverly-fashioned rope ladder, secured to the top of the east wall by iron hooks, three negro convicts escaped from the state prison at Mounsville, Tuesday night, and one of them has been recaptured, the other two are still at liberty.

Two of the convicts participating in the delivery are life termers, but one of the murderers was returned through the unaided efforts of Warden S. P. Smith, who was leading the search.

Bud Lightsey, 31, serving three years for larceny, sent up from Cabell county last January, Fred Morgan, life termer from Marion county, sent up early this year, and Alfred Wilkes, life termer from Marion county, sent up in March, 1924, made up the departing group. Morgan was walking along the tracks of the Ohio River division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad south of Moundsville several hours after he had scaled the prison wall when he was sighted by Warden Smith, and was led back to his cell.

All three of the escaped men had been students at night school, conducted inside the prison each evening. They had been freed from their cells to attend the school session, and 15 minutes after leaving the cell halls were reported missing. A rope ladder was still hanging on the inside of the wall, mute testimony of the delivery.

GOOD LUCK CIRCLE TO HOLD SESSION

Special meeting of Good Luck Circle No. 360, Protected Home Circle, will be held next Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Florence Locke. Prizes were awarded to Pearl Goppert, Maria Cavin, Clarence Gilbert and Louis Snyder at the euchre held by the organization Tuesday night in the First National bank building, Third street and Carolina avenue.

Roller skating tonight. Rock Springs park.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS MEET

Large audience attended revival services last evening in the First Christian church. Evangelist William Mart Miller of Newport, Ky., had as his subject "How May I Know Which Church." He spoke in part as follows:

"With hundreds of Protestant churches in the land, all differing from each other, and at many points actually contradicting each other's teaching — with every conceivable proposition relating to Christianity being affirmed by some and as confidently denied by others—the man in the street becomes confused. One thing he knows, and that is that two contradictory statements cannot both be true. And, since God is not a God of confusion, but of order, that rule applies just as forcibly to religious truth as to any other. The only possible course open to the fair-minded man is to seek some standard which all churches claim to approve — to measure each church by the church which Jesus actually established, the one described in the new testament. Again he said 'If Jesus' church is on earth today it must surely command all that He commanded, and no more; forbid all that He forbade, and no more, and must leave us free where He left us free. I know of no other fair test.'"

Unusual interest is being manifested in tonight's subject, "The Gospel According to the Holy Spirit."

WEIRTON MAN IS GIVEN FREEDOM

Joe Brown, colored, of Weirton, whose trial on the charge of involuntary manslaughter in the death of George Zaharadis, Greek resident of Steubenville, as the result of an automobile accident Oct. 3, opened at the circuit term of court in New Cumberland Monday afternoon, was found not guilty by a Hancock county jury late Tuesday afternoon. The jury was out two hours and 40 minutes.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS BRIDE

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Myrtle Aken of Burbank, Cal., formerly of Chester, and Donald Densmore, of Los Angeles, Cal., which took place in the latter city Saturday, Nov. 7. The bride was attired in a traveling costume of grey with accessories to match.

After a honeymoon trip to Catalina Island they will reside in Orange Grove avenue, Burbank, Cal.

MANY TO ATTEND BANQUET HERE

Large crowd is expected to attend the banquet and get-together social to be held this evening in the First National bank building under the auspices of the congregation of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Elaborate program has been arranged by the committee in charge of the affair.

Public Funeral Services For Late Mayor Barnes Tomorrow

Flags on Municipal Buildings Fly at Half Mast in Tribute to Former Chief Executive.

Funeral services for Mayor James S. Barnes will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the John Haugh funeral home, in Seventh and Main streets.

The services will be in charge of Rev. F. H. Magill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Burial will be made in Spring Hill cemetery.

The body of the late mayor today is laying at the home of Chief of Police John Fultz, in Henry avenue, where it may be viewed until 10 o'clock tonight.

The body will be removed tomorrow to the Haugh funeral home. The services at 2 o'clock will be public.

Wellsville business establishments are expected to act on the suggestion of Mayor Frank C. Blackburn that they suspend operations for a period of two hours, from 2 until 4, or during the period in which services will be under way.

Flags on municipal buildings today were flown at half mast in tribute to the former chief executive.

PENNSY WINNER IN CLAIM SUIT

Following a trial that continued for three days in common pleas court No. 2, with Judge John B. Worley presiding, a jury returned a verdict for the defendant in the case of Beryl L. Woods against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

In this action, which was filed Dec. 22, 1924, the plaintiff sought $10,000 damages against the company for personal injuries. Woods was employed by the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad at the Wellsville Shops, and was engaged in operating an air hammer when he was injured. Interest on the claim from Nov. 2, 1921, was sought in the petition.

The plaintiff was represented by Lones, Hill & Davidson, of East Liverpool, while the defendant was represented by W. I. Knisley of Canton and Billingsley & Moore of Lisbon.

J. H. STEWART WEDS MISS SARA DAVIS

Miss Sara Beatrice Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, of 411 Buckeye avenue, this morning at 11:30 o'clock became the bride of John H. Stewart, son of Isaac Stewart, of Broadway. The ceremony was performed in the Wellsville Christian church, with Rev. Thomas B. Shearer officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar House were the only attendants.

The bride was gowned in blue satin-back crepe, with hat to match. Her corsage was of bried's roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. House was gowned in poudre blue crepe. The bride previous to her marriage was employed at the A. J. McCain Wall paper store of this city. The bridegroom is employed at the American Sheet & Tin Plate company in Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will reside temporarily with the bride's parents.

L. T. L. MEETING TOMORROW NIGHT

Featuring the affair will be a reception for new members who have joined the organization within the last month. Miss Kate MacGillivray has requested that children bring handkerchiefs for use in the special drill exercises planned. Children living east of Ninth street will convene at 6:30 o'clock at Miss MacGillivray's home, and will go from there to the Ingram residence in a body. The meeting will start at 7 o'clock.

Roller skating tonight. Rock Springs park.

CITES EVILS OF MIS-SPENT LIFE

A specially arranged vocal duet, selections by a chorus choir, and Dr. L. H. Lawther's sermon of inspiration on "God's Hand of Wrath, or a Mis-spent Life" combined to make last night's meeting at the First Presbyterian church one of the outstanding services of the present week of revivals.

Dr. Lawther outlined the sins for which Israel was destroyed because of desertion from the true Jehovah God, and because God's word was despised. His sermon carried a message to fathers, and sons, as well, of today, on the evils and the results of a mis-spent life.

Featuring the musical program was a vocal duet by Oliver Johnson and Wilbur Newman.

Notable accessions to the church have been recorded during the services. There were four last night and eight the night previous.

Rev. W. S. Rowe, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and members of his church, following their regular prayer meeting, attended the revival services in a body.

Tonight Dr. Lawther will speak on the subject, "Man's Great Question in Life." He will deliver his final sermon of the two-weeks' series tomorrow night.

Stork Brings Daughter.

Announcement was made today of the birth to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davis, of Fourteenth street, a baby girl. She has been named Helen Josephine. Mrs. Davis, prior to her marriage, was Miss Helen Presser.

Surprise Birthday Party.

Mrs. E. L. Armstrong was pleasantly surprised last evening at her home at 1795 Clark avenue by a number of her friends, the affair honoring her birthday anniversary.

She received a large number of gifts. A two course luncheon was served, with Mrs. Minnie Russell as co-hostess. Music was provided by Buckley's orchestra.

Hold McDevitt Services Here.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jessie Gibbons McDevitt were held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Episcopal church here, in charge of Rev. W. S. Rowe, pastor. Burial was made in Spring Hill cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Murray McDevitt; one daughter, Mrs. Maxine Gearin; her mother, Mrs. Martha Gibbons, of Wellsville, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Carnahan, of Toronto; Mrs. Maynard Reager, of Wellsville, and Mrs. Eunice Godwin, of Madison township.

Lost Painting Found.

LONDON — London art experts are skeptical of the reported find at Newcastle of the original of Van Eyck's famous painting of the "Head of Christ." The supposed original was bought at a weekly sale at Newcastle auction rooms. If original, as it has been declared by Sir Martin Conway, N. P., it would be worth at least $150,000.

Failure of the fall fails at Berlin and Leipzig to bring orders has caused a drop in leather goods industries of Germany.

Crabbe Makes Ruling On Election Contest In Geauga County

COLUMBUS—A "fluke" in the state election laws has made James H. Johnston mayor of Chardon, in Geauga county.

The case involved the election of Chardon's mayor in the recent election.

J. V. Moats was the duly constituted mayoralty candidate and his name was printed on the ballot, Secretary of State Brown was told. But it seems that a majority of the voters wanted to elect Johnston, and did so, but in various ways. Some electors voted for James M. Johnston, others for J. M. Johnston and still others for Jim Johnston.

Election officials, after tallying the vote, said that if all the ballots were intended for the same Johnston he was elected.

They submitted the case to Secretary Brown, who in turn appealed to Attorney General Crabbe for a decisino.

The attorney general ruled that it was the plain intent of the voters to cast their ballots for Johnston and Secretary Brown rendered an official opinion declaring Johnston the winner.

Get Rid of Your Rheumatism Before Winter Sets in Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu the sure conquerer of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

James H. Allen, of 26 Ferbes St., Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the tortures of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.

East Liverpool Druggists are my appointed agents in your city. If you live out of town I'll gladly send you free particulars.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know why ointments do not give you quick and lasting relief?

Why cutting and operations fail?

Do you know the cause of piles is internal?

That there is a stagnation of blood in the lower bowel?

Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy discovered by Dr. Leonhardt and known as HEM-ROID, now sold by C. G. Anderson and druggists everywhere, that is guaranteed?

HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause, by freeing blood circulatioo in the lower bowel. This simple home treatment has an almost unbelievable record for sure, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sick sufferers, and saves the needless pain and expense of an operation. Don't delay. Try HEM-ROID today. It will do the same for you.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking — Take Olive Tablets.

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

William Faversham, Stage Star, Here Thanksgiving Day

The celebrated star, William Faversham, now on the first lap of his trans-continental tour, in Zoe Akins' comedy drama of intrigue, "Foot-Loose," is announced as the Thanksgiving day matinee and evening attraction at the Ceramic theatre.

It is seldom that the present generation of playgoers has an opportunity to witness such an offering as William Faversham, and in such a delightful play as "Foot-Loose," as entertainment of this calibre is confined to but a few of the larger cities of the country. Therefore Mr. Faversham's appearance here will assuredly be a cause of much rejoicing on the part of his many admirers, especially so, since his Sir Wallace Welby in "Foot-Loose" is reported to be an ideal Faversham role, adding new lustre to his many stellar deeds.

In the cast to appear here in support of Mr. Faversham will be found such notables as Sarah Truax, Edith Campbell, Ann Warrington, Antonio Salorno, Dennis Clough, Beatrice Vert, Milton C. Herman and others.

Christian Modesty In Dress Must be Taught, Pope's Edict

This edict from Pope Pius XI was broadcast to Catholic women throughout the United States today. It was brought from Rome by Mrs. Harry M. Benziger of Baltimore and delivered before the National Council of Catholic Women here by Bishop Joseph Schrembs of Cleveland.

Some of present day fashions, the holy father said, are "shameful to women who call themselves Christians."

TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU MEETS

Officers Elected at Gathering Held in Millport School.

At the annual meeting of the Franklin Township Farm Bureau held Tuesday night in the Millport school house, B. W. Grubbs was elected president for the next fiscal year. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Lawrence McKarns; secretary-treasurer, Ely Thompson; chairman membership committee, F. G. McKarns; committee on aid, Floyd Hull; purchasing agent, C. C. Brown; live stock shipping agent, E. A. Mulherin; chairman entertainment committee, Erma Thompson.

County Agent Floyd Lower spoke on the proposed program of the county farm bureau for 1926, and then discussed the possibility of forming a boys' and girls' sheep club in Franklin township. The object of the latter is the developing of the sheep industry in Franklin township.

County Service Manager Phil E. Heim urged all members of the Franklin township bureau to visit Columbus next February during the occasion of farmers' week and also called attention to increased activity shown in this county in the shipping of live stock.

Reports were made by Purchasing Agent C. C. Brown and by Livestock Shipping Agent E. A. Mulherin.

The annual farm products fair of Franklin township was held in connection with the annual meeting, and a number of exhibits were made. In the pastry classes, the first prize for cakes was awarded Mrs. Harry McPherson and the second prize went to Mrs. Elvy Thompson. Eight cakes were entered in the competition.

There were 11 entries in the pie contest, and the first prize went to Mrs. L. E. McKarns and Mrs. John Bonnell took second money.

Thirteen exhibits of corn were judged. In the "10 ear exhibit" first prize was awarded W. S. Binsley and second prize to Edwin King. First prize for the best single ear was awarded Elvy Thompson and second prize to W. S. Binsley.

First prize for the largest ear was won by Fred Nession and second prize by Harry McPherson.

There were three potato exhibits, and the first award went to B. W. Grubbs and the second prize to Harry McPherson.

Only two exhibits of popcorn were made, and in this class first prize went to Mrs. Elvy Thompson and second award made to Mrs. Harry McPherson.

WOLFE REVERSED IN LIQUOR CASE

Mayor Howard Wolfe of Salineville has been reversed in an opinion handed down in common pleas court No. 1 by Judge James G. Moore in the case of Lloyd Gearin as plaintiff in error against the state of Ohio.

Gearin was fined by Mayor Wolfe early last July following his conviction in that court on a charge of selling and delivering. He was fined $300 and costs, and then took an appeal.

When the case was argued before Judge Moore, it was shown there was no evidence in the record to show where a crime had been committed. The judgment of the lower court was then reversed at the costs of the defendant, and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. Gearin was represented in court by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville.

Relative Killed.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht of East Palestine was summoned to Martins Ferry Thursday to attend the funeral of his cousin, Frederick Baucknecht, aged 30, who was killed Tuesday while hunting near Cadiz. He is said to have been the first victim of the 1925 hunting season.

DIVORCE ACTIONS SHOW INCREASE

More divorce actions are being filed in common pleas court than are being disposed of, according to a record just disclosed by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine.

Since the opening of the fiscal term, July 1 last, there have been 76 cases disposed of, and since that time 90 new actions have been filed.

Of the cases disposed of, many are of long standing, and only a major portion of those filed since July 1 last have been heard by Judge James G. Moore.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been issued to William J. Smith of East Liverpool and Vera Hargreaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hargreaves. They are to be married by the Rev. John F. Dimit of the Methodist Protestant church, East Liverpool.

Company Takes Lease.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co., has leased for a period of 10 years the second floor of the building of the Citizens Savings bank at Columbiana, and at annual rental of $360 a year. The telephone company has taken an option for 10 years. The telephone company has taken an option for 10 years at the expiration of its present lease, but at an annual rental of $420 per year.

Action Filed.

An action has been filed in common pleas court by Charles M. Guy through his counsel Everett L. Lyon of East Palestine to recover $150 claimed to be due him from Elmer E. Royer. The original account was placed at $200, but upon which a payment has been made.

Leave to File Granted.

Leave to the defendant to file amended petitions has been granted in two automobile damage cases pending in common pleas court, wherein John McIntosh is plaintiff in an action against Margaret Pitts, and seeking $10,035 damages for personal injuries as a result of automobile accident.

C. E. Brook is also plaintiff in an action against the same defendant, but who in his petition claims $10,27.50 damages.

Authorized to Sell.

Trustees of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Salem have been granted permission by Judge Moore in common pleas court No. 1 to sell certain property owned by this congregation as prayed for. The trustees have been ordered to make a report to the court following the sale.

Judgment Rendered.

Judgment for $512.58 has been rendered by default in the case of Nathan Wolins against Charles F. Rainey, Edward Lane and Donald Fitzsimmons. The case was filed Jan. 14, last and at that time the claim of judgment was for $489.13 and interest.

Miss Ruth Boyce has concluded a visit with friends in Minerva.

Homeworth

Frank Pearson Curry, aged 73 years, former Homeworth resident, died at his home in Greenford Wednesday after a short illness of pneumonia. He moved to Greenford in 1889 and had since lived there. Surviving are his widow and one son, R. D. Curry, of Youngstown. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Lutheran church at Greenford.

Services at the Lutheran church at North Georgetown were largely attended when Rev. Howard E. Dunmire, formerly of Vanatta, was installed as pastor of the North Georgetown, New Franklin and East Canton congregations, to be known as the East Canton charge. Rev. Paul Koller, of Mansfield, president of the synod of Ohio, preached the sermon and conducted the installation services. Following the services dinner was served in the church basement. Rev. Dunmire and family will reside at East Canton.

The Freeburg Missionary society of the Evangelical church met at the home of Mrs. Bertha Anderson recently. Cafeteria dinner was served and the meeting, which followed, was opened with a song service. Members of the society gave Scripture readings and offered prayers. Mrs. Parrish had charge of the mission study book, "Prayer and Missions." Articles were read by Mrs. Lillie Byers and Mrs. Ollie Anderson. The society decided at this time to support a child in the foreign mission field this year year. Twenty members and several visitors attended the meeting. The society will meet in December with Mrs. Ruth Byers.

Rev. Otto Zechiel, pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church, officiated at the funeral services for Rollie McNeely, crash victim, held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNeely, of Alliance, Tuesday afternoon. A quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Trump, Homer Grossman and Rev. Otto Zechiel, sang. Floral tributes from friends and neighbors surrounded the casket. The bearers were grandparents and great grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Miller, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Hodge and son went to Malvern Sunday, where they were guests of Mr. Hodge's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crawford. Mrs. Crawford underwent a serious operation last week.

D. W. Thomas and daughter, Mrs. E. E. Grimes, were in Alliance Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reed, of New Chambersburg, were guests of their children in Homeworth recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thomas.

Miss Pauline Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young, of Bellefontaine, and Lorin E. Mead, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Mead, of North Georgetown, were married recently at the First Lutheran church at Bellefontaine by the pastor, Rev. E. C. Rice.

Arthur Thomas, wife and son of Beloit, called on the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thomas, Sunday evening.

Georgetown

Coming as a surprise to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Clara Elizabeth Laughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Laughlin of Georgetown, and Mr. Edward Cooper, of Toronto, O. The wedding was solemnized at one o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of the groom's brother, A. S. Cooper, of New Cumberland, with the Rev. W. S. Hamilton of the M. E. church officiating. The bride was dressed in tan spider web crepe, with accessories to match. Miss Laughlin before her marriage was employed by the D. M. Ogilvie Co., East Liverpool. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left by motor for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. O'Brien of East Liverpool, and Miss Flossie McHaffie, of this place, attended the wedding.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" every day or two was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even if the child was chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

City life and Constipation—fellow conspirators

IF you are one of these necessary people in the business world—the woman or man whose duties demand your continuous personal attention—you must guard not only against constipation, but also against laxatives that embarass you during business or interrupt your nightly rest.

Pluto Water is the physic for you to take because it acts within 30 minutes to two hours. It gives your intestinal tract a thorough cleansing at a time that is convenient to you. A water physic, it is safe and nongriping.

Time counts. Neglected constipation is positively perilous to general health this time of year. Keep a bottle of quick-action Pluto on hand in your home always. Physicians prescribe it, druggists sell it, and it is bottled at famous French Lick Springs, Indiana.

Bobbed Hair

How to Keep it Thick, Healthy, Vigorous

The constant curling and waving demanded by modern style in hair dress, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, streaked with gray; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing, fragrant "Danderine" will do wonders for any girl's hair. This vitalizing beauty tonic acts on the hair like fresh showers of rain and sunshine act on vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

Try this for one week! While combing and dressing your hair, moisten your brush with a little "Danderine" and brush it through your hair—the effect is startling! Your hair immediately takes on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, becomes incomparably soft, wavy and appears twice as thick and abundant.

TOWNSHIP FARM BUREAU MEETS

Officers Elected at Gathering Held in Millport School.

At the annual meeting of the Franklin Township Farm Bureau held Tuesday night in the Millport school house. B. W. Grubbs was elected president for the next fiscal year. Other officers elected were: Vice president, Lawrence McKarns; secretary-treasurer, Ely Thompson; chairman membership committee, F. G. McKarns; committee on aid, Floyd Hull; purchasing agent, C. C. Brown; live stock shipping agent, E. A. Mulherin; chairman entertainment committee, Erma Thompson.

County Agent Floyd Lower spoke on the proposed program of the county farm bureau for 1926, and then discussed the possibility of forming a boys' and girls' sheep club in Franklin township. The object of the latter is the developing of the sheep industry in Franklin township.

County Service Manager Phil E. Heim urged all members of the Franklin township bureau to visit Columbus next February during the occasion of farmers' week and also called attention to increased activity shown in this county in the shipping of live stock.

Reports were made by Purchasing Agent C. C. Brown and by Livestock Shipping Agent E. A. Mulherin.

The annual farm products fair of Franklin township was held in connection with the annual meeting, and a number of exhibits were made. In the pastry classes, the first prize for cakes was awarded Mrs. Harry McPherson and the second prize went to Mrs. Elvy Thompson. Eight cakes were entered in the competition.

There were 11 entries in the pie contest, and the first prize went to Mrs. L. E. McKarns and Mrs. John Bonnell took second money.

Thirteen exhibits of corn were judged. In the "10 ear exhibit" first prize was awarded W. S. Binsley and second prize to Edwin King. First prize for the best single ear was awarded Elvy Thompson and second prize to W. S. Binsley.

First prize for the largest ear was won by Fred Nession and second prize by Harry McPherson.

There were three potato exhibits, and the first award went to B. W. Grubbs and the second prize to Harry McPherson.

Only two exhibits of popcorn were made, and in this class first prize went to Mrs. Elvy Thompson and second award made to Mrs. Harry McPherson.

In the judging of turnips, first prize was awarded B. W. Grubbs and second award went to Frank McKarns.

WOLFE REVERSED IN LIQUOR CASE

Mayor Howard Wolfe of Salineville has been reversed in an opinion handed down in common pleas court No. 1 by Judge James G. Moore in the case of Lloyd Gearin as plaintiff in error against the state of Ohio.

Gearin was fined by Mayor Wolfe early last July following his conviction in that court on a charge of selling and delivering. He was fined $300 and costs, and then took an appeal.

When the case was argued before Judge Moore, it was shown there was no evidence in the record to show where a crime had been committed. The judgment of the lower court was then reversed at the costs of the defendant, and judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff. Gearin was represented in court by Attorney W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville.

Relative Killed.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney John E. Baucknecht of East Palestine was summoned to Martins Ferry Thursday to attend the funeral of his cousin, Frederick Baucknecht, aged 30, who was killed Tuesday while hunting near Cadiz. He is said to have been the first victim of the 1925 hunting season.

DIVORCE ACTIONS SHOW INCREASE

More divorce actions are being filed in common pleas court than are being disposed of, according to a record just disclosed by Clerk of Courts Frank Ballantine.

Since the opening of the fiscal term, July 1 last, there have been 76 cases disposed of, and since that time 90 new actions have been filed.

Of the cases disposed of, many are of long standing, and only a major portion of those filed since July 1 last have been heard by Judge James G. Moore.

Marriage License.

A marriage license has been issued to William J. Smith of East Liverpool and Vera Hargreaves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hargreaves. They are to be married by the Rev. John F. Dimit of the Methodist Protestant church, East Liverpool.

Company Takes Lease.

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co., has leased for a period of 10 years the second floor of the building of the Citizens Savings bank at Columbiana, and at annual rental of $360 a year. The telephone company has taken an option for 10 years. The telephone company has taken an option for 10 years at the expiration of its present lease, but at an annual rental of $420 per year.

Action Filed.

An action has been filed in common pleas court by Charles M. Guy through his counsel Everett L. Lyon of East Palestine to recover $150 claimed to be due him from Elmer E. Royer. The original account was placed at $200, but upon which a payment has been made.

Leave to File Granted.

Leave to the defendant to file amended petitions has been granted in two automobile damage cases pending in common pleas court, wherein John McIntosh is plaintiff in an action against Margaret Pitts, and seeking $10,035 damages for personal injuries as a result of automobile accident.

C. E. Brook is also plaintiff in an action against the same defendant, but who in his petition claims $10,27.50 damages.

Authorized to Sell.

Trustees of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Salem have been granted permission by Judge Moore in common pleas court No. 1 to sell certain property owned by this congregation as prayed for. The trustees have been ordered to make a report to the court following the sale.

Judgment Rendered.

Judgment for $512.58 has been rendered by default in the case of Nathan Wolins against Charles F. Rainey, Edward Lane and Donald Fitzsimmons. The case was filed Jan. 14, last and at that time the claim of judgment was for $489.13 and interest.

Homeworth

Frank Pearson Curry, aged 73 years, former Homeworth resident, died at his home in Greenford Wednesday after a short illness of pneumonia. He moved to Greenford in 1889 and had since lived there. Surviving are his widow and one son, R. D. Curry, of Youngstown. The funeral was held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Lutheran church at Greenford.

Services at the Lutheran church at North Georgetown were largely attended when Rev. Howard E. Dunmire, formerly of Vanatta, was installed as pastor of the North Georgetown, New Franklin and East Canton congregations, to be known as the East Canton charge. Rev. Paul Koller, of Mansfield, president of the synod of Ohio, preached the sermon and conducted the installation services. Following the services dinner was served in the church basement. Rev. Dunmire and family will reside at East Canton.

The Freeburg Missionary society of the Evangelical church met at the home of Mrs. Bertha Anderson recently. Cafeteria dinner was served and the meeting, which followed, was opened with a song service. Members of the society gave Scripture readings and offered prayers. Mrs. Parrish had charge of the mission study book, "Prayer and Missions." Articles were read by Mrs. Lillie Byers and Mrs. Ollie Anderson. The society decided at this time to support a child in the foreign mission field this year year. Twenty members and several visitors attended the meeting. The society will meet in December with Mrs. Ruth Byers.

Rev. Otto Zechiel, pastor of the Immanuel Reformed church, officiated at the funeral services for Rollie McNeely, crash victim, held from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McNeely, of Alliance, Tuesday afternoon. A quartet, composed of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Trump, Homer Grossman and Rev. Otto Zechiel, sang. Floral tributes from friends and neighbors surrounded the casket. The bearers were grandparents and great grandparents.

Arthur Thomas, wife and son of Beloit, called on the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thomas, Sunday evening.

Georgetown

Coming as a surprise to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Clara Elizabeth Laughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Laughlin of Georgetown, and Mr. Edward Cooper, of Toronto, O. The wedding was solemnized at one o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of the groom's brother, A. S. Cooper, of New Cumberland, with the Rev. W. S. Hamilton of the M. E. church officiating. The bride was dressed in tan spider web crepe, with accessories to match. Miss Laughlin before her marriage was employed by the D. M. Ogilvie Co., East Liverpool. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Cooper left by motor for St. Petersburg, Florida, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. O'Brien of East Liverpool, and Miss Flossie McHaffie, of this place, attended the wedding.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

Mother! It's Cruel to "Physic" Your Child

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" every day or two was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even if the child was chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, bilious, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

City life and Constipation—fellow conspirators

IF you are one of these necessary people in the business world—the woman or man whose duties demand your continuous personal attention—you must guard not only against constipation, but also against laxatives that embarass you during business or interrupt your nightly rest.

Pluto Water is the physic for you to take because it acts within 30 minutes to two hours. It gives your intestinal tract a thorough cleansing at a time that is convenient to you. A water physic, it is safe and non-griping.

Time counts. Neglected constipation is positively perilous to general health this time of year. Keep a bottle of quick-action Pluto on hand in your home always. Physicians prescribe it, druggists sell it, and it is bottled at famous French Lick Springs, Indiana.

Highs' Thanksgiving Foes Lost Only Two Games Last Year

DEFEATED ROCKY RIVER, CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Boast Membership in Greater Cleveland League, Consisting of Schools Slightly Smaller Than Those of Senate and Quad; Boone and Reid May Scout Their West Commerce Tilt Tomorrow.

JOHN MARSHALL high school, of the Greater Cleveland Conference, the team that will tackle Cotch O. V. Boone's Blue and White machine on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day at Patterson Field, was the only Fifth City conference aggregation last year able to wallop Rockey River, champions of the circuit.

And the Marshallites accomplished this against Halfback Seedhouse, the flashy little ball toter who aided in the Clevelanders' victory over high school two years ago at Patterson Field.

Who and what are John Marshall high school and the Greater Cleveland confereence? Some fans may ask.

The Greater Cleveland Conference is an organization of seven of the smaller schools of Cleveland. It had its first season last year, with Rocky River capturing the championship with five victories and one defeat—the latter at the hands of John Marshall, 18 to 0, in the final game of the schedule.

The conference ranks behind the Quadrangular league and the Cleveland Senate. In the Senate are such schools as West Tech, South, East Tech, Glenville, East, West, Central and Lincoln.

The Quadrangular League consists of Lakewood, Shaw, Cleveland Heights and University school.

And then there is the conference—Rocky River tops the list, followed by Euclid Shore, Shaker Heights, West Commerce, John Marshall, Euclid Central and Longwood.

Last year, Marshall lost only two games out of nine and played two ties weights, 6-3; John Adams, 9-7; Euclid Central, 7-6, Sion, 40-0; and Rocky River, the champions, 18-0.

They lost to Shaker Heights 14 to 3, and West Commerce 12 to 7. Ties were recorded with Euclid Shore and Longwood.

And tomorrow afternoon, according to schedule, the Marshall eleven will battle the West Commerce eleven in one of the concluding tilts of the conference schedule.

And it is entirely possible that among the spectators when the two squads line up for the engagement will be Coach O. V. Boone and A. E. Reid, of the local high school.

Boone and Reid plan to make a hurry-up trip to Cleveland, see the Marshall-Commerce battle and get back again in time to get started for Columbus where tomorrow they expect to see "Red" Grange and Illinois in action against Ohio State.

Friday's Game.

Hall China vs. K. T. K.

W. Landfried's high three-game total of 463 pins in a recent game tumbled last night when Ashbaugh rung up a mark of 475 as a decided contribution to Laughlin 5's three-game victory over American Express bowlers.

Ashbaugh made 182 in the first game, 170 in the second and 123 in the third.

Wurzel's 144 was the best the baggage heavers could do with the pins in last night's tilts.

LIGHTWEIGHTS TO BOX FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — With the Mickey Walker-Tommy Milligan match for the welterweight title needing only the approval of the state athletic commission, promoters of the annual Christmas fund benefit show today turned their attention to the task of lining up Jimmy Goodrich to defend his lightweight title against Luic Vincentini of Chile, for the semi-final bout. Tex Rickard's present plan is to remove the charity label for the enterprise and split the receipts, fifty-fifty, with the fund, in order to escape the local rule, which demands that the benefiting charity must get 50 per cent of the gate.

It would be impossible to close the Walker-Milligan bout under these conditions. The commission will be asked for an official ruling on the Rickard plan tomorrow.

GOSLIN WOUNDED ON HUNTING TRIP

SALEM, N. J., Nov. 19.—"No more gunning for me as long as I stay in the big leagues,' said Leon (Goose) Goslin, Washington outfielder, today as he nursed a painfully lacerated left hand. The member was injured yesterday when the barrel of Goslin's shotgun burst nine inches from the sight while he was hunting ducks near his home here.

Goslin was accompanied by Whitey Witt, former outfielder of the New York Yankees, at the time of the accident. After having the wound dressed he cancelled a quail hunting expedition on which he and Witt were to have started later in the week.

Goslin was the home run hero of the last two world series, getting three homers in each, a series record.

W. V. U. REGULARS BACK IN UNIFORM

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 19.—West Virginia's varsity warriors buckled down to work today for their Thanksgiving day battle with Washington and Jefferson, with all of the first string men in uniform. The four men on the hospital list following the Mountaineers' victory over Penn State last Saturday—Captain Mahan, Morrison, Glenn and Farley—appeared today in good condition.

Washington and Jefferson will be handicapped in the Turkey day game, owing to the absence of Captain Cad Reese from early practice games. Captain Reese's father died from a stroke of paralysis suffered at the Pitt game. Reese will return to practice only for the later sessions, he notified his head coach in a letter.

POWER QUINT WINS OPENER

The Power five opened its 1925-26 campaign against the Rose Independents on the M. E. church court, winning by the count of 33 to 14. The entire Power quint played consistent basketball. Canne and Mackey were the chief performers for the Independents. The lineup:

Powers		Independents
H. Dickey	F.	Mackey
O. Cunningham	F.	Dyer
Jester	C.	Canne
E. Rockhold	G.	Carey
E. Cochran	G.	Rose

Substitutions — Stuart for Dickey, Ashbaugh for Stuart, Mensforth for Cunningham, Smith for Rockhold, L. Bloor for Cochran, Wherry for Dyer, Staley for Carey.

Referee, McConnell; timers, Garen and Altman.

TUNNEY WINS FROM RISKO

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Although John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight and recent graduate from the amateur ranks, fought the best fight he has ever put on, he was no match for Gene Tunney, of Greenwich Village, New York, and Tunney easily won the decision at the end of their twelve round bout, the feature of Mat Hinkel's boxing show here last night.

Tunney, shortly after the beginning of the fight, injured his right hand with a blow to Risko's iron jaw. Later in the battle, he directed his left against the same obstacle, and when the bout ended both of his hands were swollen.

Risko won the first and third rounds of the fight. Four were even and in the remaining six Tunney's margin was so great that there could be no question of the decision.

In the semi-final, Tommy Freeman, former Arkansan, but now of Cleveland, knocked out Al Walther, Canton, in the fourth round, after the Canton lad had been the target for volley after volley of well aimed blows, almost every one of which found a landing place on his person.

GREYS DRILL FOR SERIES CONTEST

Members of the Greys football team will practice this evening at 7 o'clock at City park, in preparation for their contest Saturday with the Wellsville C. & P. eleven at Patterson Field.

The clash will be the first of a three-game series for inter-city gridiron honors.

Powers at Wellsville

The Power basketball team will play the Wellsville Epworth League quint Friday night on the Wellsville M. E. court. The game will be called at 7:30.

HORNSBY MAY BE NAMED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Selection of Manager of St. Louis Cardinals for National League Honors Next Monday is Almost Certain, Says Expert; Has Led Heydler Circuit Six Straight Times at Bat.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The National league announced today that it's "most valuable player award" for the season of 1925 would be brought into the light of day on Monday next. No intimation as to the identity of the awardee, so to speak, was given. No intimation as to his identity is needed.

Rogers Hornsby, successful manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and greatest of the present-day stars, either will get what he is entitled to this time or hip pockets are for the exclusive use of handkerchiefs.

A year ago, the committee of baseball writers was constrained to give the prize to "Dazzy" Vance, star right hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers. This action was pre-ordained when a member of the committee, in a moment of abstraction or depression, failed to vote for Hornsby at all in naming his first 10 choices. The Cardinal star, thus, was eliminated automatically.

At the time, however, the attitude of the committee was against naming Vance for the trophy, at that. The votes, in fact, leaned strongly toward Frank Frisch, of the New York Giants, but since Frisch had been but recently exonerated of Jimmy O'Connell's bribery charges, it was deemed expedient to pass the award along elsewhere.

Hornsby, at that moment, had led the National league in hitting for five consecutive seasons. Since then, he has added a sixth. This should be sufficient and enough to settle the issue, if any, but there is more. Hornsby not only is a great infielder but one of baseball's fastest men on the bases, although far from a prolific base stealer. He doesn't have to be with a gent like Bottomley hitting in his immediate rear.

And, since the National league declines to bar player-managers from the competition, we must consider the fact that Hornsby took over the Cardinals in mid-season and turned an absolutely failure into a near-contender.

If this array of facts is not conclusive, then Pike's Peak is a mere grade crossing.

At this premature juncture, in fact, the most interesting angle of the situation should develop in the competition for second place. There were plenty of so-called valuable players in the National league last year and some of them were good.

The writer has reared quite a complex on Max Carey, the elderly young man of the champion Pirates. He was the writer's idea of the Pirates' real star of the world series.

However, there are several other Pirate candidates available, notably Cuyler, Wright and Traynor.

Bottomley also is a plausible young man. Dave Bancroft, as player-manager, was not exactly a ball and chain to the progress of the Braves. George Kelly will not draw his unconditional release from the Giants until further notice, and one can expect to see Ed Roush in Cincinnati next season. These are a few of the candidates that come, offhand, to mind. There are more.

But, as the fellow said, what of it. At last reports, Hornsby hadn't neglected to draw his next breath.

EX-CUE CHAMP CLICKS OFF 125

Greenleaf's Feat Declared to be World's Record.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — Ralph Greenleaf, former champion, was declared to have established a world's record for pocket billiards last night when he ran 125 points from the break in one of the blocks of his 1,500-point match with Pasquale Natalie of Baltimore. Greenleaf previously has made runs in excess of last night's total but never before, it was said, has any player completed a 125-point match in one inning. Pasquale merely broke the balls and satdown. Greenleaf did the rest.

The latter, it was announced, will meet the winner of the New York state championship tourney, now in progress, in a special 1,500-point match.

Kotsonaros Is Victor

COLUMBUS, Nov. 19.—Martin Ludecke, German wrestler, was defeated by George Kotsonaros, who took two out of three falls here last night.

Casey Berger, 189, Cedar Rapids, Ia., won from Charlie Harbaugh, 171, Shawnee, scoring a fall after 17 minutes.

When it's Thanksgiving—and the teams are drawn up for battle on the gridiron—when the first touchdown goes over and the grandstands rock with frenzy

—have a Camel!

WHEN the college bands are playing to make your blood tingle. And the cheers and answering songs sweep back and forth between the opposing thousands of rooters. When, following that tense hush, a swift player darts out from the flashing formations on the gridiron and races across the goal for the first touchdown—oh, man, or superman, when the taste of joy is too keen to endure—have a Camel!

For Camel is the boon companion of your joys. Roam as far as you will from the prosaic things of every day, Camel will be the truest smoke friend you ever had. Not a tired taste, not a cigaretty after-taste, not a regret in a million Camels! Just full and fragrant smoke contentment, just added zest in living.

So when your own college's team tears through for its first smashing goal this Thanksgiving Day—when life seems fullest of the frenzy of happiness—joyfully apply the fire and taste the smoke that's loved by millions.

Have a Camel!

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skilful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

Highs' Thanksgiving Foes Lost Only Two Games Last Year

DEFEATED ROCKY RIVER, CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS

Boast Membership in Greater Cleveland League, Consisting of Schools Slightly Smaller Than Those of Senate and Quad; Boone and Reid May Scout Their West Commerce Tilt Tomorrow.

JOHN MARSHALL high school, of the Greater Cleveland Conference, the team that will tackle Cotch O. V. Boone's Blue and White machine on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day at Patterson Field, was the only Fifth City conference aggregation last year able to wallop Rockey River, champions of the circuit.

And the Marshallites accomplished this against Halfback Seedhouse, the flashy little ball toter who aided in the Clevelanders' victory over high school two years ago at Patterson Field.

Who and what are John Marshall high school and the Greater Cleveland confereence? Some fans may ask.

The Greater Cleveland Conference is an organization of seven of the smaller schools of Cleveland. It had its first season last year, with Rocky River capturing the championship with five victories and one defeat—the latter at the hands of John Marshall, 18 to 0, in the final game of the schedule.

The conference ranks behind the Quadrangular league and the Cleveland Senate. In the Senate are such schools as West Tech, South, East Tech, Glenville, East, West, Central and Lincoln.

The Quadrangular League consists of Lakewood, Shaw, Cleveland Heights and University school.

And then there is the conference—Rocky River tops the list, followed by Euclid Shore, Shaker Heights, West Commerce, John Marshall, Euclid Central and Longwood.

Last year, Marshall lost only two games out of nine and played two ties weights, 6-3; John Adams, 9-7; Euclid Central, 7-6, Slon, 40-0; and Rocky River, the champions, 18-0.

They lost to Shaker Heights 14 to 3, and West Commerce 12 to 7. Ties were recorded with Euclid Shore and Longwood.

And tomorrow afternoon, according to schedule, the Marshall eleven will battle the West Commerce eleven in one of the concluding tilts of the conference schedule.

And it is entirely possible that among the spectators when the two squads line up for the engagement will be Coach O. V. Boone and A. E. Reid, of the local high school.

Boone and Reid plan to make a hurry-up trip to Cleveland, see the Marshall-Commerce battle and get back again in time to get started for Columbus where tomorrow they expect to see "Red" Grange and Illinois in action against Ohio State.

LIGHTWEIGHTS TO BOX FOR CHARITY

NEW YORK, Nov. 19. — With the Mickey Walker-Tommy Milligan match for the welterweight title needing only the approval of the state athletic commission, promoters of the annual Christmas fund benefit show today turned their attention to the task of lining up Jimmy Goodrich to defend his lightweight title against Luic Vincentini of Chile, for the semi-final bout. Tex Rickard's present plan is to remove the charity label for the enterprise and split the receipts, fifty-fifty, with the fund, in order to escape the local rule, which demands that the benefiting charity must get 50 per cent of the gate.

It would be impossible to close the Walker-Milligan bout under these conditions. The commission will be asked for an official ruling on the Rickard plan tomorrow.

GOSLIN WOUNDED ON HUNTING TRIP

SALEM, N. J., Nov. 19.—"No more gunning for me as long as I stay in the big leagues,' said Leon (Goose) Goslin, Washington outfielder, today as he nursed a painfully lacerated left hand. The member was injured yesterday when the barrel of Goslin's shotgun burst nine inches from the sight while he was hunting ducks near his home here.

Goslin was accompanied by Whitey Witt, former outfielder of the New York Yankees, at the time of the accident. After having the wound dressed he cancelled a quail hunting expedition on which he and Witt were to have started later in the week.

Goslin was the home run hero of the last two world series, getting three homers in each, a series record.

W. V. U. REGULARS BACK IN UNIFORM

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 19—West Virginia's varsity warriors buckled down to work today for their Thanksgiving day battle with Washington and Jefferson, with all of the first string men in uniform. The four men on the hospital list following the Mountaineers' victory over Penn State last Saturday—Captain Mahan, Morrison, Glenn and Farley—appeared today in good condition.

Washington and Jefferson will be handicapped in the Turkey day game, owing to the absence of Captain Cad Reese from early practice games. Captain Reese's father died from a stroke of paralysis suffered at the Pitt game. Reese will return to practice only for the later sessions, he notified his head coach in a letter.

POWER QUINT WINS OPENER

The Power five opened its 1925-26 campaign against the Rose Independents on the M. E. church court, winning by the count of 33 to 14. The entire Power quint played consistent basketball. Canne and Mackey were the chief performers for the Independents. The lineup:

Powers		Independents
H. Dickey	F	Mackey
O. Cunningham	F	Dyer
Jester	C	Canne
E. Rockhold	G	Carey
E. Cochran	G	Rose

Substitutions — Stuart for Dickey, Ashbaugh for Stuart, Mensforth for Cunningham, Smith for Rockhold, L. Bloor for Cochran, Wherry for Dyer, Staley for Carey.

Referee, McConnell; timers, Garen and Altman.

TUNNEY WINS FROM RISKO

CLEVELAND, Nov. 19.—Although John Risko, Cleveland heavyweight and recent graduate from the amateur ranks, fought the best fight he has ever put on, he was no match for Gene Tunney, of Greenwich Village, New York, and Tunney easily won the decision at the end of their twelve round bout, the feature of Mat Hinkel's boxing show here last night.

Tunney, shortly after the beginning of the fight, injured his right hand with a blow to Risko's iron jaw. Later in the battle, he directed his left against the same obstacle, and when the bout ended both of his hands were swollen.

Risko won the first and third rounds of the fight. Four were even and in the remaining six Tunney's margin was so great that there could be no question of the decision.

In the semi-final, Tommy Freeman, former Arkansan, but now of Cleveland, knocked out Al Walther, Canton, in the fourth round, after the Canton lad had been the target for volley after volley of well aimed blows, almost every one of which found a landing place on his person.

GREYS DRILL FOR SERIES CONTEST

Members of the Greys football team will practice this evening at 7 o'clock at City park, in preparation for their contest Saturday with the Wellsville C. & P. eleven at Patterson Field.

The clash will be the first of a three-game series for inter-city gridiron honors.

Powers at Wellsville

The Power basketball team will play the Wellsville Epworth League quint Friday night on the Wellsville M. E. court. The game will be called at 7:30.

HORNSBY MAY BE NAMED MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

Selection of Manager of St. Louis Cardinals for National League Honors Next Monday is Almost Certain, Says Expert; Has Led Heydler Circuit Six Straight Times at Bat.

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The National league announced today that it's "most valuable player award" for the season of 1925 would be brought into the light of day on Monday next. No intimation as to the identity of the awardee, so to speak, was given. No intimation as to his identity is needed.

Rogers Hornsby, successful manager of the St. Louis Cardinals and greatest of the present-day stars, either will get what he is entitled to this time or hip pockets are for the exclusive use of handkerchiefs.

A year ago, the committee of baseball writers was constrained to give the prize to "Dazzy" Vance, star right hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers. This action was pre-ordained when a member of the committee, in a moment of abstraction or depression, failed to vote for Hornsby at all in naming his first 10 choices. The Cardinal star, thus, was eliminated automatically.

At the time, however, the attitude of the committee was against naming Vance for the trophy, at that. The votes, in fact, leaned strongly toward Frank Frisch, of the New York Giants, but since Frisch had been but recently exonerated of Jimmy O'Connell's bribery charges, it was deemed expedient to pass the award along elsewhere.

Hornsby, at that moment, had led the National league in hitting for five consecutive seasons. Since then, he has added a sixth. This should be sufficient and enough to settle the issue, if any, but there is more. Hornsby not only is a great infielder but one of baseball's fastest men on the bases, although far from a prolific base stealer. He doesn't have to be with a gent like Bottomley hitting in his immediate rear.

And, since the National league declines to bar player-managers from the competition, we must consider the fact that Hornsby took over the Cardinals in mid-season and turned an absolutely failure into a near-contender.

If this array of facts is not conclusive, then Pike's Peak is a mere grade crossing.

At this premature juncture, in fact, the most interesting angle of the situation should develop in the competition for second place. There were plenty of so-called valuable players in the National league last year and some of them were good.

The writer has reared quite a complex on Max Carey, the elderly young man of the champion Pirates. He was the writer's idea of the Pirates' real star of the world series.

However, there are several other Pirate candidates available, notably Cuyler, Wright and Traynor.

Bottomley also is a plausible young man. Dave Bancroft, as player-manager, was not exactly a ball and chain to the progress of the Braves. George Kelly will not draw his unconditional release from the Giants until further notice, and one can expect to see Ed Roush in Cincinnati next season. These are a few of the candidates that come, offhand, to mind. There are more.

But, as the fellow said, what of it. At last reports, Hornsby hadn't neglected to draw his next breath.

Thanksgiving Day Ahead-Big Ten Thankful That Grange Is Senior

By Norman E. Brown.

THIS is the season of thangsgiving. Everyone has something for which to be thankful.

Even Miller Huggins.

That guy'd be in the courtyard with the other "Napoleons" and perpetual motion mechanics were it not for his Florida real estate interests which take his mind off baseball for a few months.

But as I was saying. Everyone has something that should keep them from laying the grocery, meat, electric light and fur coat bills in a row on the floor and then committing suicide over them.

Nine of the "Big Ten" colleges are glad that "Red" Grange is a senior. Next year they can concentrate on building a football team instead of any kind of a way to stop Grange.

The east is thankful for Dartmouth and Yale, and the fact that Illinois didn't play either one of them.

Going back a bit into the year, the Pittsburgh Pirates are glad that Walter Johnson didn't have web feet. A duck might have been able to have kept his footing in the pitcher's box in that last swimming event between the National Leaguers and Washington.

Connie Mack can be thankful his team didn't nose out the Senators. For he didn't have a player on his team who was used to wearing hip boots around second base.

We Still Have Our Cup.

The Davis tennis cup officials can be thankful that they didn't really mean it when they threatened to bar Bill Tilden from the game because he wrote a note during school hours, or something like that.

Bobby Jones, pride of Atlanta and all points south, north, east and west, is thankful that he didn't have any important dates about the time he met Willie McaFarlane in the National Open. For Willie detained Bobby considerably—36 holes in fact. Bobby finally happened to think he promised to stop at the grocery on the way home and proceeded to cogitate so forcibly on what he was supposed to get that Willie slipped over a hole on him and won the match.

You Didn't Have to Go.

Boxing fans can still be thankful that the draft isn't employed to get crowds for the putrid fights being held. And as long as we have boxing commissions, including the New York one, there will always be a funny side to the ring game, no matter how much it needs chloride of lime.

Up to a few weeks ago I felt that everyone could be thankful we had our various athletic sports, such as golf. But since the last two attempts I am convinced that this world would be a better world without the game—until someone devises a ball that will go where you hope it will. After all golf is mostly hope with us duds.

But all joking aside, may your dinner last nine innings and your heart be as full of thanksgiving as your vest is full of soup. This last is to be considered internally, of course.

BRITISH BOXER WINS FIRST BOUT

NEW YORK Nov. 19.—Ernie Jarvis, British champion who is fighting his way to a match with Fidel La Barba for the flyweight title, scored his fourth straight victory since coming to this country when he outpointed Wee Willie Woods, of Scotland, in 10 rounds last night.

Woods got away to a sensational start and had Jarvis in distress through the first two rounds, but the Englishman rallied in the third and was well in front in every round thereafter, outboxing and outslugging Woods.

There were no knockdowns.

English Scientist Makes Discovery on Infectious Diseases

LONDON — The discovery that infectious diseases enter the human and animal body through the mucous membrane of the nose has been made by Dr. M. H. Gordon, an English scientist.

Experiments on rabbits with the virus of cow-pox have led him to this discovery, it is stated, and it is claimed that as a result of the discovery injections to guard against such diseases as smallpox, measles, mumps and influenza and colds, will be unnecessary. When the appropriate serum has been prepared it is predicted that people wishing to protect themselves will simply need to sniff the sera up through the nose in order to be adequately protected.

By Norman E. Brown.

While football players are plodding through the drab days and rain-soaked fields these fall days and the winter sport lovers are oiling up their skates and getting the latest thing in snow toggery, our leading mermaids are making their plans for the the enticing days of next summer.

Recent dispatches tell of some of these plans.

For one thing Helen Wainwright, one of this country's foremost swimmers and divers, is now resting happy in the thought that her challenge to Miss Hilda James, British star, for a series of matches to decide the world's feminine professional swimming title, has been accepted. The American star, now an instructress of swimming in Tampa, Fla., issued the challenge some time ago. Miss James but recently turned professional after amassing a score of records in amateur events, and is now more than willing to have a meeting or series of races with Miss Wainwright arranged.

Having cornered a room full of trophies and several pages of records in the amateur ranks, Miss Gertrude Ederle and Miss Aileen Riggin, two more of America's wonder-maids are contemplating entering the professional field and devoting their time to teaching the art and to giving exhibitions about the country later on. The possibilities are that they might later be included in a series of matches with Miss Wainwright and Miss James. What an assault on the records these stars would make pitted against each other!

Miss Ederle holds most of the international free style swimming records. Miss Riggin, at the age of 20, has won Olympic fame as a swimmer and diver and holds, among others, the record for the 400-yard relay swimming.

She won the world's fancy diving title in the Olympic games at Antwerp when but 15, piting her skill against that of grown women.

Miss Wainwright, after winning a score of indoor records in Florida last winter to swell her achievements in the water, turned professional and during last summer smashed several pro records. Her speed in many events has approached that of the greatest men swimmers.

Last Night's Fights

Cleveland—Gene Tunney defeated John Risko, Cleveland, twelve rounds. Tommy Freeman, Cleveland, knocked out Al Walther, Canton, in fourth round. Kid Carpentier, Pittsburgh, won by technical knockout, fourth round, over Young Sol, Cleveland. Frankie Lauer, Cleveland, outpointed Benny Burns, Akron, four rounds. Gyp Williams, Toledo, knocked out Young Frisco, Cleveland, fourth round.

New York—Ernie Jarvis, England, got the decision over Wee Willie Woods, Scotland, ten rounds. Johnny Breslin, New York, got the decision over Joey Ross, Hoboken, N. Y., ten rounds. Willie Lamorte, Newark, N. J., got the decision over Jimmy Russo, Grand Rapids, Mich., ten rounds.

SEAL SALES WILL OPEN NEXT FRIDAY

Announcement has been made by officials of the West Virginia Tuberculosis association that the annual sale of seals would open throughout the state on Friday, Nov. 27. Practically all the seal supplies for the campaign in December have been distributed to the county agencies.

Mrs. J. M. Wells is the chairman of the committee having charge of the sales in Newell.

COAL PRODUCTION SETTING RECORD

Coal production in West Virginia will probably set a high mark for this month, according to report from various mining regions. Since the anthracite mine strike began the soft coal mines of this state have been rushed to capacity and with peace still in the distance operators expect the demand for bituminous to continue during the winter months.

SOCCER CONTESTS SCHEDULED HERE

Homer Laughlin China soccer team is scheduled to meet the strong Sharon team on the Newell playing field Saturday afternoon. The kick-off is listed for 3:30.

Laughlin has been playing a brilliant article of soccer throughout the season and as this is the last contest of the regular season a large turnout of fans is expected.

Announcement has been made that the crack La Belle squad of Steubenville will play here on the morning of Thanksgiving day. The Stubbers have a strong lineup and will be accompanied here by a large delegation of rooters.

Taylor Funeral Services.

Funeral services for Wand Irene Taylor, 21-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Taylor, were held this afternoon in the home on the Stewart farm, back of Congo. Rev. J. W. Thanksgiving Day Ahead-Big Ten Thankful That Grange Is Senior

By Norman E. Brown.

THIS is the season of thangsgiving. Everyone has something for which to be thankful.

Even Miller Huggins.

That guy'd be in the courtyard with the other "Napoleons" and perpetual motion mechanics were it not for his Florida real estate interests which take his mind off baseball for a few months.

But as I was saying. Everyone has something that should keep them from laying the grocery, meat, electric light and fur coat bills in a row on the floor and then committing suicide over them.

Nine of the "Big Ten" colleges are glad that "Red" Grange is a senior. Next year they can concentrate on building a football team instead of any kind of a way to stop Grange.

The east is thankful for Dartmouth and Yale, and the fact that Illinois didn't play either one of them.

Going back a bit into the year, the Pittsburgh Pirates are glad that Walter Johnson didn't have web feet. A duck might have been able to have kept his footing in the pitcher's box in that last swimming event between the National Leaguers and Washington.

Connie Mack can be thankful his team didn't nose out the Senators. For he didn't have a player on his team who was used to wearing hip boots around second base.

We Still Have Our Cup.

The Davis tennis cup officials can be thankful that they didn't really mean it when they threatened to bar Bill Tilden from the game because he wrote a note during school hours, or something like that.

Bobby Jones, pride of Atlanta and all points south, north, east and west, is thankful that he didn't have any important dates about the time he met Willie McaFarlane in the National Open. For Willie detained Bobby considerably—36 holes in fact. Bobby finally happened to think he promised to stop at the grocery on the way home and proceeded to cogitate so forcibly on what he was supposed to get that Willie slipped over a hole on him and won the match.

You Didn't Have to Go.

Boxing fans can still be thankful that the draft isn't employed to get crowds for the putrid fights being held. And as long as we have boxing commissions, including the New York one, there will always be a funny side to the ring game, no matter how much it needs chloride of lime.

Up to a few weeks ago I felt that everyone could be thankful we had our various athletic sports, such as golf. But since the last two attempts I am convinced that this world would be a better world without the game—until someone devises a ball that will go where you hope it will. After all golf is mostly hope with us duds.

But all joking aside, may your dinner last nine innings and your heart be as full of thanksgiving as your vest is full of soup. This last is to be considered internally, of course.

By Norman E. Brown.

While football players are plodding through the drab days and rain-soaked fields these fall days and the winter sport lovers are oiling up their skates and getting the latest thing in snow toggery, our leading mermaids are making their plans for the the enticing days of next summer.

Recent dispatches tell of some of these plans.

For one thing Helen Wainwright, one of this country's foremost swimmers and divers, is now resting happy in the thought that her challenge to Miss Hilda James, British star, for a series of matches to decide the world's feminine professional swimming title, has been accepted. The American star, now an instructress of swimming in Tampa, Fla., issued the challenge some time ago. Miss James but recently turned professional after amassing a score of records in amateur events, and is now more than willing to have a meeting or series of races with Miss Wainwright arranged.

Having cornered a room full of trophies and several pages of records in the amateur ranks, Miss Gertrude Ederle and Miss Aileen Riggin, two more of America's wonder-maids are contemplating entering the professional field and devoting their time to teaching the art and to giving exhibitions about the country later on. The possibilities are that they might later be included in a series of matches with Miss Wainwright and Miss James. What an assault on the records these stars would make pitted against each other!

Miss Ederle holds most of the international free style swimming records. Miss Riggin, at the age of 20, has won Olympic fame as a swimmer and diver and holds, among others, the record for the 400-yard relay swimming.

She won the world's fancy diving title in the Olympic games at Antwerp when but 15, piting her skill against that of grown women.

Miss Wainwright, after winning a score of indoor records in Florida last winter to swell her achievements in the water, turned professional and during last summer smashed several pro records. Her speed in many events has approached that of the greatest men swimmers.

BRITISH BOXER WINS FIRST BOUT

NEW YORK Nov. 19.—Ernie Jarvis, British champion who is fighting his way to a match with Fidel La Barba for the flyweight title, scored his fourth straight victory since coming to this country when he outpointed Wee Willie Woods, of Scotland, in 10 rounds last night.

Woods got away to a sensational start and had Jarvis in distress through the first two rounds, but the Englishman rallied in the third and was well in front in every round thereafter, outboxing and outslugging Woods.

There were no knockdowns.

English Scientist Makes Discovery on Infectious Diseases

LONDON — The discovery that infectious diseases enter the human and animal body through the mucous membrane of the nose has been made by Dr. M. H. Gordon, an English scientist.

Experiments on rabbits with the virus of cow-pox have led him to this discovery, it is stated, and it is claimed that as a result of the discovery injections to guard against such diseases as smallpox, measles, mumps and influenza and colds, will be unnecessary. When the appropriate serum has been prepared it is predicted that people wishing to protect themselves will simply need to sniff the sera up through the nose in order to be adequately protected.

BOYS' CLASSES PLAN TOURNEY

Athletic Competition Opens at "Y" on Saturday.

Athletic tournaments for members of the boys' classes of the Y. M. C. A. will open next Saturday morning.

The first event for the elementary group will be a standing broad jump, while the juniors will participate in a 60-yard potato race. Teams have been selected for the tournament, which will continue for several weeks. Bible study will precede the athletic event each week.

A change has been made in the schedule of the gymnasium classes. The Senior group, which has been meeting on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, will convene on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

Elementaries.

Team No. 1.—W. Fisher and R. Witherow, captains; J. Craig, J. Weston, William Corns, G. Russell, K. Fischer, D. Eckert, F. Arnold, M. Greenspun, O. Leibschner, W. Jack, W. Mackey, R. Glenn, C. See, H. Blackhurst, R. Conn, W. Cunningham, R. Hall and V. Vurtis.

Team No. 2—L. Strobel and K. Wright, captains; J. Strobel, W. Witherow, W. Strobel, P. Katz, P. Peddicord, K. Chetwyn, L. Brokaw, J. Bennett, J. Hall, R. Swoger, C. Duff, R. Stewart, W. Goodwin, D. Serafy, R. Caughey, D. Hall, R. Richards and A. Glenn.

Juniors.

Team No. 1—D. Felt and H. Lindell, captains; E. Bloor, T. Burke, P. Dyke, William Cooper, P. Judge, R. Smith, D. Serafy, G. Ganas, W. Laughlin, F. Lawrence, J. Waggle and D. Evans.

Team No. 2—J. Wildblood and S. Brown captains; H. Bailey, R. Witherow, W. Pusey, W. Blake, H. McConville, R. Beatty, D. Pierson, P. O. O'Brien, R. Crable, J. McKee and D. Burbick.

"RELIEF FROM GOITRE"

"Almost Beyond Belief," says Mrs. Richie. Shortness of Breath, Choking, Nervousness, Palpitation Soon Vanished.

Mrs. Mary H. Richie, New Paris, Ohio, writes: "My friends soon remarked how much better I look. The first few applications of Sorbol-Quadruple gave me relief, and now I am completely cured. Its so easy to use. Come and see me or write and I will tell you my whole experience."

This Helps Eye Strain

Simple hydrastis, boric, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash, strengthens eyes and helps any case weak, strained or sore eyes. Lavoptix acts very quickly. Aluminum eye cup free. J. D. Holloway, Druggist, 6th and Broadway.

Ends Piles Tortures At Once

People suffering from sore, itching, bleeding or protruding piles can now have a wonderful, new scientific treatment that stops every disagreeable symptom immediately. This new treatment, known as Pile-num, is sold by druggists under the firm guarantee to refund the purchase price if you are not entirely satisfied. Pile-num stops all pain at once, heals the tissues, kills the germs and lubricates elimination. Its regular use for a short time usually corrects the cause so that the hemorrhoidal condition does not return. Sold by these good druggists:

LEG SORES

ARE CURABLE. If you suffer from Leg Sores or Varicose Ulcers I will send you absolutely FREE a copy of my famous book that tells how to be rid of these troubles for all time by using my remarkable painless treatment. It is different from anything you ever heard of, and the result of over 35 years specializing. Simply send your name and address to Dr. H. J. WHITTIER, Suite 87, 421 East 11th St., Kansas City, Mo.

Quit Getting Up Nights

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) I had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

Ends Piles Tortures At Once

New preparation guarantees results or costs nothing.

People suffering from sore, itching, bleeding or protruding piles can now have a wonderful, new scientific treatment that stops every disagreeable symptom immediately. This new treatment, known as Pile-num, is sold by druggists under the firm guarantee to refund the purchase price if you are not entirely satisfied. Pile-num stops all pain at once, heals the tissues, kills the germs and lubricates elimination. Its regular use for a short time usually corrects the cause so that the hemorrhoidal condition does not return. Sold by these good druggists:

LEG SORES

ARE CURABLE. If you suffer from Leg Sores or Varicose Ulcers I will send you absolutely FREE a copy of my famous book that tells how to be rid of these troubles for all time by using my remarkable painless treatment. It is different from anything you ever heard of, and the result of over 35 years specializing. Simply send your name and address to Dr. H. J. WHITTIER, Suite 87, 421 East 11th St., Kansas City, Mo.

Quit Getting Up Nights

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) I had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.
